BILL WOULD PERMIT RACE BETTING IN MISSOURI

Measure in House Provides for 30-Day Meets, With License at $1000 a Day and Levy on Admissions.

GAMBLING SECTION DRAWS CRITICISM

It Would Allow Operation of Pools "by Mechanical or Other Means" — Old Bookmaking Evil Feared.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29. — The anticipated bill to legalize betting on horse races in Missouri was introduced in the House today by Representative Harper of Vernon County, in a form which several Senators who examined the measure said would require much amendment to make it legal and also to avoid the old-time system of bookmaking at race tracks, which was legislated out of existence in this State in 1905.

The measure, as has been published, provides for the licensing by the State of persons, associations or corporations to conduct not more than two race meets of not to exceed 30 days each in one year. The State is to receive a license fee of $1000 for each day of racing and an additional 25 cents from each paid admission, to be divided equally between the Agricultural College of the State University and the State Board of Agriculture. The money is to be used to improve and develop the livestock interests of the State.

It is the section regulating the placing of wagers on the races, the really essential feature of the bill, that has come up for criticism from this early in the proceedings.

Section Regarding Betting.

This section reads:

"The State Agricultural and Breeders' Commission is hereby authorized to permit such persons, co-partnerships, corporations and associations qualified under this act and as it may license thereunder, to arrange mutual or co-operative pools on such races as they may conduct. They shall be permitted to record such pools by mechanical or other means, to issue a receipt to those subscribing to such pools, and to deduct from such pools a reasonable percentage, not to exceed 5 per cent and breakage, to provide suitable stakes and purses, and such pools shall not be considered in violation of sections 3535 and 3536 of the revised statutes of the State of Missouri, 1919, or of any other sections thereof, and all such sections are to be regarded as continuing in full force and effect and inoperative as against any such person, co-partnership, corporation or association licensed under the terms of this act."

Amendments Proposed.

Senator McCawley of Carthage, after an examination of the measure, said that in his opinion this section would neither relieve persons making pools on races from the provisions of the gambling laws of the State, nor would it limit the making of pools to the pari-mutuel system, which it has been understood would be proposed in the bill.

"To limit the system to the pari-mutuel," Senator McCawley said, "it would appear to me to be necessary to amend the bill to require, instead of permit, the pools to be recorded, and also to amend it to strike out the words 'or other' which would leave the requirement that the pools must be recorded by mechanical means.

"Those two amendments would, I believe, make it a pari-mutuel system.

"The parimutuel system mechanically records bets and the winning is determined by the amount wagered.

"The other question is purely a legal one. The Constitution of the State sets out the method by which the laws may be amended. This act proposes to relieve persons making pools at races under its provisions from the felony statute prohibiting bookmaking, and seeks to do so by a mere reference to the other statute.

"I believe it will be found that it cannot be done in that manner under our Constitution, and the only way it can be done is to repeal sections 3535 and 3536. At least it would be much safer for the person operating under the law if those sections were repealed. The prosecuting attorney might elect

CORSET MAKERS JUST LOOK ON AS OTHERS PROSPER

Victims of a Corsetless Age, They Share but Little in Industrial Gains.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—While business generally rebounded to prosperity in 1923 from the slump of 1921, the makers of corsets—victims of an almost corsetless age—had to content themselves with a relatively meager gain in the two years. Figures made public today by the Census Bureau showed the value of the output in the industry increased from $75,600,956 in 1921 to $78,047,959 in 1923, a 3.2 per cent advance that was slight compared with the average industrial increases.

The output of industries engaged in manufacturing electrical machinery and supplies was valued at $1,304,650,999 in 1923, an increase of 59.4 per cent over 1921. Of the total, $184,510,010 represented insulated wire and cable production, $127,212,066 motors and parts, and $124,630,467 batteries.

DOROTHY ELLINGSON WILL BE TRIED IN CRIMINAL COURT

Judge Holds Crime of Killing Mother Is Too Grave for Juvenile Tribunal.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Dorothy Ellingson, the 16-year-old girl who killed her mother, is to be tried by the Criminal and not the Juvenile Court, it was decided today by Superior Judge Frank Murasky, Juvenile Court Judge, when the girl was brought before him for arraignment.

Judge Murasky said that the case was so extreme and grave in its nature that it was not one that could be tried in his jurisdiction.

The girl shot and killed her mother, according to her own admissions, because of a maternal prohibition against a "jazz" party which she expected to attend that night. The girl attended the party and was arrested on the following night in a lodging house some distance from her home.

In a criminal trial she would face an indeterminate term in prison with life as the maximum sentence. In a trial before the Juvenile Court she would be sentenced to a reform school for a few years upon conviction.

RADIUM VALUED AT $1000 DISAPPEARS AT HOSPITAL

Substance Had Been Leased to Physician for Treatment of Patient.

The disappearance of a quantity of radium, valued at about $1000, while being used in the treatment of a patient at St. John's Hospital, became known today, after a checkup by the owner—the Radium Trust Estate Co., with offices in the Metropolitan Building.

The concern rents out the precious substance to reputable physicians for private and hospital practice, in the treatment of those diseases in which its use is indicated. In this way 20 needles, each being minute quantities, were leased to a physician for use at St. John's. The checkup was made upon the return of the needles, when only 19 could be found.

FLOUR GOES UP 35 CENTS

Millers Increase Prices on Advancing Wheat Market.

By the Associated Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 29.—Flour prices rose to the highest levels here today since November, 1920, in reflection of the recent successive increases in wheat quotations. The advancing wheat market of the last week and a reduction in the cost of feed were given by millers as the cause for enhancement in flour prices.

Quotations on the best grade of family patents flour today were boosted by mills here from 20 to 35 cents a barrel, making the range $10.60@10.75 a barrel when sold in carload lots.

Miles Ahead of You

"The modern motor car is especially intended for those whose use of an automobile is continuous and exacting and it is endowed with a high value, in point of comfort and lasting satisfaction."

Many such cars are sold every day by their owners. Cars with comparatively few miles registered on the speedometer, and thousands of good miles ahead.

Why don't you use that mileage—especially when you can buy it at such a low figure?

THOMAS E. FRANCIS BANK CASE FEES UNDER INQUIRY

Millspaugh Grilled at Senate Committee Hearing About Payments to St. Louis Lawyer.

UNABLE TO TELL TOTAL PAID HIM

Finance Commissioner Says Attorney's Knowledge of Banking Law Is Help in Liquidations.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—Frank C. Millspaugh, State Commissioner of Finance, was questioned in detail today by the Senate investigating committee about the huge fees paid through his department to Thomas E. Francis, counsel of the United Railways Co. of St. Louis, and other attorneys in bank liquidation cases.

Millspaugh was asked by Chairman Farris if it was a fact that local attorneys employed by the department split their fees with Francis even in cases in which Francis performed no service.

"That is absolutely untrue," replied Millspaugh. "Francis received no fees except in cases in which he was counsel."

It appeared from Millspaugh's testimony that Francis was consulted by him in connection with nearly all bank failures, but that Francis was not paid a regular fee by the State.

"Has he directly or indirectly received a fee in every liquidation case?" asked Farris. "He has not," the commissioner replied.

"No Record of Total."

Farris sought to obtain from Millspaugh a statement of the total amount paid Francis, but Millspaugh declared he had no knowledge and that there were no records in his office which would indicate the amount. He said the fees were allowed by the Circuit Courts and that the amounts paid could be obtained only from the court records.

On a statement by Millspaugh that he had been able to ascertain fees paid to attorneys in 1923, Farris began taking up each bank failure separately, the first being the Kirksville Trust Co. of Kirksville. E. B. Campbell of Kirksville was named special deputy in charge of liquidation. Francis and W. F. Frank, a Kirksville lawyer, were the attorneys. "What was the necessity for employing Francis?" asked Farris. "I know Frank is a capable lawyer."

Millspaugh said he would be in "distressing circumstances" if he did not have Francis to call upon when banks failed, as he said few lawyers were sufficiently familiar with the banking law to be of immediate service.

He said neither Campbell, Frank nor Francis had been paid anything for their services, but that they would be paid.

Farris asked Millspaugh whether it had been his observation that in most of the bank failures the cashiers or other directing officers had been "dabbling" in a lot of outside business.

About Salaries in Bank.

Millspaugh said that bank officers and employes were very poorly paid and it had been found in many cases that directing officers were engaged in speculations and that failures were due to trying to recoup in one big speculation losses sustained in a series of smaller ones.

Millspaugh, questioned regarding bonds of bank cashiers, said that in most cases bonds were too low. He denied that it was a custom for other officers and directors to sign cashiers' bonds.

Senator McCauley asked for Millspaugh's observation regarding cashiers exacting personal commissions for making loans for the banks, but Millspaugh said he had no information about it.

The liquidation of the American State Bank of Kansas City next was taken up. William E. West is Deputy Commissioner and Charles L. Blackmer attorneys. Each Millspaugh said, had been paid $10,000. The liquidation has not been completed. The depositors have been paid 90 per cent and Millspaugh said were certain to receive at least 5 per cent more.

MEDICAL LICENSE INQUIRY HERE BY THE GRAND JURY

Circuit Attorney Announces Decision to Take Matter Up Next Week After Conference.

URGED BY STATE HEALTH OFFICIALS

Report of Survey by Dr. F. C. Waite of Cleveland Basis for the Investigation.

Following a conference today between members of the Missouri State Board of Health and Circuit Attorney Sidener, in the latter's office, it was announced the St. Louis grand jury would take up next week an investigation into the licensing of physicians in Missouri, particularly in its relation to St. Louis.

The grand jury will be given the report of Dr. F. C. Waite of Cleveland, who recently surveyed the medical profession of Missouri for the State Board, and will be informed as to various charges with regard to lax laws governing licensing and the circumstances of the recent "diploma mill" frauds. It is expected the inquiry will result in recommendations for the revision of the State's medical practice act.

Those at Conference.

The conference today was attended by Dr. Emmett P. North, president of the State Board; Dr. James Stewart, secretary; Coroner Rudolph Vitt of St. Louis and Circuit Attorney Sidener. A representative of Attorney-General Otto's office has been in St. Louis several days conferring with Sidener and it is understood he will assist in presenting the case to the grand jury, as its action will affect the State as a whole.

A statement, under the signature of the State Board, issued after the conference, follows:

"The State Board of Health has unanimously agreed by resolutions, that the Attorney-General of Missouri and the Circuit Attorney of St. Louis be requested to investigate alleged irregularities reported to be found in the Department of Licensure of the State Board of Health.

"A survey of all those practicing the healing art in the State having been just completed, the board feels that it can now intelligently and thoroughly submit the proper data for grand jury information and guidance, and they respectfully request that this investigation be supplemented with any other information that may be presented."

The Results Anticipated.

The last sentence of the statement will make it possible for Sidener to present newspaper reporters, who worked on the "diploma case," before the grand jury. Dr. North explained that, in the past the board has been severely handicapped by the legal technicalities in proceeding against doctors thought to be improperly licensed, and that it is hoped the grand jury will recommend rigid and clarifying improvements in the law. Dr. Waite's survey has not been made public, it having been prepared particularly for submission to a grand jury.

Dr. Adcox Is Again Arrested on California Charge.

Dr. Robert Adcox, who is under bond on his appeal from a two-year prison sentence for complicity in the medical "diploma mill" fraud, was arrested again yesterday at his home, 4414 Delmar boulevard, for San Francisco authorities.

City detectives made the arrest on a telegram from the San Francisco police stating that Dr. Adcox was wanted there for alleged conspiracy to violate the California Medical Practice Act under indictments returned last July and August. It is charged that Dr. Adcox and his associates in California were instrumental in obtaining medical diplomas for persons in that State who lacked the required qualifications.

Dr. Adcox refused to waive extradition and was released on $2500 bond. He said he had not been in California for years and did not know the nature of the charges against him.

Dr. Adcox was convicted June 12 last in Circuit Court here on a charge of bribing B. H. Jolley, superintendent of the St. Charles County Public Schools, to issue a fraudulent high school certificate. His physician's license was revoked Oct. 13 by the State Board of Health and his motion for a review of this hearing was denied by Circuit Judge Falkenhainer yesterday. Dr. Adcox stated he would appeal to the Supreme Court.

PAID $1.03 A TON ON GARBAGE IT DOESN'T HAUL

Jefferson Distributing Co. Has Very Attractive Contract With City, "Mind Your Business" Finds.

MUCH FED TO HOGS BY ILLINOIS FARMERS

"Cost City $500,000 in Five Years to Dispose of Garbage With Feeding Value of $1,000,000."

Hogs in Illinois are eating a lot of the St. Louis city garbage, the Bureau of Municipal Research reports in "Mind Your Business" this week.

That is fine for the hogs, for their owners and for the public, which needs a supply of spareribs and shoulders.

But it is not so fine for St. Louis taxpayers, who are paying by the ton to have this garbage hauled away, just like other garbage of less food value. "Mind Your Business" says, as to this:

Comparative Figures.

"It has cost the city over $500,000 during the past five years to dispose of garbage which had a food value, for feeding purposes, greater than $1,000,000 worth of corn.

"Actual tests have shown that one ton of garbage will feed 40 to 50 hogs one day, and that each hog will gain one to one and one-half pounds per day.

"Based on the average price of hogs during 1924, each ton of garbage was worth over $5 to the hog feeder.

"Illinois hog feeders, at their own expense, haul garbage daily from the city dump at Chouteau avenue to their afrms near East St. Louis.

Delivered by City Forces.

"According to city records, city forces delivered to such hog feeders about 5300 tons of garbage last year.

"Although this tonnage was delivered by city forces to the farmers themselves, the contractor, the Jefferson Distributing Co., was paid $1.03 per ton for disposing of it.

"Garbage and refuse of fish merchants and small packers has been delivered by them in their own trucks, to hog feeders at the city dump. But these quantities have been entered on the weight sheets of the contractor, who was paid by the city for it, at the rate of $1.03 per ton.

"St. Louis is well situated for the disposal of its garbage by hog feeding. There are several sites along the river, below the city, on which a hog farm could be conducted, without creating a nuisance. The proper feeding of garbage on these sites would not be objectionable.

Several Prospective Bidders.

"We are assured by reputable parties that they would like to bid on a five-year contract for garbage disposal, which would enable them to properly equip for the scientific feeding of hogs at a profit.

"Garbage disposal should not be regarded merely as a transportation problem, nor should a contract for it be let each year as an emergency measure.

"An ordinance now pending in the Board of Aldermen would authorize a five-year contract. The Board of Public Service has advertised that on Feb. 3 it will receive bids for garbage disposal for one year and for five years. But the forms of specifications and contracts being issued to prospective bidders are for a one-year period.

Five-Year Contract Urged.

"The Board of Public Service should see that proper specifications are prepared for a five-year contract, so that contractors will be encouraged to bid on the work, not merely as a transportation business, but with an idea of the value of the material for feeding purposes."

The Bureau of Municipal Research a year ago maintained, in a controversy with city officials, that the contract price of $2.10 a ton, which was being paid to Klein & Katz for hauling the garbage, was more than twice what the city should pay. The outcome of the discussion was the letting of the present contract at $1.03 a ton. The present contract provides that not more than 90 tons of garbage a day shall be burned in the city incinerator, and that the remainder shall be hauled by the contractor to a hog island in the Mississippi, except that 15 tons a day may be delivered to farmers.

THREE FUNERAL SERVICES FOR GLENN YOUNG; PALLBEARERS ON WHITE-HOODED HORSES

ORA THOMAS' WIDOW TELLS OF YOUNG'S THREATS

Testifies at Herrin Inquest That Her Husband Had Expressed Fears for His Life to Her.

"HAD BEEN GANGED" DAY OF SHOOTING

Klan Raider, Accompanied by 11 Men, Had Cursed Foe and Told Him "to Pull Gun," She Says.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

HERRIN, Ill., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Ora Thomas today appeared before the Coroner's jury investigating the deaths of Deputy Sheriff Thomas and three others here in a pistol fight Saturday and related how her husband had been threatened by S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan raider. She appeared on the stand a few hours before the hour set for Young's funeral.

Mrs. Thomas said her husband, the arch enemy of the klan, told her of his fears for his life at the hands of Young. Mrs. Thomas is in her early thirties at most, but the strain under which she has lived has left its stamp in the resolute set of her small chin and the firm impression of her lips.

She sat patiently while photographers took her picture, obviously unaccustomed to court procedure. She gave her name as "Mistress Orie Thomas."

Wants to Tell Whole Story.

"I can only tell my story if you let me tell it all," she began. "I want to tell every bit of it to you, just the words Orie spoke to me before he went out and was killed that night."

She was interrupted by Foreman Thomas Benton of the Coroner's jury, who assured her she would be allowed to tell all she knew.

She then told how Thomas had expressed his fears to her on the night he died.

"It was a few minutes after 5 o'clock when Mr. Thomas came back home for supper," she said, in a clear voice. "He had been down at the City Court, where he was a bailiff, and he had to return after supper for a night session.

"'Bud,' he said (he called me Bud), 'I was ganged this afternoon.'

"'Who did it, Orie?' I asked.

"'Now Pull Your Gun.'"

"'Young and his bunch,' he said. 'There were 11 men with him, Glenn Fowler, Burr Owen and a bunch of others. They cursed me.'

"'What else did they say?' I asked Orie.

"'Well,' he said, 'Young cursed and said, 'I wish you had killed a brother of mine. Now pull your gun.' Young always said that when he met Orie and I've heard him. He was with my husband often. He has run alongside of our machine with his car full of men and has said, 'Now pull your gun.' And every time Orie answered, 'All I want is a square deal.'

Thomas Had Only One Weapon.

"When he told me how Young had stopped him, I said: 'Oh, Orie, what did you do?' 'What could I do?' he asked. 'I didn't have a chance. My overcoat was buttoned up. I just cussed him back and turned away.'

"Ordinarily, my husband carried two weapons, but that night he only had one. When he left the house that night to go to the night session of court I begged him to take another, but he told me he had no place to carry it and left me.

"It was 8 o'clock when he called again to ask if some visitors we were expecting had arrived. I asked if he had seen Young and Orie replied: 'No, Buddie, I haven't.'

"I guess it was just a bluff as usual.

Telephoned Regarding Trouble.

"A half hour later he called again. His voice was trembling and I could tell he was in trouble.

"'Bud,' he said, 'they have fired

HERRIN'S HOLIDAY FLAGS ON STREETS

Long Route for Procession to Cemetery Arranged to Care for Line of Automobiles.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

HERRIN, Ill., Jan. 29—Three simultaneous funeral services were held here this afternoon for S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan liquor raider, who was shot to death with two of his followers Saturday night in the fight in which his enemy, Deputy Sheriff Ora Thomas, was also killed.

Young's body, surrounded with flowers, and resting in the light of an incandescent "fiery cross," lay before the altar rail of the Baptist Church. It was to this church that Mrs. Maude Young, the blinded widow of the fighter, was led for the exercises. The seats reserved for her and a few relatives were the only places vacant. All the other seats had been filled four hours before the time for the opening of the services.

For the others who wished to honor Young's memory, or who were drawn by interest in his spectacular career—and there were thousands of them, both residents of Herrin and visitors—the Methodist Church and the Christian church, in the same part of town, opened their doors. It was planned also to use the Masonic Temple, but as the temple is near the Baptist Church, the crowd which gathered there remained outside.

Flags on Business Streets.

Along the business streets good-sized American flags were displayed on posts 12 to 15 feet high, set in the curbstones. There were 30 or more of these decorations, which have been used here before upon patriotic occasions. The town was full of visitors from other parts of Williamson County and from adjoining counties.

Young's twin daughters, 9 years old, by his first marriage, were brought here from Belleville, though the first wife, who divorced Young a few years ago, did not appear. Two of Young's brothers are here.

The family party arrived at the church in Young's Lincoln sedan, which he was driving when he was attacked on the highway near Okawville, Ill., last summer, by the gunmen whose shots lamed him and destroyed his wife's sight. The marks of buckshot are still visible on the body of the car.

White-Hooded Horses.

As the hearse drew up in front of the church, with moving picture cameras clicking at windows across the way, six horses covered by white blankets reaching almost to their feet, and with white hoods on their heads, were led to the place. They were to be ridden by the pallbearers on the way to the cemetery. One was a white horse, the others of various colors. A motor hearse was used.

Eight hooded Klansmen stood on the steps of the church, their arms folded, and left to National Guardsmen the necessary work of keeping back the crowd which pressed to get into the overcrowded building.

The distance from the church to the cemetery, where a concrete vault is to receive Young's body, is less than a mile. In anticipation that the line of automobiles would extend for two miles or more, a route was arranged which doubled the distance.

Procession Through Town.

The "parade," as it was generally termed, was from the church to the center of the town, then a circuit of 10 blocks through the business section, and thence to the cemetery. In the parade the klan regalia did not appear, to avoid any occasion of trouble; but at the cemetery robed klansmen gathered

WHIP-WOMEN OF LONDON FORCED TO QUIT CONCESSION

Despite Increase in Checking Fee, They Say They Cannot Make a Living.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The whip-women of Covent Garden are going to abandon the famous produce market for the same reason that the village blacksmith is becoming an automobile salesman. For the last 300 years an unbroken line of members of their families have checked the whips of the produce growers who frequent this market.

This concession of whip checking was granted to six ancestors of the present-day whip-women in the sixteenth century, when Covent Garden was a convent garden of the Monks of Westminster, outside which the farmers brought their garden truck to sell.

In that century half a dozen whip-women took charge of the whips of the farmers to keep them from thieves, and collected a penny from the owner at the end of the day.

The number of whip-women has grown to 12 because some women left their share of the concession to two daughters, but even though the price of checking whips is now 3 pence, the whip-women of today cannot make a living, they say.

Shortly the familiar figures of the whip-women will disappear, and in their place bobbies are to be assigned to look after the safety of the whips.

W. T. HILL'S PROFIT AS WHEAT 'BULL' PUT AT $250,000

Credited as Chief Beneficiary in Market Where Amateur "Flyers" Did Most of "Cleaning Up."

RISE DUE TO REPORTS OF WORLD SHORTAGE

Professional Traders for Most Part Adopted Wary Attitude — Activity Was Largely by Outsiders.

William T. Hill, who made a fortune in wheat in the war market, is credited with having been the premier "bull" in the current wheat market on the Merchants' Exchange and to have netted something like $250,000 in May wheat's rise to above $2.04 yesterday.

Gossip of other exchange members being richer by $25,000, $50,000 and up to $100,000 as a result of May wheat advance of 75 cents a bushel in six months was current.

General opinion, however, is that the majority of the regular professional traders profited very little from the unusual market of recent months. There seems almost a unanimous view on the exchange that the greatest "bull" market in wheat since war days was an "out-much money out of the so-called amateur "flyer" seems to have done most of the "cashing in."

Professionals Wary.

The professionals just "could not see" May wheat as it steadily climbed during the last six months from a price of $1.29 a bushel to $2.04 yesterday, an advance of 75 cents a bushel, more than sufficient to satiate the appetite of any ordinary 'bull.'"

Not so the country folks, the farmer who had sold his crop and bought in the pit, the business man, the salesman, the clerk and the office man generally. They bought May wheat and then bought some more. And then held it tight until they were satisfied with the return. Profits for some were hundreds, others thousands of dollars. According to one report the public probably never before has taken as much money out of the so-called "long side" of wheat, even in war times, as in the last half year. Of course this includes those who bought in the Chicago and other markets as well as in St. Louis.

Was Consistent "Bull."

Hill, however, according to reports on exchange, seems to have been the only one to make a "sizeable" profit out of the big advance. He is known to have been a consistent "bull" all through the upturn. While others were wary of the market and at each succeeding rise thought the market was ready to turn, Hill, whose profits in the war market were said to have run into several millions, held fast to holdings. Although he is estimated to have had profits of 50 to 60 cents a bushel in his holdings he is said not to have been as heavy a trader as formerly.

Magnitude of the trade that has been carried on recently on all exchanges is shown in the report of the Federal Grain Futures Administration for the Chicago Board of Trade for Jan. 26. On that day 74,852,000 bushels of wheat were traded in, compared with 8,180,000 bushels on the corresponding day last year. Wheat, corn, oats and rye trade in the aggregate that day amounted to 142,699,000 bushels, compared with 22,862,000 a year ago.

Reports of Shortage.

The advance of wheat has been due to reports of a short world crop of this grain. Canada produced a much smaller crop than in the previous year and foreign production was smaller. Reports were current this week that one of more regular exporting countries were actually importing wheat. Grain futures on the British, Argentine and Canadian markets have made equally as big gains recently as American markets.

When May wheat sold across $2 yesterday it was the first time in eight years that the $2 mark was passed. In 1917, just before the exchange closed as a war measure, May wheat sold as high as $3.25. But aside from this war period price, it is necessary to go back 48 years, to 1877, to find wheat bringing as much as $2 a bushel. Last January, May wheat sold as low as $1.08¼.

Law Breakers No Longer Defy Brentwood Judge

"Lost" Ordinances Found in Home of Village Trustee in Time to Foil Speeder.

Fate has a habit of kicking a man when he's down. Citizens of Brentwood, a village on Manchester road, say she does not restrict herself to men. For, figuratively speaking, Brentwood was soundly kicked when down.

It all began Jan. 7, when the books containing all that was law in Brentwood were stolen from the town hall. That night, amid much excitement, a meeting of the town council was called and it was decided to advertise in the Post-Dispatch in an effort to regain the 90 ordinances which were in the book when it was stolen.

"No More Law."

The next morning Charles Meyer, a trustee of the village, told the story to newspaper reporters. "We haven't got any more law in Brentwood than the bolsheviks in Russia," he said. "We are going to work day and night until we pass those ordinances again because you can't tell what might happen."

Then in a confidential tone he confessed that although the advertisement stated they knew the culprit who stole the books, in reality they were completely mystified except for the theory that by now "they were a long way from here."

The town council worked furiously to put law back in Brentwood, but Meyer's forebodings were only too correct.

Autoist Arrested.

One fine day an auto streaked through Brentwood on the Manchester road. Brentwood's traffic cop brought him back before Judge W. A. Withrow.

"You were exceeding the speed limit," Judge Withrow solemnly declared.

"You can't exceed the speed limit in Brentwood," was the motorist's reply.

"Young man, you were exceeding 25 miles an hour and disobeying the town ordinance."

"Let's see the town ordinance or shut up."

The Judge was stumped. The motorist evidently read the newspapers. If the Judge only knew where the ordinances were.

"There isn't any law in Brentwood," the young man told the Judge with a mean laugh as he sauntered out. He climbed into his auto and disappeared into a cloud of dust.

Judge Withrow was determined that law and order would never again be so thwarted. He stirred the city fathers to fresh effort in their search for the lost ordinances.

Then came Meyer, on Jan. 15, a sheepish grin on his face. "Those ordinances were at my home all the time," he said. "They never were in the lost book. I put them in a drawer and forgot them."

Not long after another auto whizzed through Brentwood. Its driver was brought before Judge Withrow.

"You can't arrest me," the driver said. "Where's your speed law?"

"Here," Judge Withrow shouted, pushing it into the face of the speeder.

"Guilty," said the speeder.

"Ten dollars," said the Judge.

THREE FUNERAL SERVICES HELD FOR S. GLENN YOUNG

to pay the last honors to the body, and to recite the ritual of the "invisible empire."

At the Baptist Church the services included solos by the Rev. Henry Ward, assistant pastor, and Mrs. Otto Tate, the latter of whom sang Tuesday at the funeral of Thomas. "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Somewhere a Voice Is Calling" were the songs, and the hymn, "Day Is Dying in the West," was sung by the congregation. The Twenty-third Psalm, beginning "The Lord is my Shepherd," was repeated.

The ministers of Herrin who sympathized with and supported Young gathered at the Baptist Church, some of them leaving before the close of the services to address the meetings at the other places. The Rev. I. E. Lee, the Baptist pastor, made the chief address upon Young's work.

"100 Per Cent Better," Says Pastor.

Herrin is "100 per cent better," because of Young's efforts, he declared.

"Conditions in Williamson County two years ago were almost beyond description," the minister said. "More than 20 public saloons were active on the main street of Herrin. Scores of smaller joints were open in all parts of the city, open gambling houses were numerous and there were many roadhouses throughout the county. Conditions were steadily growing worse, the dives were multiplying and there was a large element in the county that included the rankest of scofflaws, bootleggers, gamblers and prostitutes.

"This element joked at the law. It was willing that its preachers should declare themselves opposed to lawlessness from their pulpits as long as nothing was done. This element is exceedingly angry because something has been done.

"Today the saloons are closed. One that ran for years in the Jefferson Hotel building has been cleaned out and is now occupied by a fine tailor shop. Another of the largest saloons has been converted into a thriving grocery.

"The public saloon has become a thing of the past. In Herrin only, in the last 15 months, the same may be said of the public gambling houses. All of Williamson County's notorious roadhouses have been closed.

"Where have our law violators gone? Some have left the county. Many are still with us. Many have reformed, and I believe they will make good citizens. One man, a foreigner, a fine, pleasant fellow, who once ran a saloon in Herrin, visited the church yesterday and left a floral decoration.

"Some may be plotting to kill those who helped put them out of business.

"We are 100 per cent better today, in my opinion.

"Who wrought this reform? Many have helped and sacrificed that it might be obtained. 'If Williamson County had not had some of the best of the nation's citizenship, she would have decayed beyond redemption. And while many have had a part in this work, there is one name that comes to every mind first when they think of the Williamson County cleanup.

"S. Glenn Young.

"Young Always Fearless."

"A man who did his work thoroughly and made the supreme sacrifice in doing it. He has done more than any other one man to make law and order paramount in Williamson County. Because of our unusually bad condition, we needed the extraordinary.

"We found S. Glenn Young, who was ever fearless and imbued with one idea—supremacy of the law.

"Every friend of Mr. Young knows that he was more responsible than any other for cleaning out the dives and joints in this county, and every foe that he had knew it well.

"No doubt this is the reason they wanted to kill him more than anyone else.

"We are hoping and praying for peace. The peace founded upon law and justice to all. Perhaps the day of that peace is at hand—if not, may God speed the day.

Other speakers at the funeral, and at the overflow meetings, were the Rev. P. H. Glotfelty of the Methodist Church, the Rev. J. E. Story of the Christian Church and the Rev. William Carlton of the Baptist Church in Marion, the county seat.

Pastor Story of the Christian Church exhorted his hearers to "back up the work Young has done in Williamson County," and if necessary to give their lives in service.

"Rejected Bribe."

"Young at one time refused a $50,000 bribe, offered him by members of one of the fraternal orders to which he belonged," Pastor Story said. "The incident occurred while the two of them were on a trip to Oklahoma. The money was offered him at a time when he was badly in need of ready funds, and his temptors told him that it was his if he would destroy evidence in his possession. He met that test as he met every test, like a man, and he never faltered in his principles."

Robed Klansmen Guard Body.

Two robed klansmen stood by the body of Young throughout last night. It was announced that a guard of two klansmen will remain at the grave after the burial, and that this guard may be maintained for weeks, so long as there is any apprehension of possible disturbance of the vault by enemies.

Sheriff John Gray of Champaign County, who is here to attend the funeral, said that Young was one of his best friends. Gray said he was not a klansman or a sympathizer of the klan. Capt. Greer of the Urbana cavalry troop, of the Illinois National Guard, was with him.

BILL TO PERMIT RACE BETTING IN STATE INTRODUCED to proceed under them in as much as they were on the books, and a defendant probably would be at disadvantage in attempting to set up this act as a defense.

Not Opposed to Racing.

Senator McCawley said he did not wish to be understood as opposing a racing act.

"I believe the measure would be improved by the suggested amendments," he said, "and I am confident it would stand a much better chance of passage in that form. I cannot see that those amendments would injure the purpose of the bill. Racing could be conducted under it successfully and without arousing public resentment, which is almost certain to follow unless the pool feature is under very careful regulation."

In behalf of the provision of the bill permitting legal wagers on races it has been pointed out that betting on races is carried on in all cities by bookmakers and without regulation. By placing it under State supervision, it is contended the evils attendant on unregulated bookmaking will be avoided.

TWO NEW ARRESTS FOR MAIL ROBBERY AT CRYSTAL CITY

Pair Giving St. Louis Addresses Are Charged With Participation in $45,000 Holdup, Sept. 29.

Warrants charging two men with participation in the $45,000 mail truck robbery at Crystal City, Mo., Sept. 29, were issued yesterday by United States Commissioner Atkins.

The men were booked as Benjamin Ingram, 38, of 2611 South Broadway, and John Lyons, 22, of 4401 Page boulevard. Unable to give bond of $50,000 each, they were lodged in jail. They waived preliminary hearing.

Ingram, a widower and father of eight children, was arrested Tuesday at an insurance office, 3500 South Broadway, where he was employed as salesman. Lyons, who is married, was arrested Monday at an oil filling station at Page boulevard and Newstead avenue, where he was employed.

Confessions Denied.

Following publication in the Globe-Democrat today that Ingram and Lyons had confessed participation in the Crystal City robbery, Postoffice Inspector Ward today issued a denial. He asserted that the two had signed statements admitting complicity in the $10,000 robbery of the First National Bank of Freeburg, Ill., Aug. 23, and the $2547 robbery of the First National Bank of Bunker Hill, Ill., Nov. 5.

At the city jail today, Ingram and Lyons told a Post-Dispatch reporter that they understood their arrests followed confessions by others in the two Illinois robberies. Ingram said he did not participate in the holdups, but was "implicated" through knowing some of the robbers. He refused to answer a question as to whether he had received any of the loot. Ingram was arrested last Thanksgiving day for questioning in the Freeburg robbery, but was discharged after two weeks. He admits knowing Chester Goudy, now under indictment for the Crystal City robbery.

Admits Signing "Few Things."

Lyons admitted signing "a few things" yesterday, but said he had denied participation in any of the three robberies. He and Ingram were questioned separately and signed separate statements.

Two other men, indicted for complicity in the Crystal City robbery, are under arrest. They are Chester (Freckles) Goudy, 22-year-old pugilist of Nameoki, Ill., who was arrested Christmas day at Chico, Cal., and Ray Devine, 26, a drug addict of Granite City, who was arrested in the lobby of the Louisville (Ky.) postoffice, Jan. 5. Goudy arrived in St. Louis today from San Francisco, where he had been taken from Chico. Devine is at the city jail.

A fifth man, the leader of the Crystal City robbers, is being sought.

Postmaster Held Up.

In the robbery, at Crystal City, 40 miles south of St. Louis, Postmaster Houghton had received a registered mail pouch from a St. Louis train and was returning to the postoffice in a truck driven by Henry Galvin, a negro, when the road was blocked by an automobile, occupied by four armed and masked men, who seized the pouch and drove away. Five miles north they abandoned the automobile and stole a motor skiff to cross the Mississippi River to the Illinois shore, where their freckle-faced chauffeur was waiting with an automobile, in which they completed their escape.

The pouch contained $45,000 in currency and silver, shipped by the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis to meet the payroll of the Pittsburg Plate Glass Co., at Crystal City.

SIX ST. LOUISANS ON SHIP UNDER GUARD AT SHANGHAI

Six St. Louisans are passengers on the steamer Belgenland, which was reported yesterday to be under guard of American naval craft at Shanghai, China, a focal point of the Chinese civil war.

They are: Christopher W. Johnson, president of St. Louis Basket and Box Co., and wife and small son, of 2499 Longfellow place; Mr. and Mrs. A. Wildman of 5768 Pershing avenue, and Alfred D. Luehrmann of 3120 Hawthorne place. The boat has three Kansas City passengers, Mrs. Dusting Adams, Miss Mina Adams and Mrs. T. C. Lind. It is on a cruise around the world.

No danger to the Belgenland, a Red Star Line boat, or other foreign craft has been reported. Yesterday's dispatch said that the American fighting ships were ordered to protect American and British vessels desiring to leave Shanghai at night, even in the face of fortress guns. Gen. Wang, commanding the fortress, advised the American commander that he would not fire on foreign vessels leaving in daytime.

Riff Tribesmen Burn Town.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Forces of Riff tribesmen in Morocco have burned down the town of Tazerut, where Raisuli, the noted bandit, has been living, says an agency dispatch from Tangier today. Raisuli's son and his nephew were wounded in the attack on the town.

SENATE PASSES BILL FOR AIR MAIL CONTRACTS

Measure Now in House Authorizes Private Concerns to Handle Mail on Percentage Basis.

Post-Dispatch Bureau.
20-23 Wyatt Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Col. Paul Henderson, Second Assistant Postmaster-General, who supervises the air mail, will confer with Postmaster-General New today regarding an appropriation of $1,000,000 he thinks necessary if the Postoffice Department is to get any benefit this year from the Kelly bill, which authorizes the Postmaster-General to contract with private enterprises for extension of the air mail service.

Under the provision of the bill, which was introduced in the House by Representative Clyde Kelly (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, there is a possibility that St. Louis will be connected by an air route to Pittsburg, thence to New York. The bill was rushed through the Senate Tuesday by Senator Reed (Rep.) of Pennsylvania at the instance of a delegation from the Pittsburg Chamber of Commerce.

In effect, the bill authorizes the Postmaster-General to contract with private concerns to transport mail by air between such points as he may designate at a rate not to exceed four-fifths of the revenue the Government shall receive from the sale of stamps.

Mail at Usual Rate.

The bill is phrased so as to provide for transportation of ordinary first-class mail by air as well as the usual air mail. When ordinary first-class mail is carried, the contractor is to receive four-fifths of the revenue, which means that for carrying five ordinary letters he would receive eight cents. Under the air mail provision he would receive eight cents for carrying one letter.

There is a provision that the rates for air-mail transportation shall not be less than 10 cents an ounce and another that nothing in the act shall be construed to interfere with the rates charged by the Government-operated service.

Henderson warned that too much should not be expected from the Kelly bill, which the President will probably sign within the next few days.

"It is problematical whether any capitalist will invest the large amount necessary for equipment until more is known about the support private lines would get," he explained. "To be a success from a postal point of view night flying would be necessary on every proposed route. I've heard of except the one between Detroit and Cleveland. This means that the route would have to be lighted, and I can't conceive of a concern spending that much money for a lane that anyone could use, for as yet, the rights of landowners and aviators have not been decided. If one concern lighted a route, a competitor could use it.

"Service between Pittsburg and St. Louis is highly desirable, for there is not overnight mail train service between the two cities. Pittsburg could also be connected by another hop to New York."

Many Proposals Received.

Henderson said that he had received scores of plans from aviators in all parts of the country who wanted to transport mail under private contract.

"Of course, the time is coming when air mail will be transported on contract as the ordinary mail is now carried by trains. The Postoffice Department is operating the air mail, because the proposition requires more capital than private concerns want to put in a business when the returns are doubtful.

"The Winslow bill, which is now before Congress, will settle some of the problems confronting contractors who would transport air mail. It provides for an air code, quite similar to the Admiralty code. Under it, all air routes would be Government property and all aviators would be entitled to use them. The Kelly Bill is premature in some respects, for it does not provide for the air route contingencies.

"Nevertheless we want to be prepared if a responsible enterprise proposes a contract for air mail transportation. For that reason I shall confer with the Postmaster-General as to the appropriation needed for the work. It is a mere guess as to the amount required, but I think $1,000,000 will cover all operations. This is not an appropriation for capital expenditure for the money will be returned to the Treasury through the sale of stamps. It is really a question of bookkeeping."

MAN IS GIVEN FIVE YEARS FOR ROBBING JAPANESE

Albert Volm, 22 years old, of 3517 Winzlick avenue, St. Louis County, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary by a jury in Circuit Court today. Volm was charged with second degree robbery for having obtained several hundred dollars by threat of bodily injury from Yukinobu Yamamoto, a Japanese of 1133 Hereford street, who has a concession at Forest Park Highlands.

Ora Thomas' Widow Tells Of Young's Threats

into us. I don't know who fired the shot, but Ross Lizenby went down. I don't think he was killed, though. I'm in an office downtown.'

"'Orie,' I said, 'I'm coming down to be with you. I'm going to bring you your other pistol.'

"I knew he was alone, but he would not let me come out, and finally he hung up. That was the last time I heard from him until I saw him dying at the hospital.

"After he called I heard there had been a shooting. I asked women in the neighborhood who had been hurt in the fight, but they could not tell me. I tried to hire a taxi to get to Orie and couldn't; find a machine. I called the European Hotel, where Orie sometimes stopped on the way home, but I couldn't get an answer.

"Of course, we know now why I could not."

Persons in charge of the hotel had fled after the shooting.

Describes Deathbed Scene.

All the sorrow, all the heart scalds that come to the women in Williamson County's feuds were in the voice of Mrs. Thomas as she told of the scene at the Herrin hospital, where she arrived before her husband died.

"I finally got to the hospital," Mrs. Thomas said. "Orie was living there. They told me he was dead, but I knew he wasn't. I put my hand on his face. There was a tremble in his body and his lips moved as though he were trying to speak to me. There was just a little murmur, a gurgle, and Orie was gone."

Scene at the Hospital.

The woman regarded her audience. She was tearless but most of her auditors were visibly affected.

"Mrs. Anna McGill, my sister, and Mrs. Tom Phelan went to the hospital with me," she said.

"There was a crowd there and after Orie had died, we saw them gathered about Dr. J. T. Black, superintendent of the hospital. One of them, who appeared to be the leader of the crowd, raised his revolver as if he were going to strike the doctor.

"Mrs. McGill threw herself at the man and held his arm.

"'Don't do that,' she said. 'There's been enough killing. It's time for you to ask God for forgiveness. Go down on your knees and I will kneel with you to pray to God this may be settled by Him, instead of with guns.'

Pleaded in Black's Behalf.

"'Who in the hell are you?' someone in the crowd said. Mrs. Phelan held out her hands to the men and said, 'Have you no respect for the injured men in the hospital? Can't you care just a little for the wounded, give some consideration to the women lying here?'

"The man who seemed to be the leader turned away and said, 'She's right. Let's get out of here.'

"Mrs. Phelan wouldn't let them go until she had asked them to let Dr. Black alone. 'Promise me,' she said; 'that you will not hurt him; that you will let him alone tonight.' They said they would and went away."

"Is there anything more you want to add?" the witness was asked. She fixed her gaze on the questioner.

"You don't want me to tell how Young treated me and my children?" she said, inquiringly.

"No," a juror put in hastily. The foreman arose at this juncture to explain that the jury did not regard this as relevant to the inquiry.

"Much of this testimony should not have been admitted here and should not have come under the consideration of this jury," he said.

Adjournment Until Saturday.

Concluding her testimony, the widow voiced her protest against the fighting in the county.

"Why do we fight?" she asked.

"Partisanship, hate, discord, will do nothing to make us live happily. We can't cure ourselves by violence. We can't settle anything by fighting."

The jury adjourned shortly before noon to Saturday morning when the inquiry will be resumed.

Chief of Police Testifies.

Chief of Police Matt Walker was the most important of the remaining witnesses. Questioned by the Coroner and State's Attorney, he told of seeing Ora Thomas a few hours before the shooting and related a story he said Thomas had told him about an encounter with Young earlier in the afternoon. Thomas asked him to "stick around," he said to be on hand in case of further trouble, which, Thomas declared, was likely to arise. He said Thomas quoted a man named Peterson as saying after the afternoon clash, 'wait, damn you, I'll be back.' When all was quiet at 7 p. m., Walker said, he went home. Asked why he had not deputized men enough to cope with the situation, the Chief countered with the question, "how could I deputize men who already were armed and shooting?"

Preceding Walker on the stand were John Beysinger, who was able to throw little additional light upon the affray, and Dewey Fisher, 25 years old, who rooms with Ora Thomas' nephew, Dorsey Thomas, in the European Hotel. It was from a window on the second floor of this hotel that several shots were said to have been fired.

Fisher said he saw Dorsey Thomas last at 6 o'clock on the evening of the shooting when Dorsey left the hotel to spend the night at the home of his aunt. He testified that he then went out himself and did not return until the trouble was over. He heard then, he said, that there had been a shooting but made no inquiries and did not learn until the next morning that anybody had been killed.

Many Fled to Shelter.

Tragedy and comedy found an odd meeting in the testimony of witnesses yesterday. Their stories shifted swiftly from the terrifying spectacle of men falling beneath a rain of bullets to the picture of men ridiculous in headlong flight, from the demoralization of a city bereft of police protection and dominated by a mob to the comic agony of men who threw away pride and sense of humor to escape the flying bullets.

It was Angelo Verna, who, admitted without reserve that he fled precipitately from the cigar store when there were signs of a fight. The guns began to bark as Angelo got to the front door and he forged through the knot of men at the door and ran up the street.

"Did you pass anyone on the way to the garage where you sought shelter?" he was asked.

"Pass anyone?" he asked. "I was lucky to stay up with the rest."

In deadly contrast with his testimony was the story of Harry Walker, Assistant Chief of Police, who admitted without apparent shame that he had left the downtown district after the fight at the mercy of a mob of armed men who roamed through the streets.

"I tried to stop them," he told the jury, "but they cursed me like mad men. I didn't dare to venture to the European Hotel where the shooting occurred, because I had been told they were after me.

Without Police Protection.

"I went from downtown to my father's house and spent the night there."

And so Herrin was left without police protection; left to the care of armed men, driven to a cold fury by the death of their leaders and likely to break out at any time in combat.

The witnesses who told of flight yesterday were apparently as far from having a sense of humor as is their tense, solemn city. Tony Savio, who decided he had better leave the cigar store when Young entered and a fight impended, told how he dashed headlong from a rear door and tore through the kitchen of an adjoining restaurant to safety.

"What did the cook say when you ran through his place like that?" Toney was asked.

Cook Under the Stove.

"The cook," Savio answered unsmilingly, "was trying to get out of sight under the stove."

Little progress was made yesterday in arriving at the details of the fight. Although they were told by Foreman Thomas Benton that they were to speak the truth without fear of either side, so that the jury might return a fair verdict, the witnesses very obviously feared the wrath of their neighbors and tactfully omitted from their stories any details that might tend to cast blame.

Thus Elias Green, a miner, who told several newspaper men that he actually saw Young fire the first shot, told the jury that he was not in the store when the first shot was fired and could not tell who fired it. Other witnesses, despite efforts of the foreman and State's Attorney Boswell to reassure them, obviously were reluctant to tell their stories.

Thomas Entered Store Alone.

Only one undisputed fact stands out in the testimony and that is that Thomas was slain when he went into the cigar store and engaged Young in conversation.

It also appears from the testimony that the klan forces were in possession of the situation immediately after the shooting. The bodies of the klansmen who fell in the fight were borne away after the shooting, but Thomas several witnesses said, lay in the store mortally wounded for some time before he was picked up.

An apparent effort to show that there were armed men in the ranks of the Europeans in firing on the klansmen was made in questions put to witnesses by Boswell. Although several witnesses Tuesday mentioned seeing from upper windows, no witness yesterday made such admission. Other witnesses have shown that most of the fighting was in the store, so that the advantage of firing armed men upstairs, where they could not shoot into the store, is not apparent.

A vivid account of the [illegible] of Thomas and Young was given by James Bratcher, a [illegible] driver, who was unable, however, to tell who fired first.

"Young was talking to Orie when Thomas entered the store," Bratcher said. "Thomas had his hands in his coat pockets as he came in and stood with his back to the cigar case.

"'Take your hands from your pockets,' Young said, [illegible] like.

"No sooner had he spoken [illegible] they fired, like that," clapping his hands together twice in rapid succession.

"They both went down and fell to the floor to keep from being shot. When I got up they were both lying as close together as two men could lie."

According to this version of the shooting, Thomas was shot in Young's bullet, but regained his feet and carried on the fight until he was shot in the brain.

ALTON COASTER KILLS [illegible] WHEN SLED HITS [illegible]

Homer Calvert Victim of Crash on Street Hill; Man Companion Hurt.

The helmsman of a two-passenger sled was killed and his companion seriously injured, when the craft, sliding down the East Broadway street hill in Alton, about [illegible] night, became unmanageable and crashed at high speed into an automobile coming up the hill.

The man killed was Homer Calvert, 20 years old, an employe of the W. M. Sauvage Bill Posting Co., and his companion was Armand Barron, an orchestra musician employed at the Hippodrome Theater at Alton, also owned by Sauvage. For several nights during the recent snowfall, it has been their custom to enjoy [illegible] sledding, after the theater performance, on the steep hill, which is also one of Alton's main automobile thoroughfares.

Barron, who suffered a broken right wrist, a broken bone in his left hand and probable internal injuries, recovered consciousness today. He related that Calvert, steering the sled, when it started to veer across the street to the left side in the path of the approaching automobile. He said Calvert attempted frantically to direct the sled to the right, and then there was a crash.

Calvert suffered a crushed skull and internal injuries and died [illegible] hours later without regaining consciousness. He lived at 604 [illegible] street, Alton, and is survived by a widow and one child. The automobile was driven by A. J. ALTON COASTER KILLED WHEN SLED HITS AUTO

Homer Calvert Victim of Crash on Street Hill; Man Companion Hurt.

The helmsman of a two-passenger sled was killed and his companion seriously injured, when the craft, sliding down the East Ninth street hill in Alton, about last midnight, became unmanageable and crashed at high speed into an automobile coming up the hill.

The man killed was Homer Calvert, 30 years old, an employe of the W. M. Sauvage Bill Posting Co., and his companion was Armand Barron, an orchestra musician employed at the Hippodrome Theater at Alton, also owned by Sauvage. For several nights, during the recent snowfall, it has been their custom to enjoy an hour's sledding, after the theater performance, on the steep hill, which is also one of Alton's main automobile thoroughfares.

Barron, who suffered a broken right wrist, a broken bone in the left hand and probable internal injuries, recovered consciousness today. He related that Calvert was steering the sled, when it suddenly veered across the street to the left side in the path of the approaching automobile. He said Calvert attempted frantically to direct the sled to the right, and then there was a crash.

Calvert suffered a crushed chest and internal injuries and died two hours later without regaining consciousness. He lived at 606 Belle street, Alton, and is survived by a widow and one child. The automobile was driven by A. J. Duffy, city plumbing inspector, who was on his way home from a council meeting possession of the situation immediately after the shooting. The bodies of the klansmen who fell in the fight were borne away soon after the shooting, but Thomas several witnesses said, lay in the store mortally wounded for some time before he was picked up.

An apparent effort to show that there were armed men in the upper stories of the European Hotel firing on the klansmen was made in questions put to witnesses by Boswell. Although several witnesses Tuesday mentioned shots from upper windows, no witness yesterday made such admissions. Other witnesses have shown that most of the fighting was in the store, so that the advantage of having armed men upstairs, where they could not shoot into the store, is not apparent.

A vivid account of the meeting of Thomas and Young was given by James Bratcher, a taxicab driver, who was unable, however, to tell who fired first.

"Young was talking to Green when Thomas entered the store," Bratcher said. "Thomas had his hands in his coat pockets as he came in and stood with his back to the cigar case.

"Take your hands from your pockets," Young said, real quick like.

"No sooner had he spoken when they fired, like that," clapping his hands together twice in rapid succession.

"They both went down and fell to the floor to keep from being shot. When I got up they were both lying as close together as two men could lie."

According to this version of the shooting, Thomas was struck by Young's bullet, but regained his feet and carried on the fight until he was shot in the brain.

ROBBER SHOT BY POLICEMAN DIES OF HIS WOUND

Charles Ross, 19, Fired On Dec. 31, After He and Two Companions Committed Several Holdups.

HIS SPINAL CORD WAS PARTLY SEVERED

So Far as Could Be Learned He Did Not Name His Accomplices—Was Under Bond in Another Case.

Charles Ross, 19 years old, who was shot and critically wounded by a policemen at midnight, Dec. 31, after he and two companions had stolen an automobile, committed one holdup and attempted two others, died at city hospital at 6:40 a. m. today.

A bullet entered Ross' back at the sixth cervical vertebra, partly severed the spinal cord and caused complete paralysis. In an effort to save his life, surgeons removed the bullet, announcing Ross had a slight chance for recovery, but, if he did live, the injury to the spinal cord probably would prevent complete recovery from paralysis.

Ross was unconscious most of the time. So far as could be learned, he did not name his companions in the robberies, who escaped when he was shot.

Ross and his companions had stolen the automobile of Joseph H. Heyer, 4028 Humphrey street, and driven it to the poolroom of George Turner, 6511 Maple avenue, where they held up and robbed Turner and three customers of $8. Next they attempted to hold up the family of Theodore Marglous, 601 Westgate avenue, in his automobile in St. Louis County, but Marglous increased speed and got away. Police were summoned and arrived at Page and Buckner avenues just as the three robbers were attempting to steal the parked automobile of Leo McHugh, 2931 Abner place. Ross, at the wheel of the robbers' car, attempting to drive it away, was fired upon by Sergt. Charles Chandler and Patrolman Frank McHugh, and was wounded once.

Ross and two other men were at liberty on bond at the time, having been indicted for the $2322 holdup of a messenger of the Industrial Savings Trust Co., at Sixth and Chestnut streets, Aug. 22.

YALE STUDENT KILLS SELF AFTER TWICE WOUNDING WIDOW

Tragedy at Clarksburg, W. Va., Believed to Have Been Caused by Woman's Refusal to Wed.

By the Associated Press.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Jan. 29.—Neeson C. Woods, 22, a freshman in the law school of Yale University, shot and killed himself early today after he had fired two shots into the body of Mrs. Georgia Warder, 23-year-old widow of Bridgeport, W. Va. The tragedy is believed to have been due to Mrs. Warder's refusal to marry the young student.

A taxicab driver who had driven Woods and Mrs. Warder from Clarksburg to the home of Wades Sanbridge, her brother, in Bridgeport, where she lived, heard Woods say as he stood upon the steps of the home: "Well, if you don't marry me nobody else can have you."

The couple went into the house and soon the driver heard the shots. Mrs. Warder was taken to a hospital where it was said she probably would not live. One bullet entered her head and the other went near her heart.

Woods and Mrs. Warder, accompanied by the student's mother, Mrs. J. Hop Woods, had dined together in Clarksburg last evening. They had visited for a time at a hotel where Woods and his mother were staying.

AUTHORITY GRANTED FOR SALE OF HOUSING TRUST'S BUILDING

Millspaugh Says He Has Opportunity to Dispose of United Home Builders Structure.

Authority to sell the United Home Builders Building, at 209 North Seventh street was given by Circuit Judge Falkenhainer today to State Finance Commissioner Millspaugh.

The building, a 13-story office structure, was taken possession of by Millspaugh, along with other assets of the company, in July, 1923. In petitioning for authority to sell it he represented that he had an opportunity to sell it for $250,000, the purchasers to assume the mortgages, which aggregate $191,000, leaving $59,000 for the creditors and stockholders. The sale is deemed advisable because some of the mortgages are past due and foreclosures are threatened. The sale is being negotiated by a real estate firm.

Dr. Goodman Divorced; Likened Wedlock to Caviar

Alma Rubens, Screen Star, Gets Decree From Former St. Louisan on the Ground of Cruelty.

GETS DIVORCE FROM FORMER ST. LOUISAN

ALMA RUBENS.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 29.—Dr. Daniel Carson Goodman, a former St. Louisan, who turned from medicine to writing and then to the movies, now being executive head of Cosmopolitan Films, and who once wrote, "A taste of marriage is like a taste of caviar; some people like it naturally," has found by personal experience that sometimes there is an aversion to married life as strong as there is to caviar.

Yesterday, his bride of a little more than a year obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from him in Superior Court here. She is Alma Rubens, the noted screen star. She charged the physician-writer-director with cruelty, declaring that it consisted of blows, slaps and hair-pulling, occurring here and in New York. Her mother, Mrs. Theresa Rubens, testified in corroboration of this. If that was the caviar of married life, Miss Rubens asserted, in effect, she wanted no more of it.

The "Caviar" Quotation.

The quotation from Dr. Goodman's writings is from his first novel, "Unclothed," published in 1912. In a philosophic passage he put in the mouth of his hero, a physician who was a failure, these words: "A taste of marriage is like a taste of caviar; some people like it naturally; the only way to keep them single would be to put them in jail. Some people hate it naturally; they would not marry if it was the only road to salvation, and some people acquire the taste because they see it's the only way to get some special person—heaven pity them!"

Just which class Dr. Goodman belongs to as regards caviar and marriage has not been brought out, except that he is not one of those who hate marriage naturally. His romance with Miss Rubens reached its culmination quietly in the autumn of 1923. He was producing a picture in the East in which she was starring. In November of that year it became known that star and director had been married at Greenwich, Conn., several weeks previously.

Perhaps this further quotation from that first novel—this time Cleodore, the heroine, philosophizing—throws further light on the author's brief married life: "We are meant to be just articles of furniture or bits of landscape, we women. * * * Women are like cigarettes to you. You light us, use us a little and then we're dead forever, and the only joy we find is in the short time we are being smoked. * * * I guess a woman must pay the greatest price in whatever she does."

The Man's Side.

On the man's side, the book offered: "It's difficult to be clever with a clever woman."

Again that first book, "Unclothed," offers a pointer to the theory behind Dr. Goodman's writings for press and screen: "Life offers four almost unfailing cures for melancholy — religion, art, strong drink and a bath tub."

To quote a commentary at the time this book was published: "In spots Dr. Goodman has outElinored Elinor Glyn." There were sultry passages, indeed, but the book raised no such a stir as the doctor's third novel (1913), "Hagar Revelly," a tale of a shop girl and her temptations. A publisher and clerk were arrested for mailing obscene matter after shipping this book, on complaint of the late Anthony Comstock. The author claimed it was a sociological study, designed to aid in the suppression of vice. He maintained that his writings were not immoral but unmoral.

Dr. Goodman was born in Chicago 43 years ago, and was educated in medicine at Washington University, St. Louis, and abroad. He practiced his first chosen profession in St. Louis for several years, residing at the Buckingham Hotel there, with offices in the Century Building.

But the second chosen profession, writing, took him to New York in 1912. From books he branched soon into writing for the movies, which then were just beginning to find themselves. He was the author of the photo-story, "Battle of the Sexes," which attracted some attention because of its nature. In 1915 it was announced that he had been engaged by the old Lubin Manufacturing Co., New York, to write 12 feature film stories during a year. Newspaper accounts placed his salary for that at $60,000. He has stayed with the movies since then.

MANUFACTURER FINED $500 FOR CONTEMPT OF COURT

Emil Willebrandt Failed to Comply With Order Against Use of Trade Catalogue Illustrations.

Emil Willebrandt, St. Louis manufacturer of barber shop and beauty shop supplies and appliances, was fined $500 for contempt of court by Federal Judge Faris today.

Willebrandt was sued about a year ago by the Koken Barber Supply Co., which obtained an injunction restraining him from using certain illustrations in a trade catalogue which the Koken company alleged was an infringement of illustrations of their products. The injunction was granted. Two months ago the Koken company instituted the contempt proceeding, alleging the illustrations had not been eliminated in subsequent advertising.

Counsel for Willebrandt pleaded today that the failure to eliminate the advertising was an inadvertence. Judge Faris ruled that half the fine should go to the Koken company and the other half to the Government.

HELD FOR HAVING 582 QUAIL

By the Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 29.—Charged with illegally having game birds in storage, William Monk, head of the Monk Poultry and Egg Co. here, and J. O. Jack Miller III, president of the University Club, were arraigned in Justice Court yesterday and released on bonds of $750 each.

The warrants on which they were arrested were obtained by H. M. Punshon, deputy Game Warden, who alleges he found 582 quail stored by Monk in a cold storage plant here. The charge against Miller is that five wild ducks and 12 quail were found in the icebox of the University Club, ready to be served.

Catholic Buildings Guarded.

By the Associated Press.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 29.—Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, near a confessional box in St. Anne's Catholic Church last night, following mysterious fires that badly damaged the parochial schools in Leominster and Shirley within the past few days, caused Chief of Police George H. Hill today to order extra police protection for all the Catholic buildings in this city.

HERRIOT VOTED CONFIDENCE AFTER ROW WITH SOCIALISTS

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The Chamber of Deputies, after a threat of revolt by the Socialists and a counterthreat by Premier Herriot that he would resign if the Chamber failed to vote the printing and posting of his speech of yesterday on Germany, this afternoon passed the vote demanded, 541 against 32, supplying confidence in the Government's policy on all questions treated in the speech.

The sitting of the Chamber was suspended at one time because of disorder after Premier Herriot had made a statement mollifying his Socialist supporters, who had considered his utterances of yesterday reactionary and decided to abstain from voting on a motion to post the speech. Herriot in his effort to pacify the Socialists, said:

"What I affirmed yesterday was the desire of the people of France not to remain indefinitely on the Rhine but the people's demand for a guarantee of its security."

The Premier's declaration was enthusiastically applauded by the Socialists.

Herriot's threat to resign came during the intermission when, surrounded by a group of his followers, he announced:

"If the affichage (Posting) is not voted I will resign."

The Socialists, whose decision to abstain from voting was taken at a caucus before today's session, went into caucus again and after a long and noisy deliberation sent a deputation to ask the Premier if he cared to be heard and state his position.

M. Herriot agreed and went into the room where the Socialists were deliberating. His arguments were evidently persuasive, for a few minutes later the Socialists announced they would vote for the posting.

Monument to Bland Proposed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—A bill appropriating $25,000 for the construction of a monument to Richard Parks (Silver Dick) Bland, Missouri statesman and "free silver" contender for the Democratic presidential nomination, was introduced in the House today by Representatives Rucker of Phelps and Mumford of Laclede. The monument would be erected on the State Capitol grounds.

ANOTHER FEE OF ABOUT $3500 FOR NAT GOLDSTEIN

Former Circuit Clerk Named Co-Trustee of the $300,000 Estate of Gerhard H. Timmerman.

RECENTLY GOT $6000 IN WALDBART CASE

Flurry Over Lowden Fund in 1920 Has Turned to Financial Benefit of Republican Politician.

Nat Goldstein, Nineteenth Ward Republican committeeman and former Circuit Clerk, who a few weeks ago received a $6000 fee for services as administrator of the George Waldbart estate, under appointment of Probate Judge Holtcamp, has been named by Circuit Judge Frey as a co-trustee of the $300,000 estate of Gerhard H. Timmerman.

Goldstein retired from his elective office two years ago, but he kept his place on the City Committee. He embarked in the insurance and bonding business, and, he announced, before the end of his first year, that he was making $2500 to $3000 a month, instead of the $416.66 which the city used to pay him.

"The business comes without solicitation," he declared at that time. "My friends look me up and give me the business, and that is all there is to it—but I am still in politics."

Profited by Lowden Turmoil.

Thus, he made it clear, the turmoil of 1920, when he was known at the Chicago convention as one of the "gold dust twins," recipients of $2500 of Lowden campaign money, and the later fight over his aspirations to the offices of Postmaster and Internal Revenue Collector, had all turned to his financial benefit.

Goldstein has written numerous bonds in injunction and receivership cases in the courts. His appointment in the Timmerman case is expected to net him a fee of not less than $3750. He was named as co-trustee with Frederick C. Timmerman, to succeed John H. Timmerman, who died last fall. The heirs agreed to the appointment.

Judge Frey fixed the bond of the trustees at $350,000 and directed that their joint compensation should be at the rate of 2½ per cent, which will amount to division of $7500 between them. The elder Timmerman, grandfather of Goldstein's co-trustee, made his money in the foundry business.

Agent for Firm Furnishing Bond.

The bond was furnished by a surety company which Goldstein represents. The duties of the trusteeship will end March 30, when a 15-year period from the time of the testator's death, fixed in the will, is to end.

FINGER PRINTS OF CHILD MAY DECIDE PARENTHOOD

Two Mothers Lay Equal Claim to Child Abandoned in Rooming House.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—Still playing the role of Solomon, but tiring of it a little, Judge Raymond MacNeille, in Juvenile Court, tried fingerprints, dice, and even drawing, in an attempt to decide which of two mothers is entitled to "Jackie" Duff, as one calls him, or Russell Steimling Jr., which the other insists is his name.

The boy, 2½ years old, was found abandoned in a Camden (N. J.) rooming house several weeks ago. A few days later he was identified by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Steimling as their son, kidnaped from their home, at Girard Manor, Pa., more than a year ago. John and Martha Duff Silknitter were arrested on a kidnaping charge and identified as the couple which left the child in Camden. Mrs. Silknitter, in court, asserted the child was hers. The Steimlings are equally positive it is theirs.

Judge MacNeille yesterday decided to take fingerprints of the baby and mothers. "Dirty," said Jackie, gravely, as Judge McNeille took his chubby fingers in his hand, and then pulled away.

Then Judge MacNeille showed the dice. Jackie became interested. The Judge began to draw. Jackie watched him eagerly. In the meantime the fingerprints had been obtained. By this time "Jackie" had forgotten all about his smudgy paws and was rapidly implanting inky spots on his new suit. Fingerprints of the rival mothers also have been obtained.

WOMAN 'DIRT' FARMER 'MAKES FORTUNE IN WHEAT'

Mrs. Scott Durand Admits "Dabbling" But Declines to Say How Much She Profited.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Scott Durand, who refers to herself as a dirt farmer, is reported to have made a fortune running into six figures, trading in wheat here.

While the giants of the wheat trade, among them James A. Patten, who at one time was regarded as the "Wheat King" of the world, and Arthur Cutten, now one of the large and shrewd operators, were reported out of the wheat futures market, the general public got into the bidding.

And while these experts were lying back on their oars, as the flood of wheat prices rolled higher and higher, the public rushed on pell mell. The long traders apparently knew no bounds as shorts were rushing to cover and amateur buyers were urging brokers to buy, forcing the price to $2.05¾ at the high spot yesterday for May delivery.

Mrs. Durand would only smile and admit that she had "dabbled in wheat" but refused to confirm or deny the story of her winnings. She and her husband own the model Crab Tree Dairy Farm at Lake Bluff and are among the wealthy North Shore social circle.

"I began trading in grain futures in the fall of 1920," Mrs. Durand said today. "After four or five years of planting wheat I planted alfalfa to replenish the soil fertility. And alfalfa was high. Then I began buying wheat futures. "I found 1921 a profitable year, and 1922 was not bad, but 1923 was bad and I was behind. I could not break even that year. And 1924 was an uncomfortable time for the grain operator until September, when the signs began to pile up that there was a world wheat shortage.

"I never leave my telephone from 9 a. m. to 1:15, when there is an active market," she said.

KIRKWOOD'S PLAN TO ANNEX TERRITORY IS ABANDONED

Mayor Stops Publication in Paper of Official Notice of Election on the Question.

Kirkwood's proposal to annex surrounding territory, increasing its area from three to 14 square miles, has been killed. Mayor Edward Beecher announced today that he had stopped publication in a paper of the suburb of official notice of the election on the question, which was to have been held Feb. 14. Without this notice, he said, the election would be invalid.

In addition, a caucus of four of the eight members of the Board of Aldermen last night, held in absence of a quorum, showed that an ordinance to repeal the proposal will be carried at the regular meeting next Monday night. The four men were unanimous for the repeal, and as two of the Aldermen will be away for some time, the four will constitute a majority of those present next Monday.

The board initiated the proposal, believing citizens of the suburb and surrounding territory favored annexation, but the Mayor said, withdrawal was decided on because there is no desire to force people into the town, and opposition has sprung up outside. Two bond issues will be voted on Feb. 14.

FRED BURKE, SUSPECT IN U. R. HOLDUP, GETS BOND IN DETROIT

Police Here Doubt Chance of Bringing Egan Gangster Back Here for Investigation.

The police are in doubt now about the chance of arresting Fred Burke, Egan gangster and ex-convict, charged in a warrant issued yesterday with participation in the daring holdup of the United Railways Co. office July 2, 1923, when $38,000 was taken.

Burke had been in jail at Detroit since last March in connection with a jewelry store holdup, and the authorities there had refused to surrender him to the St. Louis police, but yesterday a telegram was received saying Burke could be had.

Today, while a detective was preparing to go to Detroit for Burke, another telegram came, saying Burke had been released on $5000 bond, "hurry if you want him." With Burke at liberty the chance of getting him is small, the police think, but the detective will try anyway. Burke's rogues' gallery picture was identified a year ago as that of one of the United Railways robbers.

SENATE ACTION EXEMPTS PAPERS FROM RATE INCREASE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A proposal to reduce second-class mail rates to the 1920 level was rejected by the Senate today as an amendment to the postal pay and rate increase bill.

Defeat of the amendment offered by Senator George (Dem.), Georgia, by a vote of 43 to 36, opened the way for action on the increase in these rates proposed in the bill.

A proposal to make the 1920 rates effective only to newspapers then was defeated also, 65 to 31, on motion of Senator McKellar (Dem.), Tennessee.

On motion of Senator Oddie (Rep.), Nevada, the Senate then voted to exempt publications subject to first and second zone mail rates from the 1-cent-a-pound increase in rate proposed in the bill. As a result the rate on second-class mail sent in the first two zones is retained at 2 cents a pound.

CHAPMAN MAY ENTER MAYORALTY RACE

City License Collector Looking Into Situation Before Making His Decision.

City License Collector Oliver G. Chapman said today that he intended to "look further into the mayoralty situation" before he made a definite decision in the matter of becoming a candidate for the Republican nomination in the March primary. He had indicated late yesterday afternoon that he contemplated with certainty his entry into the race.

Chapman conferred at some length yesterday with Collector Koeln, who had originally expressed a preference for Comptroller Nolte as a "compromise candidate" of the various Republican factions. Nolte eliminated himself by filing for Comptroller yesterday. Koeln has not settled upon any candidate as yet.

The statement of Chapman yesterday that he probably would be a candidate came as a surprise to some Republican politicians. He has been a strong candidate and has a distinct following in the ranks of business men but few believed he contemplated a campaign for the mayoralty nomination.

Women Discuss Eliminating Primary Fight in Democratic Ranks.

The elimination of a serious contest within party ranks for the Democratic nomination for Mayor was discussed yesterday by the St. Louis Women's Democratic Club at the home of Miss Mary Semple Scott, 6054 Pershing avenue. Names of candidates were not mentioned in the discussion, but the matter of an indorsement will be given consideration later.

It is the belief of club members that Democrats should evade a primary fight in order that their forces may begin to work as a unit immediately and continue through election day. The club now has organizations in 14 wards, distinct from the regular party organization, and proposes to extend its scope through a membership drive.

A meeting will be held, probably at the Town Club, within the next 10 days, which will be devoted to the mayoralty situation.

Mrs. Charles Ellis Named Head of Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Charles Ellis was elected president of the Republican Women's Club at a meeting yesterday at the club's headquarters in the Century Building. Other officers elected were Mrs. E. E. Rudolph, first vice president; Mrs. Charles M. Hoyt, third vice president; Mrs. Charles Homan, fifth vice president; Mrs. Walter J. G. Neun, secretary, and Mrs. W. T. Nardin, auditor.

Directors elected were Mrs. Lon O. Hocker, Mrs. Gilbert Fox, Mrs. Walter Diehm, Mrs. Philip Fischer, Mrs. N. P. Zimmer, Mrs. Otto Hampe, Mrs. A. Kempa and Mrs. Alfred Eiseman. Four new members were elected to the board to fill vacancies. They are Mrs. T. B. Jeffords, Mrs. G. F. Graner, Mrs. N. B. Dewey and Mrs. Marie Frain. The board also selected Mrs. George Dietz to serve as treasurer.

NEGRO CHAUFFEUR FINED $300 FOR 35TH TRAFFIC VIOLATION

Driver Who Is Termed Most Arrested Man in History of Bureau Draws Heavy Assessment.

James Palmer, 25 years old, a negro service car driver, was fined $300 by Police Judge Homer today when he was tried on his thirty-fifth arrest on a traffic violation charge. Capt. Gerk, who prepared a record of Palmer's delinquencies, yesterday described him as the most arrested man in the history of the Traffic Bureau.

Today Palmer was charged with parking on Olive street during a no-parking period, Dec. 15. Patrolman Fishel testified he gave his name as "James Balm" and that the case was continued four times before officers identified the much-arrested Palmer as "Balm."

Palmer denied almost everything. He admitted five of 10 arrests and two or three fines. He accounted for the others by explaining he had a brother and some friends who had the habit of using his name when arrested. Witnesses testified that on Dec. 15 Palmer was ill and spent the day at his home, 3966 Enright avenue. He indicated he would appeal from the unusually large fine.

The police record of 35 arrests dates back to 1919 and includes 13 fines ranging from $5 to $50, and 14 different traffic charges. The $50 fine was imposed Dec. 31 and is now under appeal.

BOARDER SHOOTS LANDLADY

Debtor for Board Bill Wounds Woman and Cuts Own Throat.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BOWLING GREEN, Mo., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Geo. Singbush, 35 years old, wife of a Pike County farmer living 10 miles south of here, is near death in a Mexico, Mo., hospital with five bullets in her body, and Christ Prower, 35, her assailant, is expected to die of razor slashes about the throat.

Prower, who had lived with the Singbush family, owned a board bill. He asked Mrs. Singbush to step into another room yesterday. He then shot her through the breast, cheek, chin, left arm and abdomen. Prower pulled out a razor and stepping before a mirror, cut his own throat. He ran a half mile and was found by a neighbor,

VICTIM OF BICYCLE RIDDEN ON SIDEWALK

MRS. ALICE SAUNDERS.

FUNERAL TODAY OF WOMAN FATALLY HURT BY BICYCLE

Mrs. Alice Saunders, 70, Was Struck From Behind Jan. 5 by Jack Bascom, 9, as He Rode on Sidewalk

Jack Bascom, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bascom, 5715 McPherson avenue, must appear at an inquest in the case of Mrs. Alice Saunders, 70, who died Tuesday night of injuries suffered Jan. 5, when she was hit by the boy's bicycle near her home at 5707 McPherson avenue.

Mrs. Saunders was walking on the sidewalk when she was struck from behind and knocked down by the bicycle. Suffering internal injuries and a fractured hip, Mrs. Saunders was taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where she died. She had stated she would not prosecute, but police ordered that the boy be produced at the inquest.

Funeral services for Mrs. Saunders will be held today at an undertaker's chapel at 4449 Olive street, after which the body will be sent to Stanardsville, Va., for burial. She is survived by a son, Eugene.

GIRL FOUND TO HAVE DIED FROM LOBAR PNEUMONIA

Inquest Conducted at Request of Parents Because Three Physicians Had Disagreed in Diagnosis.

The death of Violet Guiney, 6-year-old daughter of Henry and Grace Guiney, 1532A Olive street, which occurred Monday, was caused by lobar pneumonia, according to the report of a Coroner's physician, who performed an autopsy today. A verdict of death from natural causes was returned by the Coroner upon receipt of the report.

The child's parents requested an investigation of the death because, they allege, three physicians diagnosed their daughter's condition as smallpox, tonsilitis and pneumoina, respectively. The parents also stated Violet had been vaccinated at school two weeks ago by a physician from Barnes Hospital. The autopsy report states the vaccination in no way influenced the child's fatal illness.

DU PONT TO COMPLETE DEAL HERE SOON

Head of Powder Company Silent on Transaction After Six Weeks in St. Louis.

Alfred I. Du Pont, head of the Du Pont de Nemours Powder Co. of Wilmington, Del., who has spent the greater part of the last six weeks in St. Louis, said today, when seen by a Post-Dispatch reporter at Hotel Jefferson, that he was here looking over "business interests," the nature of which he could not disclose at present. He will depart in a few days, he said, but will return later to complete a pending deal and will then have an announcement to make.

Du Pont, as is known, is a member of the famous Delaware family of Du Ponts and is chief stockholder of the powder company, which is the largest explosives manufacturing concern in the world. His fortune is estimated at $400,000,000.

Especial interest has attached to Du Pont's protracted visit to St. Louis in view of reports that a deal of considerable magnitude was pending. Last August, it will be recalled, the Du Pont company spread its interests to Missouri with the purchase of the General Explosives Co., a million dollar concern, eight miles northwest of Joplin.

Du Pont is accompanied by his wife, who, prior to her marriage in 1921, was Miss Jessie Ball of Los Angeles, member of an old Virginia family founded in 1631 by Col. William Ball, grandfather of George Washington.

JAMESPORT, MO., BANK CLOSED

Board of Directors of People's Exchange Takes Action.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—The People's Exchange Bank of Jamesport, Mo., was closed today by order of the board of directors and placed in the hands of the State Finance Department. It was the sixth State bank closed since the first of the year, an average of one every four days for the 24 banking business days thus far this month. Finance Commissioner Millspaugh said he did not know the cause of the closing. Bank Examiner F. A. Guiles was placed in charge.

The People's Exchange Bank of Jamesport in 1923 took over the affairs of the People's Bank of Carlow, which closed on May 3, 1923. At the time of the closing today the Jamesport Bank was carrying a liquidation account of $17,014 for the Carlow Bank. The last statement of condition of the People's Exchange Bank of Jamesport, on Dec. 31 last, shows deposits $182,595, loans $121,283, capital stock $20,000, surplus $10,000, bills payable $5000, total resources $221,878.

WASTE OF MOTOR FUEL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—An average of 30 per cent of the available power of gasoline as a motor fuel is being wasted by its discharge in the engine exhaust in the form of combustible gases, the Bureau of Mines has determined. The bureau today declared improper carburetor adjustment was largely responsible.

"The average carburetor," a report said, "was found to be adjusted too far on the right side."

$400 TAKEN IN HOLDUP OF LAUNDRY OFFICE

Robbers Cover Two Occupants With Revolvers and Rifle Cashier's Desk.

An armed robber, described as "about 40, red-faced and flat-nosed," worked with speed and precision in holding up the office of the Justin Flint Laundry Co. at 4234 Finney avenue, yesterday afternoon, and backed out of the place, with his companion, with $400 in currency.

The companion, described as "young, sallow-faced and long-nosed," stood guard at the outer door, his revolver covering the two occupants of the office—James Tracey, 2329 Lafayette avenue, the cashier, and Miss Catherine Murray, 4129 Shaw boulevard. The other robber threw back the door of the safe, but found it empty. A moment later he had ransacked the drawers of the cashier's desk, in one of which he found the money, which represented drivers' collections.

Returns Driver's Money After Holding Up Laundry Truck.

An armed robber boarded the truck operated by Joseph A. Meln, 2807 Texas avenue, driver for another laundry, in front of 1557 Hogan street, about 5 p. m. and commanded the driver to keep on going. At Hogan, near O'Fallon street, the robber took $50 from the driver. "How much of this is yours?" the robber queried. On learning the amount, the robber returned $13, but remarked he would also have to take the truck. It was found an hour later abandoned near 2400 Dickson street.

August Hanel, a grocer at 3498 Cherokee street, last night received a telephone order for groceries, amounting to $1.61, with a request that he send change for a $20 bill. The voice identified its owner as a man living at 2617 McDonald avenue. The grocer sent two youthful clerks with the goods and change. Upon their arrival the pseudo purchaser tenedered the $20, received the goods and change and then drew a revolver. "Tell Mr. Hanel I'll send him a check," he remarked, and turned and fled.

Police of the Carondelet station, investigating a reported Kroger store robbery at 9377 South Broadway, just beyond the city limits, at 7:15 a. m. today, learned from the manager, Earl Pemberton, that a lone armed robber had forced him to lie on the floor while he rifled the cash register of $97.10. The robber vanished, apparently having boarded a county bus, which opportunely came along just at the time.

A man who entered the shoe store of Christ Merke, 2731 Lafayette avenue, last night, made a selection of a pair of shoes, had them wrapped up and delivered, and then reached into his pocket, as though to draw out his money. Instead he drew a revolver and demanded the merchant's money. Merke showed where it was hid—$28, under a newspaper on a table in a rear room. The robber scooped up the money, grabbed the shoes and ran out. Merke gave chase and fired two shots, but the robber escaped.

Kline's-End-Of-The-Month

ONE DAY SALE

Beginning Friday Morning at 9 o'clock

THIS one-day sale will be a Kline institution. Those who attend the first sale will anxiously await the ones that follow. On this occasion small lots and odds and ends will be offered at prices that will arouse the greatest buying enthusiasm. Our customers are urged to be here when the store opens Friday morning. We want them to share in the wonderful bargains that may be secured.

The very nature of this sale prevents our listing the merchandise offered and mentioning the prices. You can appreciate that it would be impossible for us to supply the demand if we published descriptions of the goods and the extreme low prices at which they will be offered.

For example, there will be 30 imported dresses and 65 silk dresses in our better dress section at prices so low that there would be a demand for thousands of them if we made the facts known.

There will be fur-trimmed coats offered for so little that they will sell out quickly after the doors are opened. Naturally, when they are gone those who came later would be skeptical in believing that such bargains ever existed.

There will be 118 pieces of silk lingerie and 300 pieces of cotton at prices we dare not mention because the quantities are limited and the supply would not equal the demand.

And so on throughout the store you will find marvelous bargains in small quantities of merchandise. There will be fur coats in this sale at prices which are absolutely ridiculous.

There will be shoes, millinery, hosiery, blouses, skirts, petticoats, juniors' apparel, jewelry novelties, all offered for so little that the reputation of this event will be established in one day.

In the Basement Salesroom there will also be wonderful bargains. Coats of every description. Dresses in great varieties and fairly good quantities will be offered at the same ratio of reductions.

Remember the quantities are limited. The values are remarkable. This sale is for one day. We do not promise that any lot of merchandise will be obtainable any length of time. Those who are fortunate in finding what they want bearing a one-day sale ticket will secure values that are far beyond their expectations.

ONE-DAY SALE

BEFORE STOCK-TAKING

TWICE each year prior to inventory when we go through our stocks, we assemble broken lots, sample lines and odds and ends for our ONE-DAY SALE and mark them at prices extremely low in order to insure quick disposal.

Customers who have attended these sales on past occasions will recollect how extraordinary were the values offered and will need no further invitation. We stress the importance of the occasion and urge prompt attendance Friday morning, in order to secure the full advantages.

The very nature of the sale precludes the possibility of detailed description, or even mere listing, as the offerings are too numerous and varied, and quantities are limited—in some instances one or two of a kind—and their exploitation would create demands beyond our power to fulfill.

One must use one's imagination to visualize the vast quantities of items gathered here and there throughout the store to conceive the tremendous scope of the offering.

For instance, the Jewelry Department will sell myriads of novelties at extreme concessions; the Linens will be offered at a fraction of their usual cost; Dresses in the Costume Room at reductions that are astonishing. The Downstairs Store will abound with bargains—look for merchandise displayed with ONE-DAY SALE tags on every floor; you will find them to be guide-posts to important savings.

We adopt this selling method to effect a final clearing, and promise that the values will more than justify the reputation for value-giving that these sales enjoy.

We particularly urge the attendance of our regular customers, that they may fully share in the extraordinary bargains.

RUSSIA PUTS CURB ON DRUG TRAFFIC

Decree Prohibits "Free Circulation" of Substances Injurious to Health.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and New York World.

GENEVA, Jan. 29.—It was learned today at the opium conference that Russia has taken independent measures for drastic control of narcotics within her borders.

A decree was issued in Moscow, Nov. 14, prohibiting "free circulation of all powerful substances usable for various kinds of intoxication or which act destructively upon the population's health, such as opium and cocaine products."

Furthermore the Soviet Health Commissariat demanded immediate declaration of stocks and production and strict regulation of narcotic imports and exports.

The American commission yesterday won a point before the subcommission of the conference through the adoption of an amendment that all estimates of opium and narcotics which countries are to import during the succeeding year should cover both medical and scientific needs, "and the amounts required for other purposes."

This means that countries having Eastern possessions where opium is smoked will be asked to estimate in advance their requirements for this usage.

The estimates to be made by the various governments will not be binding, but will serve as a guide to the central board. Another clause adopted gives the board the right to watch the course of international trade in narcotics and to ask for explanations if it thinks any country is accumulating excessive quantities of opium and narcotic drugs.

OYSTER BEDS TO BE INSPECTED

Illinois Health Director Orders Epidemiologist to Maryland.

By the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 29.—Dr. I. D. Rawlings, State Director of Public Health, tonight issued a statement in which he declared the dispatches from Baltimore intimating that Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, Chicago Health Commissioner has given blanket approval to Chesapeake oyster beds are unsatisfactory. "The investigation of Dr. Bundesen was too brief and cursory to be conclusive," said Dr. Rawlings.

Dr. Rawlings has wired Gov. Ritchie of Maryland that Dr. S. S. Winner, epidemiologist from the Illinois Health Department, has been ordered to Baltimore with instructions to make a full study of the oyster beds, shucking processes, health of the oyster shuckers and conditions under which oysters are shipped. The Maryland authorities are requested in the message to cooperate in the work.

BAKERS QUIT; WHEAT TOO HIGH

British Housewives Hard Hit by Rise in U. S. Grain Prices.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—The rising prices on the American wheat market are being watched with anxiety here, the housewives awaiting announcement of another increase in the costs of the family loaf.

The price of flour has risen steadily for the last few weeks and yesterday another shilling (24 cents) was added to the price of a sack of standard grade in London. Outside the city the increase was 2 shillings. Small bakers in some towns are at their wits' end for supplies, saying they lose 12 shillings on every sack they buy. Some of them, in Glasgow, have ceased baking, depending on the large factories for supplies to meet the needs of their customers.

MRS. STOKES TO PRESS CHARGE

By the Associated Press.

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 29.—Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes will prosecute vigorously charges of conspiracy to defame her character against W. E. D. Stokes, wealthy New York hotel owner, and Daniel F. Nugent, his attorney; W. W. Smith, assistant State's Attorney from Chicago, said today after conference with Mrs. Stokes.

Smith said Stokes' trial, scheduled to start in Chicago, Feb. 4, would not be delayed and that Mrs. Stokes would be in Chicago at that time or shortly afterward to testify in court.

O'BRIEN PLEADS FOR HIGHER POLICE PAY

Chief Cites Examples of Attempts to Support Families on Small Salaries.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—Chief of Police O'Brien of St. Louis was the principal speaker in behalf of a bill to increase salaries of St. Louis members of the police department in sums totaling approximately $1,300,000 at a public hearing before the House Committee in Municipal Corporations yesterday.

He cited numerous examples of policemen who were compelled to support large families on meager salaries, thus increasing the temptation to accept gratuities from other sources. He declared that $145 a month was insufficient to enable them to rear families in proper environments and to maintain a decent standard of living.

Speaker Parker, one of the House members who introduced the measure, also spoke in favor of its passage, contending that policemen should not be compelled to live "on starvation wages." Harry W. Blodgett, legislative agent of the city, announced that Comptroller Nolte is preparing a statement showing the financial condition of the city and that he wishes to appear before the committee. The figures will be presented at 3 o'clock tomorrow.

Salary raises are proposed as follows: Chief of Police, $5000 to $8000; assistant chief, $4000 to $5000; chief of detectives, $4000 to $5000; secretary of board, $2700 to $4000; inspector, $2800 to $4000; secretary to the chief, $2300 to $3800; Bertillon superintendent, $2400 to $4000; 17 captains $2700 to $3200; 29 lieutenants, $2400 to $3200; 100 sergeants, $2000 to $2800; 1150 patrolmen, $1740 to $2500; 150 probationary patrolmen, $1250 to $2000; 35 turnkeys $1320 to $2000; drillmaster, $2000 to $2800.

Schweitzer Has Bill to Increase Assistants' Salaries.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—Prosecuting Attorney Schweitzer of St. Louis is here today with several bills to add one assistant to his staff and provide salary increases for all the assistants that would add $5500 a year to the salary bill of the Prosecuting Attorney's office.

Schweitzer's staff now includes two associates, paid $3000 a year, and one assistant, paid $2500 a year. The bills provide for designating the associate prosecutors as assistants and adding one more assistant to the staff. It is proposed to pay two of the assistants salaries of $4000 a year and the other two $3000 a year.

Another bill calls for increasing the Prosecuting Attorney's contingent fund for apprehension and return of criminals from $2000 a year to $4000. The bills probably will be introduced tomorrow.

Schweitzer said the enlargement of his staff was necessary because of an increase in the number of liquor cases and wife and child abandonment cases handled by his office. He declared the number of liquor and abandonment cases brought to his office had more than tripled in the last five years.

A bill now is pending in the House which would enable the Circuit Attorney and Prosecuting Attorney of St. Louis each to appoint a clerk at a salary of $5000 a year. That bill does not prescribe the duties of the clerks to be appointed for the two offices, merely stating that they shall perform such duties as may be assigned to them by the officer appointing them.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The daily average gross crude oil production in the United States decreased 20,450 barrels for the week ended Jan. 24, totaling 2,003,200, according to the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute.

Missouri School Destroyed by Fire.

By the Associated Press.

SEDALIA, Mo., Jan. 29.—Pin Oak rural school, nine miles southeast of here, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The 25 students were led to safety by Miss Dixie Pemberton, teacher.

TAKE BOTH TOGETHER

Milk of Magnesia and Mineral Oil now Combined

One of the most important medical achievements of recent years is the combination of milk of magnesia and mineral oil. Haley's Magnesia-Oil successfully combines the two, and makes them doubly effective.

The oil carries the magnesia straight to the lower bowel, the seat of most so-called stomach trouble. All of the antacid properties of the milk of magnesia are applied to correcting the trouble at its source. Poisonous acids are neutralized, clogged tracts are lubricated—at one and the same time. Action is prompt, but devoid of griping. Delightful to take; no oily taste. Can be mixed with milk and given children without their knowledge.

Get a bottle of Haley's Magnesia-Oil today. Most druggists sell it. If yours can't supply you we will mail a bottle postpaid on receipt of price. Large family size, $1. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

$225 Two-Piece Genuine Mohair Living-Room Suite

WE believe this is the biggest Living-Room value in St. Louis today. The Suite, as illustrated, is covered in genuine mohair on all wearable surfaces; only the back and arms being covered in velour.

TO insure long and satisfactory service, we have insisted that each Suite be made of full eight-knot full-spring construction, which is unusual in a Suite at such a low price.

BOTH the chair and davenport are unusually roomy. The davenport is full 78 inches long, a roomy, comfortable place where a full-sized person may lie down in comfort.

YOU will instantly recognize this unusual value. We want to emphasize that it is only one of many other exceptional values in Dining-Room, Bedroom and Living-Room Suites, as well as many occasional pieces for all over the house.

STABBED MAN WHO FLIRTED WITH WIFE

Wealthy Chicago Surgeon, Sued for $25,000 by Broker, Admits Attacking Latter.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Dr. William Fuller, wealthy physician, former member of the faculty of the University of Illinois, freely admitted to a jury in Judge Hugo Pam's court that he had stabbed Charles H. Castle, 62 years old, a broker, in front of the Chicago Athletic Club two years ago, because the latter had flirted with Mrs. Fuller.

"There is a law protecting a man against the thief who steals gold and silver from him," said Attorney Edwin Hedrick, representing Fuller, "but the strong arm of the husband alone can keep inviolate the sanctity of his wife and family."

The stabbing occurred in the woman's entrance to the athletic club. The jury is hearing Castle's $25,000 suit for injuries suffered as a result of the physician's attack with a pocket knife.

Fuller not only admitted stabbing his rival in the cheek, but said that on another occasion he struck Castle over the head with his cane when he found him in a church with his arm around Mrs. Fuller.

"This other man tampered with his wife," said Attorney Hedrick. "And his only redress was the unwritten law by which a man protects his home."

Castle often purchased tickets for lectures for himself and Mr. and Mrs. Fuller, the doctor testified.

"He always arranged for the tickets and would never fail to arrange it so that he would sit between me and my wife," the doctor testified. "Then he would put his arm around her, squeeze her hand and hold her arm during the lecture."

When Mrs. Fuller would excuse herself at a party Castle invariably would be found missing a few minutes later, Fuller testified.

ST. LOUIS-MEMPHIS DIRIGIBLE AIR ROUTE IS PLANNED

Memphis Bus Line Owner Says He Hopes to Start Service Within Two Years.

By the Associated Press.

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Jan. 29.—With the purchase of two dirigibles in contemplation, an air route from Memphis to St. Louis within the next two years is planned by H. M. Gregory, president of the Gregory Bus Line of Memphis.

"This air route is no idle dream of mine or my associates," Gregory said. "We intend inaugurating the service, but it requires time."

Gregory said the time for covering the distance of 300 miles would be three hours or less by dirigible. Under present operation costs he figured each passenged would have to pay about $20 one way or about $35 for the round trip.

One of the most perplexing problems is a landing place at Memphis, Cairo and St. Louis, Gregory wants to unload his passengers in the heart of the three cities. "I believe it is quite possible to have a tall, flat-roofed building in each city for a landing, with elevators running from the ground to the roof," Gregory said.

AUTO USED IN COLLINSVILLE MAIL HOLDUP BELIEVED FOUND

Abandoned Buick Containing Empty Mail Pouches Stood on Street in East St. Louis.

A Buick touring car, supposed to have been the one used by the robbers who held up James Mathies, a mail messenger at Collinsville, Ill., of a pouch containing $15,000, Tuesday, was found by Detective Joseph G. Schrader of East St. Louis on an East St. Louis street yesterday.

Schrader, who is a special Deputy Sheriff and private detective, noticed the car parked on a street on his way home Tuesday night. Seeing it still there yesterday morning, he examined it and found two empty mail pouches in it. He placed it in a garage and notified the postoffice inspectors.

The car bore license No. 72-723, which was stolen from the Ford automobile of Oscar Voelker, 423 North Twenty-sixth street, recently.

First—Stop Pain Don't suffer for an hour

When pain comes, stop it. Be ever ready to stop it quickly, night or day. Don't suffer any pain which a moment of rubbing can stop.

These include pains allied to rheumatism, to soreness, to lameness, to chest colds. They can be stopped at once. For 65 years they have been stopped by rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil.

As for curing the cause of the trouble. Nature usually does that. But don't suffer while you wait. St. Jacobs Oil causes counter irritation. Then it draws the blood to the surface to relieve congestion. In a minute or two you feel that the pain has ebbed. You rejoice in relief.

Perhaps there are other ways. But this is the one way that millions have used—have proved it for 65 years. You can rely on it. Your druggist guarantees it. Why take chances when you know that nothing can be better?

Don't wait for an emergency. It may mean a night of pain. Have St. Jacobs Oil ever ready. Apply it as soon as you feel a pain or a chest cold. Be ready to soothe it, to check it at once. There will never be a better way. So get it now to be prepared when pain comes. It may save to you and yours many unhappy hours.

She Says:

"I Am Thin"

Her Friend Says:

"She Is Skinny"

If she only knew that she could put on at least 5 pounds of good healthy flesh in 30 days she wouldn't be worrying about her peaked face, hollow cheeks and neck and run-down looks.

She has tried Cod Liver Oil, but the ill-smelling, nasty tasting stuff upset her stomach and made her feel worse than before.

Doctors and good pharmacists know that Cod Liver Oil is full of vitalizing vitamines that make flesh, creates appetite, restores vigor, builds up the power to resist disease and chases away nervousness.

But it's horrible tasting stuff and every day fewer people are taking it, for doctors are prescribing and the people are fast learning that they can get better results with McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets, which Wolff-Wilson, Judge & Dolph Drug Stores, Enderle Drug Co., Johnson Bros. Drug Co. and druggists all over the country are having a tremendous demand for.

It is a wonderful upbuilding medicine for skinny, backward children, especially after sickness, and 60 tablets only cost 60 cents.

One woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days, and if any skinny man or woman can't put on 5 pounds in 30 days your druggist will gladly return the purchase price.

But be sure and get McCoy's, the original and genuine Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablet.

CITY PAYS OVER CHECK TO WIDEN OLIVE ST.

Property Owners on South Side Ordered to Move Back 40 Feet Within 90 Days.

A check for $1,939.604, to cover damages arising from the widening of Olive street from Twelfth boulevard to Channing avenue, was paid over to Circuit Court, Division No. 2 by Comptroller Nolte today. The money will be used to pay property owners in the affected district amounts assessed against the city by special commissioners of the court.

Immediately after receipt of the money, notices were sent out to 170 property owners in the affected district to arrange to move back or remodel their properties within 90 days.

The properties are all on the south side of Olive street, which will be moved back 40 feet under the street-widening plan. The only exceptions to the 90-day rule are in the case of big buildings such as the Century Electric Co.'s, at Nineteenth and Olive streets, and the Lesser-Goldman Building, at Seventeenth and Olive streets, which are given eight months. Several property owners have already told the city they are ready to begin improvement.

The money for damages was provided by an item of $3,000,000 for street widenings and openings included in the recent $87,000,000 bond issue. The sum advanced by the city will be returned to it through special assessment against the property benefited by the plan.

The work of widening the street is to begin as soon as the property owners have completed the moving or remodeling. It is estimated that the task will be completed in about a year.

FUNDS FOR FAMILY OF FOUR WALKING TO MARYLAND SOUGHT

Police Capt. Loepker Appeals to Travelers' Aid Association to Raise Railroad Fare.

John H. Rosenthal, 29 years old, who, with his wife and two children, Mary 5, and John 6, are walking from Los Angeles to Baltimore, went this morning in Police Headquarters holdover, where he asked to spend the night, because he had not been released and permitted to continue the long hike with his family.

"I never did anything wrong in my life; I don't see why they are keeping me locked up," he said.

Rosenthal did not know that Police Captain Charles H. Loepker personally was endeavoring to raise money to send them to Maryland. The Police Captain had appealed to the Travelers' Aid Association and said that in the event he could not obtain help there he would ask Mayor Kiel to furnish funds. "A most deserving case," he said.

Rosenthal had 20 cents this morning. He said he left Los Angeles nine weeks ago and was going to Maryland where he has parents, a sister and brother. He has employment in a rubber factory when he reaches there.

His wife and two bright-eyed children spent the night in the police matron's rooms. The children were comfortably clothed, but Rosenthal and his wife were poorly dressed. They have reached St. Louis by walking and rides given them by motorists. Railroad employes at Jefferson City gave them transportation to St. Louis.

RENEWS PLEA FOR $30,000 TO FIX FREE BRIDGE ROADWAY

Commission Engineer Says Buckling of Surface Has Caused Large Mounds to Rise.

C. S. Butts, engineer of the City Bridge Commission, in renewing a request for an appropriation of $30,000 to repave portions of the approaches to the Free Bridge, has called the attention of Deputy Comptroller Gunn to the present condition of the roadway.

At intervals the wooden paving blocks between the tracks, which run at the outer edges of the elevated highway, have been caused by the weather to swell and bulge, the resultant buckling producing mound-like surfaces in some instances 18 inches high and running for 20 to 30 feet. In heavy traffic passing motorists are forced to proceed in zigzag fashion. Butts explained that recently he had paved the center section of the bridge with asphalt, which had relieved the condition. His request for the $30,000 was denied by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment last year.

MISSING PIANIST NOT FOUND

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The unexplained absence of Miss Ethel Leginska, the English pianist, who vanished just before she was to play at Carnegie Hall Monday night, took so grave an aspect yesterday that Capt. Arthur A. Carey, in charge of the homicide squad, decided to look into the mystery.

Capt. Carey asked Miss Lucille Oliver, secretary and companion of Miss Leginska, who was with her just before she was seen running from her home to his office today. Miss Oliver was badly worried last night. She had received no word from Miss Leginska and had nothing but hope to rely on. If the weather during the past few days had only been more reasonable, she said, there would not be such cause for worry. But Leginska was dressed in what might be described as a modernistic Lord Fauntleroy for women, without a hat.

Pneumonia Takes Heavy Toll

The appalling number of deaths from pneumonia each Winter warns of the grave danger that often lurks in a common cold. Statistics show that about 12 out of every 100 deaths in America are caused by this terrible scourge.

Remember, that any chest cold, if neglected, may develop into pneumonia. You can easily avoid the danger by breaking up your cold at the start—before the lungs are seriously affected. Just melt a spoonful of "Deo" in a tin plate and take in deep breaths of the soothing, healing vapor. Do this night and morning and see how quickly your cold will vanish.

There's nothing like the "Deo" Vapor treatment for coughs, croup, sore throat or catarrh. Money back if it doesn't give prompt relief. Tubes or jars 50c at drug stores everywhere. Dennis Eucalyptus Ointment Co., makers, Berkeley, Cal.

RUPTURE

Not a Pathological Condition

Hernia or rupture is not a pathological condition, but purely a local muscular weakness, and in the average the condition readily responds to the principles utilized in the PLAPAO-MECHANICO-CHEMICO system — adapted to restore strength and tonicity to the affected muscles, to re-establish a normal condition, after which time the rupture is no more.

The Plapao Laboratories, Inc., 1114 Locust St., have been manufacturing under two patents—Stuart's Adhesif Plapao-Pad for rupture and sending them out to rupture sufferers all over the world since 1906, hereby announce the opening of a special department in charge of a competent orthopaedic and leading exponent of the PLAPAO-MECHANICO-CHEMICO system for rupture, for the accommodation of those suffering from this affliction, in the St. Louis district.

You who are ruptured call by all means and that right soon. To obtain information will put you under no obligation, and it may mean much to you. We also have Ped-o-Pads for foot troubles, the bane of man's existence. Remember the address, 1114 Locust St.

FIELDING HAS PLAN TO FILM THE FAMILY

Plans to Offer 50-Foot 'Shots' Before Any Studio Set for $65.

The family photograph, or "still," is to follow the family album into the discard if plans of Romaine Fielding and his associates in the University Motion Picture Studios are successful.

The family group in repose is to be supplanted by the family photo-film, personally directed by Fielding at $65 for the first 50 feet and $1 per foot for all feet thereafter, or at least that is the company's plan.

Fielding is the former president and production manager of the General Film Manufacturing Corporation, against which receivership proceedings were brought last year. The concern's stock selling permit was also revoked and it finally quit. The University Studios have no conection with the former concern, according to S. B. Hughes, field manager for the present enterprise.

Animating the Family.

The proposal to animate the family or any other group was outlined amidst a number of rather stiff and "hand-painted" sets at the company's studios in the Egyptian Building, 6800 Delmar boulevard, by Hughes today. He earnestly announced that the movie projection machine would take its place, along with the victrola and the radio, in the average home within five years, and that in less than 20 years the personal movie will be as ordinary as the photograph today.

Instead of turning on the light and displaying the family photo, the future system, according to Hughes, will be to turn off the light and project the photo-film.

It is the desire of the company to do most of the filming at the studios. "We can supply any sort of set," Hughes stated with enthusiasm. "We can 'shoot them' standing on the lofty crags of the Canadian Rockies, or lounging on a Florida beach. It is all a matter of taste and 15 minutes' work with the sets."

Fielding to Be Director.

All photo-films will be directed by Fielding, whom Hughes styled "the original two-gun man," and former director of numerous film luminaries. A rehearsal will precede the actual filming and the set and the action must meet with Fielding's approval before the camera man turns the crank.

"After the individual or family have themselves 'shot,' how are they going to display the film in the absence of a projection machine?" the reporter inquired. "Ah, that is our big talking point," Hughes answered. "The original fee includes the services of an operator and projection machine once monthly for 12 months. At the expiration of that time it is to be hoped that every customer will purchase a projection machine, which we will offer to sell them at prices ranging from $7 to $300."

PUBLISHER DENIES HE 'HAD ANYTHING' ON ADVERTISERS

Defense Counsel Asks Reason for Not Calling to Stand Persons Named in Trial.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Stephen G. Clow, publisher of Broadway Brevities, on trial with three of his advertising solicitors for misuse of the mails, testified before Federal Judge Mack and a jury yesterday that he never has known or heard anything of an "unfavorable or unsavory nature" about any of the wealthy and prominent persons named in Tuesday's testimony as having paid Clow various sums for "advertising."

These "advertisers" included Otto H. Kahn, James B. Seaman, Julius Fleischmann, Arthur S. Friend, Arch Selwyn, Paul Bonwit, Tex Rickard, Frank J. Godsol, Col. Jacob Ruppert, Percival Hill, W. Averell Harriman and Jesse Lasky.

William J. Fallon, of counsel for the defendants, put Assistant United States Attorney Mattuck on the stand and asked him why the Government had not subpenaed as witnesses such men as Kahn and the others. Fallon accused the prosecution of trying to "becloud the issue through suggestion and innuendo" by the use of the names of prominent persons.

Motorman Burned Replacing Fuse.

She had just stepped off the car and was carrying her youngest child and leading August. When she attempted to cross in front of the street car it started, knocking her down and throwing the baby from her arms. They were treated by a neighborhood physician and sent home.

ASQUITH RETAINS LEADERSHIP

British Liberal Party Head Denies Resigning That Post.

By the Associated Press.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Rumors widely prevalent since the announcement of former Premier Asquith's elevation to the peerage that he would relinquish the active leadership of the Liberal party to David Lloyd George were set at rest for the time being at least when speaking at the opening of the great convention of the Liberal party here today he said: "I have not resigned my post. It is therefore in that character that I presume once more to speak to you."

Lloyd George, who followed the new Earl of Oxford, in addressing the convention, also let it be known emphatically that he did not seek the long time leader's post. "I accepted Mr. Asquith's leadership without reserve," Lloyd George said, "and I have no reason now to alter my views."

SOVIET DENIES FRENCH LOANS

Agreement Only Through a Compromise, Krassin Declares.

By the Associated Press.

MOSCOW, Jan. 29.—The Soviet Government cannot recognize French loans to former Russian Governments, according to an interview given by Lenoid Krassin, the Soviet Ambassador to France, upon his arrival here from Paris. The Ambassador added that if an agreement was desired on the debt issue it could be reached only by compromise.

"If France could only give the Soviet Government sufficient long-term credits to re-establish the Russian economic position," he said, "then my Government probably would agree to acknowledge part of the sums owing France, such as those due small bondholders and private persons. So far, however, we have not entered into actual negotiations with France on any of the disputed matters."

MEANS ADMITS CONSPIRACY

Spirited Away Documents Submitted to Senate Investigation.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Gaston B. Means identified a statement bearing his signature in which he admitted he had contrived the disappearance of documents which he had previously submitted to the Wheeler-Brookhart senatorial committee, during its investigation of the Department of Justice last year.

The statement, which after its identification by Means, was admitted into evidence in the trial of Means and Thomas B. Felder, charged with bribing of high Government officials, says that Means had helped "W. O. ('Ducky') Duckstein and his wife, of Washington, D. C.," to frame their subsequent testimony before the committee in explanation of the disappearance of the documents. The statement, as read to the jury yesterday, was dated Sept. 20, 1924.

18 Believed Killed in Collapse.

By the Associated Press.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 29.—Eighteen persons are believed to have been killed when the roof of the Popular Credit Bank collapsed late yesterday, burying under it the employes at work and several patrons. Firemen and police immediately began rescue work. The bank, which was opened in 1922, was a state pawnshop, created to protect the people against professional money-lenders.

FRANCE RECEPTIVE TO GERMAN PLAN FOR RHINE PACT

Negotiations for Peace Guarantee Useless, However, if France Is Asked to Disarm on Frontier.

HERRIOT REPEATS ARMAMENT CHARGES

Tells Deputies Germany Is Cultivating Revengeful State of Mind and Hasn't Disarmed.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—First feelers from Germany towards a Rhine guarantee pact are anticipated in Paris. The offer is expected to be for a three power pact among Britain, France and Germany, or perhaps among four powers including Belgium. Disarmament of the Rhineland under the agreement will be proposed, it is expected.

France is receptive, but it is intimated that negotiations are useless if the Germans ask France to disarm her frontier or the portion of the Rhine which is the Alsatian frontier. France also will refuse to consider the offer seriously if it is confined to the Rhine as opposed to the Rhine pact, limited in time, offered by Cuno when he was German Chancellor.

France wants Germany to agree to respect all frontiers fixed by the treaty of Versailles or by the League of Nations. The French attitude is based on the assumption that Germany does not consider herself morally bound to respect the territorial losses in the Polish corridor (a strip of land between East and West Prussia) because she considers they were exacted at Versailles.

If, however, Germany is willing to sign, of her own free will, a guarantee pact embracing all her frontiers established by treaties, France considers it worth big concessions. Otherwise France does not see the advantage of a treaty. At least that is the attitude of the Foreign Office.

The anticipated offer is due to the Colonge tangle. Germany, it is believed, wants to escape fulfilling the demands of military control by freely offering disarmament in the west, thereby obtaining evacuation of the Ruhr and Cologne.

Premier Herriot spoke in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday on Germany. He repeated in detail charges that Germany has not disarmed, and emphasized that Germany is in a revengeful state of mind, which is being deliberately cultivated.

"Our presence on the Rhine," the Premier said, touching on security, "is an essential guarantee of peace and, alas, a guarantee of our security."

France, he said, accepted the present Rhine situation on the promise of a military pact signed by Great Britain and the United States and he cited a list of documents which he said lost significance when the United States Senate failed to ratify the Versailles treaty.

France is seeking peace with a poinard a few inches from her heart, he declared.

Chancellor Luther Wants Series of Guarantee Pacts.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Attainment of lasting peace in Europe by covenants between Germany and her allied neighbors, which would be politically what the Dawes plan is economically, is the grandiose aim envisaged by Chancellor Luther, according to information reaching correspondent from a source close to the Wilhelmstrasse.

The Chancellor's scheme as outlined by informant calls for a series of guarantee pacts pledging countries concerned to refrain from military aggression against each other for a period of at least 30 years.

Luther desires not only allied, but American and Russian approval of his ideas. He hopes President Coolidge will give him as much encouragement as America gave the Dawes Committee and the London conference which insured application of the Dawes report. His conception, he believes, coincides perfectly with President Coolidge's aspirations for world disarmament.

The outcome of the policy which Luther is initiating presumably would be an international conference not dissimilar to the Genoa conference. Not only the principal allied Powers, Russia and Germany would have to be represented, but such states as Poland and Czecho-Slovakia.

French Politicians Surprised at Herriot's Speech on Security.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—The political fabric of France today was under the spell of yesterday's utterances regarding French security made by Premier Herriot. These utterances are generally regarded as a studied reply to Germany's latest note regarding the prolonged occupation of the Cologne bridgehead.

Politicians of all groups are speculating as to just what led Herriot to make a declaration with such a nationalistic flavor—such a declaration, it was remarked in more than one quarter, as might well have been made by Poincare. Herriot's closest advisers have been unceasing in urging a conciliatory policy toward Germany, while his Socialist supporters have been particularly sensitive on the question of occupation of the Rhineland, which they held to be a sort of disguised imperialism. Yet the Premier declared:

"Holding the Rhine may be the last resort of France to assure her security."

It was remarked in the lobbies of the chamber that M. Herriot must have had the best of reasons for adopting a nationalistic tone in dealing with Germany. It is suggested that one of these reasons is the reported discovery by the military control commission that Germany's equipment for the manufacture, distribution and use in battle of poisonous gases remains as it existed at the end of the war.

JOINT LEVEE PLAN FOR DRAINING MISSOURI AND ARKANSAS DELTA REGION

Senator Brown of Poplar Bluffs Introduces Bill for Action by Both States and U. S.

By CURTIS A. BETTS,
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—Preliminary steps toward joint action of the states of Missouri and Arkansas and the United States Government for a huge program of levee building and refinancing of past work in the delta region of Southeastern Missouri and Northeastern Arkansas, was instituted today in the Senate by Senator Brown of Poplar Bluff.

Brown introduced a bill to create a commission to work out a plan for impounding the flood waters of the St. Francis and Black rivers, which drain from the Ozark Mountains of Missouri through the sunken area of the southeastern counties into Northern Arkansas and for refunding through Government aid the approximately $30,000,000 already expended in levee construction and drainage.

It is proposed that Arkansas pass a similar act and that the two states join in getting Congress interested in the problem, it being expected that, in connection with Mississippi River improvement, the Government will become a party to the plans.

Reclaiming From Swamps.

Although much work has been undertaken by the southeastern counties, and a large portion of seven counties have in the past 25 years been converted from swamps into highly productive agricultural land, the present system does not entirely avoid damage from floods.

While the commission is directed by the bill to take no active steps until Arkansas shall have had an opportunity with the 1925 Legislature to adopt a similar act there is provision that if Arkansas fails to act the Missouri commission shall proceed independently. The War Department has made a survey of the entire project and has submitted a report showing the amount of new levee which must be constructed. It is estimated that a storage basin sufficient to accommodate a drained area of 1750 square miles must be provided.

Long Term Bonds Needed.

One of the problems connected with the proposed enterprise which is of particular interest to the Missouri counties is that involving a refinancing of their present obligations for drainage construction. In some years the fluctuating prices of agricultural products has meant that the drainage taxes were a burden to the land owners it having been impossible under the Missouri Constitution to issue bonds for a longer term than 20 years.

It is now proposed that the Government shall issue new long term bonds to take up the old issues, the new bonds to run for probably 50 years, which would extend the payments of the land owners over such a long period that the payments would not be burdensome. Representative Ely of Dunklin County and the other Senators and Representatives from Southeastern counties have joined with Senator Brown in promoting the legislative plan.

EMPLOYES FORBIDDEN USE OF INTOXICANTS

Colorado Fuel and Iron Concern Added to List of Concerns Demanding Sobriety.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—It is the observation of Prohibition Commissioner Haynes that public opinion, expressing itself through various channels ranging from great industrial corporations to the theater, is making easier the enforcement of the prohibition law. The addition of the name of the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. to those of other concerns which have forbidden their employes the use of intoxicants, has just been recorded at enforcement headquarters. Scores of employers, Haynes says, have posted notices in their establishments that users of liquor will be automatically dismissed.

A drastic rule was recently laid down by Henry Ford, and numbers of hotels and restaurants have acted to banish liquors from their premises. One hotel, Haynes says, forced its employes to sign a pledge to not sell liquor and as an added precaution employed detectives to search the waiters when they appeared for duty.

Some theaters have banned jokes on prohibition from their stages, and one insurance company is asking applicants whether they drink bootleg liquor, Haynes declares. A Western city advised its employes that use of liquor would result in dismissal, and caused each worker to give his signature as evidence that he had been warned.

Intemperance was never wise, economical or safe, in the opinion of Commissioner Haynes, but it is infinitely less so now than ever. "Amid the powerful inventions and hurried life of today sound bodies, steady nerves and sober judgment are indispensable to life. This fact is recognized everywhere."

Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, went over the prohibition situation with President Coolidge yesterday and told the President any program he launched for enforcement of the Volstead and other dry acts would have the support of his organization. He did not ask for the retention of Roy A. Haynes, prohibition commissioner, but indicated he and his associates felt a fair test of enforcement had not been had. Wheeler argued that the Cramton bill for a separate bureau for the prohibition unit in the Treasury Department would bring about more satisfactory conditions.

Depew, 91, Still Heads Pilgrims.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—While many younger men in the financial district remained home on account of the weather, Chauncey M. Depew, approaching his ninety-first birthday, presided at the annual meeting of the Pilgrims of the United States yesterday and was re-elected president for the coming year. He delivered the principal address, in which he urged the members to work for world peace, and to "put some backbone into Congress so they will support President Coolidge." He paid tribute to the Federal Reserve System and to Benito Mussolini, Italian Premier.

BAKER TO REMOVE BOARD MEMBERS AFTER JOB SQUABBLE

Governor Says There Will Be Changes Among Eleemosynary Commissioners—Can Remove Four

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—Revolt of some of the members of the State Eleemosynary Board against carrying out Gov. Baker's instructions that his wife's brother-in-law, George Gilpin of St. Joseph, and Luther Wilson, Democrat, of Nevada, be appointed as stewards of the State hospitals at St. Joseph, and Nevada, will result in reorganization of the board by Baker, it was learned today.

While the Governor declined to comment on the failure of the board to carry out his appointment instructions, he stated, in response to an inquiry, that "several changes would be made in the board." He withheld the names of the board members to be removed.

As has been related, W. C. Pierce of Maryville and Arthur J. Fitzsimmons of St. Louis opposed the appointments at a board meeting here this week. Chairman W. P. Fulkerson of St. Joseph and R. M. White of Mexico urged harmony with the Governor. Two other members were absent and the appointments were deadlocked. Fitzsimmons has been confirmed by the Senate and cannot be removed except through charges by the Governor. Four members of the board hold recess appointments and may be removed merely by sending other names to the Senate. The other member, who has been confirmed is Charles E. Rendelin of Hannibal.

STONE TESTIMONY LEAVES SENATORS STILL DIVIDED

Judiciary Committee Will Thresh Out Propriety of New Wheeler Charges in Executive Session.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL HELD HIS GROUND

Administration Leaders Insist He Acted Properly—Montanan's Friends Take Opposite View.

Post-Dispatch Bureau,
20-23 Wyatt Bldg.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. — The Senate Judiciary Committee meets in executive session next Monday, when the members will fight among themselves as to the effect of Attorney-General Stone's appearance before the committee and his testimony concerning the prosecution of Senator Wheeler.

At the conclusion of yesterday's hearing Wheeler's friends were satisfied they had demonstrated that the Attorney-General was going far beyond what the requirement of his duty demanded and the administration Senators were just as clearly agreed that Stone had demonstrated his fairness, capacity and unprejudiced devotion to duty.

The contention of the Attorney-General is that the Wheeler conspiracy charge, which is to be investigated in Washington, is wholly independent of the Montana case and, although Senator Walsh, Senator Reed and others brought up repeatedly that the two cases were associated, with the same set of witnesses, etc., Stone maintained his contention to the last.

Stone and Senator Walsh of Montana, who is counsel for Wheeler in the case in Montana, engaged in a lively but courteous verbal duel at the open hearing of the committee which has Stone's nomination for the Supreme bench under consideration. Of chief interest in Stone's testimony was the assertion that the Department of Justice in proposing to make a new case relating to Wheeler is proceeding under a different statute from that invoked in the first case and expects to adduce new evidence. This evidence, Stone said, would deal with an alleged conspiracy to defraud the Government. The Montana indictment against Wheeler charges him with illegal practice before the Department of the Interior in connection with a land case, after he had been elected a United States Senator.

Delay in Montana Case.

Falling at times into the aggressive manner that characterized his conduct of the oil inquiry, Walsh sought to show that the Government was delaying the trial of the Montana case in order that prior action might be had on the case to be laid before the District of Columbia grand jury.

Stone denied that there had been any delay other than that occasioned by the withdrawal of two Judges from the Montana case and the filing of a demurrer to the indictment by Wheeler.

The Attorney-General is a strapping big fellow and showed himself quite able to take care of himself. He never lost his savuity, although it was obvious that he was boiling internally at the insinuations behind the questions with which he was bombarded. He revealed nothing of the evidence he depended on, and when it came to shuffling in the close places, his foot never slipped. He twirled his thumbs and swung his eyeglasses, but these manifestations of nervous tension were his only evidences of perturbation. Senator Borah presided at the opening of the session, but soon vacated the chair for Senator Cummins and did not come back for the cross-questioning. Wheeler was present, but the only part he took was to whisper an occasional suggestion to Walsh.

Walsh during the day ran down the list of Daugherty men remaining in the Department of Justice, the unuttered inference being that these had something to do with the persistence of the prosecution of Daugherty's arch enemy.

Stone ignored the inference and merely said that Rush Holland, assistant to the Attorney-General; Martin and J. E. Hoover were still in the department.

At the end of the day Senator Overman took the Attorney-General over the ground of the Ownbey case, in which Stone was an attorney for the Morgan estate, and in which an archaic Delaware statute, that put Ownbey out of court and cost him his fortune, is alleged to have been invoked.

Attitude Toward "Big Interests."

Overman got around to the Department of Justice's present attitude toward big interests, asking Stone if Paul Cravath, New York attorney, had not requested that he amend the allegations in the Government's suit for recovery of $13,000,000 from the Bethlehem Steel Co., to eliminate personal reflections on Charles M. Schwab. Stone said the request was still under consideration.

Replying to Senator Reed (Dem.) Missouri, and other Senators, Stone said the action to be instituted here could be brought in Montana, but added that for the reasons he had given, he thought the case could be best handled in the District of Columbia.

Senator Reed said it appeared that both the case here and in Montana involved the same man "with the exception of a Government official," and were "intertwined." He then declared he was very much concerned about the proposition that the Government could elect to bring a case against citizens so far away from their homes.

The Attorney-General replied that he knew of no principle of law that required that a man be tried in "his own home town." Senator Ashurst (Dem.) of Arizona, remarked that if he did not know it was a fundamental principle of Anglo-Saxon law that an accused must be tried within his vicinage, he had "better read some Anglo-Saxon law."

"Vicinage means the vicinage of the offense," retorted Stone, adding that in this case the District of Columbia was the vicinage.

Senator Bayard (Dem.) of Delaware, defended in the Senate yesterday the action of the courts of his State in the suit of the estate of J. Pierpont Morgan, against James A. Ownbey of Colorado.

"It would have been silly," Bayard said, "for the Delaware courts to have taken any other stand than that indicated in their decision, in view of the specific language of the statutes."

Adventures of the Round-the-World Flyers

BROKEN OILPUMP FEATURE OF GREENLAND-TO-LABRADOR HOP

Lieut. Arnold Operated Hand Device Almost Continuously for Three Hours and Flag-Plane Escaped Fate Similar to That of "Boston" Lost Near Faroe Islands.

By LOWELL THOMAS.

(Copyright, 1925, by the Chicago Tribune Newspapers Syndicate and the McClure Newspapers Syndicate.)

"IVIGTUT, Greenland, where we were getting the planes ready for the flight to Labrador," according to Lieut. Loweli Smith, "was the most remote and the farthest from civilization of any of the places visited on the way round the world. It lies at the head of a fjord and is surrounded by wild, rugged mountains. Our planes were beached right at the base of a cliff that rose sheer from the water's edge to a height of 4500 feet. Most of the time its summit was enveloped by clouds, but the face of it was absolutely smooth, as though polished by stone masons.

The first night after our arrival at Ivigtut the officers and crew of the Milwaukee invited the whole Danish colony on board to supper. Afterwards movies were shown on deck. It rained during the performance, but they sat through the drizzle and roared with laughter over the antics in the American comedy.

"Next day while waiting for the weather to clear between Greenland and Labrador several of us went trout fishing. The fishing was marvelous. I initiated my Seattle rod by catching 40 trout in less than two hours.

"When we were down at Fredericksdal the Danish officers on the coast guard cutter the Island Falk had asked us to tell them the dates on which we were born. We told them, but had no idea what their object was. The cutter came in to Ivigtut on the twenty-eighth, and as that happened to be 'Les' Arnold's birthday the captain of the Island Falk passed the word along to the miners on shore and a big party was given that night in honor of 'Les.' These Danes who are marooned in Greenland take advantage of every opportunity to have a party. If a boat comes in every one quits work and they have a celebration. If a boat goes out they do the same. A birthday also provides them with ample excuse to throw a party.

"The night of the 29th we again attended the movies on the deck of the cruiser. The sky was perfectly clear and in addition to the show on the screen we had a marvelous exhibition of the Northern lights. They flashed and crackled across the sky in a weird, uncanny way. To attend an American movie by the light of the aurora borealis was surely a unique experience.

"During the night of the 30th fair weather reports came in by wireless from Labrador, so we were up at 4 and ready to leave at 6 o'clock. But I had a bit of trouble with the Chicago and it was 8:30 before we finally got away from Ivigtut. Five miles out over Davis Strait we ran into a fog bank, but knowing the weather was clear in Labrador, we figured that the fog would not last long. In 15 minutes we were through it and had perfect weather most of the way.

Oil Pump Breaks.

"Occasionally we would pass through a bit of fog or a shower, but it never lasted for more than a few minutes. When it was clear we could see the navy patrol boats for 20 miles, although they could never spot us until we were almost on top of them. Out in the middle of the strait we saw a destroyer way up ahead just as it disappeared into a fog. Ten minutes later we caught up with them and flew right alongside, within 10 feet of the bridge. The skipper was astonished and when we met him months later the first question he asked was how under the sun we had been able to find him in the fog band. He had been puzzling over it all this time.

"Two hundred miles off Labrador we nearly suffered the same fate as Wade and Ogden. Our motor-driven gasoline pump failed, and five minutes later our wind-driven pump also gave out on us. This left nothing but the 'trouble pump,' which can only be manipulated by hand. From then on for nearly three hours 'Les' had to work frantically. It was a life or death matter and the physical strain was so great that he felt the effects in his arms for weeks afterwards, and when we reached Labrador he had to have medical attention.

We reached Icetickle after a flight across the open sea of 575 miles that had taken six hours and 45 minutes.

Back in North America.

"We landed back on North America at 3:20 p. m., on the afternoon of Aug. 31.

"There were quite a few American newspaper correspondents and camera men waiting for us at Icetickle. They had come up from the states and had been waiting for several weeks. The Richmond had also come in from Iceland with all the scribes who had been with us up there. To kill time they had put a brass plate on a wall and inscribed thereon that the American world flyers had first landed on the shores on North America Aug. 31. This had been done several weeks before we came in and they had simply guessed at Aug. 31 as the day when they thought we ought to get in.

"When we got ashore we found Admiral Magruder waiting to congratulate us. This was a particularly great honor, because it is almost unknown for an Admiral to leave his ship to do a thing of this sort. When we went out to the Richmond we found the whole crew assembled on deck. The Admiral read messages of greeting from the President and Secretary of War, and then we had three dinners in three hours, which more than made up for our not having had any food since that morning before dawn. The first one was specially prepared for us at 5 o'clock. The second was with the officers of the Richmond at 6. The third was with the Admiral at 7.

"After that we lost no time crawling into our bunks and going to sleep—one of the most satisfying sleeps we had had for months, because it was a great relief to know that we were back on American soil at last. It only remained now for us to fly south from Labrador to Nova Scotia, from Canada to New England, and from the Atlantic to the Pacific. After all we had gone through this looked comparatively easy."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow).

NEW SECTION TO MISSOURI BANKING LAWS PROPOSED

Would Provide Immediate Placing of Evidence in Bank Failures Before Prosecuting Attorney.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 29. —A proposed new section of the State banking laws drafted by Representative Lon S. Haymes of Greene County, and introduced by him in the House today, would require the State Finance Commissioner, upon taking charge of a failed bank, immediately to place before the Prosecuting Attorney all information or evidence tending to show any violations of the law or irregularities on the part of any bank officer, employe or director.

Haymes' bill, if adopted, would make it mandatory for the commissioner to place the evidence of irregularities in the hands of the prosecuting attorney and would eliminate delays in the institution of prosecutions against bank officers or persons responsible for wrecking banks it was said. Finance Commissioner Millspaugh has declared the present laws do not give him sufficient authority to institute criminal proceedings against bank officials.

Haymes resides in Springfield, where the Holland Banking Co. failed in January, 1923. Before the failure the Holland was the largest bank in Missouri, outside St. Louis and Kansas City. Before a grand jury investigation of the failure was instituted, depositors of the defunct bank made several protests that they were unable to get information on the condition of the bank. This information was withheld by the Finance Department under an interpretation it was placed on the banking laws, to the effect no information concerning a closed bank may be disclosed, except in a criminal proceeding in court.

CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT OPPOSED BY CHAMBER HERE

Board of Directors Issues Statement Holding That Such Legislation Should Be Left to States.

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce has issued a statement in opposition to the proposed child labor amendment to the Federal Constitution. It holds that child labor legislation should be left to the states, and declares that the proposed measure would "give Congress absolute power over child life." An argument against increasing the scope of Federal legislation, at the expense of the states, is made.

The states have made material progress in the control of child labor, the statement declares, and it is asserted that in 10 years the number of children in gainful occupations has been reduced by one-half, "and out of the million so employed, only about 185,000 are in manufacturing and mechanical industries."

A protest against the proposed amendment has also been issued in the name of the American Woman's Council of Justice, 1525-26 Chemical building, of which Miss Emilie M. Sweeney is president.

ALASKAN DEER ARE STARVING

JUNEAU, Alaska, Jan. 29.—Deer are starving to death in great numbers on Baronoff, Admiralty and other Islands southwest of here due to the heaviest snowfall in many years, according to official reports.

The crew of a gasoline boat which arrived from Gambier Bay, Admiralty Island, counted nearly 200 carcasses on the beach between Point Hugh and Point Arden where the deer were driven by the cold to eat kelp. E. M. Goddard, game warden at Sitka, has requested officials in Washington, D. C., for authorization to employ men to cut hemlock in an effort to save the animals.

Fascist Paper Challenges Senator to Prove That Mussolini Was Once a Fugitive Criminal.

ROME, Jan. 29.—Although the date of dissolution of the Chamber of Deputies is undetermined, various opposition groups are working hard to organize an election program. The Communists and Republicans are hinting at the possibility of returning to the actual chamber in order to accuse the Government of complicity in the Matteotti murder.

The Populari, or Catholics, the biggest and best organized of the opposition groups, are negotiating with three former Premiers, Giolitti, Salandra and Orlando, with a view to getting a common ticket. Considering the Populari's past refusals to collaborate with these veterans, whereby Mussolini's march on Rome was made inevitable, their action is causing surprise.

Mistake of Boycott.

More than once the Populari have accused the men they are now courting of being mixed up in un-Christian Freemasonry. But the Populari now realize that boycotting Parliament is a mistake, because the various groups cannot form a united opposition when elections come, still less get and hold power.

On the other hand, three former Premiers may do it, and they want to share the burden of Government when the present Government goes.

The Republicans and Maximalists, surprised and indignant at the new move of the Populari, intend to make a formal demand for an explanation. Even the Liberals lack enthusiasm and are making bitter remarks about Populari's lack of solidarity with the constitutional parties in 1922. They complain that the Populari then threw away a splendid chance for collaboration for a strong constitutional Government "which would have spared all our present troubles."

Split Among Ex-Service Men.

The ex-service group of deputies is having a serious split, owing to disinclination of the majority to follow the minority who now are in opposition. Their association, which claims nearly 1,000,000 active and honorary members, will meet Monday to decide on a policy.

Another much-discussed incident is the challenge of Popolo d'Italia, Fascist newspaper, to Senator Albertini to produce proof of his accusation against Mussolini. According to Popolo d'Italia, Albertini, with boycotting Deputies, is "spreading reports underhandedly that Benito Mussolini, head of Italy's Government and Fascismo, is supposed to have been in Switzerland 10 years ago for a common crime." Gossips long ago spread the rumor, which they hint was in connection with the disappearance of a gold watch.

Everybody is wondering if Albertini will take up the challenge, which assumes extra importance because Popolo d'Italia is Mussolini's Milan newspaper. Albertini is connected with the Milan Liberal Corriere dell Sero and is credited with the desire to become Premier.

HOLDS BRIDGE TREATY HAS NO BEARING ON TOLLS

The language of paragraph 4, of the treaty signed by Gov. Baker Monday relating to exemption of the Municipal Bridge from taxation, was upheld in an opinion submitted to Comptroller Nolte by City Counselor Senti today.

Rendering of the opinion resulted from protests of the Tenth Ward Improvement Association against the treaty on the ground that paragraph 4 gave to the city the right to charge toll for use of the bridge in conflict with ordinances under which the structure was erected.

In his opinion, however, the City Counselor pointed out that paragraph 4 does not confer upon the city any power which it does not already have through acts of Congress and previous ordinances. Under any conditions, he declared, the city is empowered to levy toll charges if it sees fit to do so and the treaty does not extend nor impair that right. The language of paragraph 4, he held, was in no wise objectionable and should not be replaced by the wording proposed by the improvement association.

PAINTER'S PRIMARY PLAN.

Senator Painter's bill providing for the nomination of candidates for leading State offices by convention instead of State-wide primaries is a step in the right direction.

The provisions of the bill include the candidates for United States Senator, Governor, Attorney-General, Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Treasurer, Judges of the Supreme Court and Superintendent of Schools. These shall be nominated by convention composed of delegates elected at the regular August primaries for the nomination of local officers.

The bill does not abolish the primary system, but modifies it, retaining the primary method of nominating local county and city officers, Congressmen and State legislators, but substituting the delegate convention for important State offices. The method of choosing delegates, however, is a complete change from the old system when the committees controlled the primaries or local conventions which chose the delegates to the State convention. Under the Painter bill the election of delegates will be held at the regular primaries and will be safeguarded by State laws. The people can choose what delegates they wish. If the people do not choose to vote they must suffer the consequences. The bill restores the representative system.

We believe it would be wise to eliminate the clause giving the party committees power to decide whether the delegates shall be chosen by conventions or primaries. We do not think that decision should rest with party committees on account of possible abuses, but that delegates should be chosen only at the regular primary elections.

The State-wide primary has developed notable defects and weaknesses. Senator Painter calls attention to one, namely, the tremendous cost of the campaigns, which debars men who are not wealthy from running for office or puts them under obligations to men or interests which may seriously hamper their usefulness in office.

Another weakness is the difficulty voters have in determining the character and fitness of candidates. In the horde of candidates running for nominations the voters of the State find it impossible to learn who are the best. The press can do no more, unless the candidates have previous records in public office or criminal records, than tell the name, age, residence and occupation of the candidates. The result is that the way is opened for demagogues, corrupt or incompetent candidates to win nominations. On the other hand, voters either know or can learn the character and capacity of candidates for local offices or of delegates running for State conventions. They can exercise their discretion and judgment. If the voters refuse to do this, nothing can save the government from incompetence or corruption.

The fact is the State-wide primary is a practical failure. Its results have not been good. We believe the combination of the primary convention to choose local candidates and the State conventions, with primary-elected delegates, to choose candidates for State offices and the United States Senate, is worth trying. The representative system, properly safeguarded, is the best for wide areas.

THE DEFEAT OF THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT.

Apparently, the proposed Federal child labor amendment has been given short shrift. Of 16 states which have acted upon it, 13 have refused to ratify. Since the ratification of 36 states is required to embody this proposal in the Constitution, only a political miracle could save it now. Such a miracle would require favorable action by every legislature which has not yet given it consideration, plus the reversal of one state which has already turned it down.

Thus a great governmental principle has been safeguarded, namely that the Federal Government shall not usurp powers expressly reserved for the states. The fight for the child labor amendment was a well-intentioned one. In the main, it was sponsored for humanitarian reasons, but at the expense of corroding the structure upon which this country was founded. Victory for the child labor amendment would have meant another Federal bureau, another set of bureaucrats, another difficult and expensive campaign of enforcement, another wave of resentment against the intrusion of Federal agents into state affairs.

The Post-Dispatch's opposition to the child labor amendment was based entirely on the violation of principle involved. It knows that many states, including Missouri, already have good child labor laws. It knows that others have been negligent in the regulation of child labor, probably because of the threat and possibility of Federal interference. Now that this possibility has been removed, these states may well take steps to protect their children from industrial evils. The principle of state authority over its own business has been defended. Now it should be vindicated.

A DANGEROUS WOMAN RETURNS.

After two years the great and puissant Government of the United States has taken a sporting chance and readmitted Anna Lerner. During this period she has been barred as a person of "dangerous opinions." When this judgment was gravely rendered by the Department of State, Anna Lerner was a wisp of a girl, 19 years old. Now she is 21 and still more of a wisp because in the interim she has lived the slavish life of a soviet worker.

In 1922 Anna, Russian born, left Philadelphia to join an American colony at Kuzbas, in her native land. There she met and married Noah Lerner, an American World War veteran. Noah returned to this country, with the understanding that his wife was to follow shortly. Anna tried to do so, but was turned back by our vigilant statesmen.

It was not without a struggle that the United States consented to expose itself to the danger of Anna Lerner's presence. For many months the State Department adhered to the belief that this 95-pound person would be a menace to our institutions of liberty and freedom. It stuck to its guns against the pleas of Anna Lerner's husband, two United States Senators, the Society of Friends and the Civil Liberties Union.

Finally Anna Lerner was allowed to return, no she lives, to insurrection. Nor has she blown up the White House.

WHEAT FACTS AND TARIFF THEORIES

President Coolidge has sent a message to Congress urging prompt action on the measures recommended by the Agricultural Commission.

The commission's report makes a number of recommendations about which there is practically no division of opinion. Better credit arrangements for the farmer, readjustment of freight rates and the promotion of co-operative marketing, with such approval and substantial assistance as the Government may properly extend—all these are accepted as theoretically good by the public.

But the public will be surprised and somewhat disappointed, we imagine, at the emphasis placed on protection for the farmer by means of the tariff. That is the commission's outstanding proposal. As it happens, it is submitted inopportunely.

Simultaneously with the publication of the commission's report the news columns record the fact that wheat for May delivery sold for more than $2 a bushel yesterday. The top figure at Chicago was $2.05 7-8—the highest price in 57 years, with the exception of the abnormal war period. This price is accounted for by natural, though extraordinary conditions, namely, a shortage in European countries that are now buying the grain of which they usually have a surplus for sale.

There are limits to the capacity of protection. No protectionist, we assume, will seriously contend that through the agency of the tariff we can maintain a scale of wheat prices in the American market wholly independent of wheat prices in the world market. Flat wheat is as visionary as flat money. Once upon a time Mr. Bryan insisted we could do that very thing with silver. The people, after a rhetorical debauch, concluded the 16-to-1 ratio was a vagary. Unhappy experience will bring us to the same conclusion if we ever undertake this experiment with wheat.

As a matter of fact we have experimented with protection for wheat. The farmer knows how protection failed utterly to protect. The emergency tariff on wheat yielded the American farmer nothing. Made permanent in the Fordney-McCumber law the result was the same. Protection has not helped the farmer when he needed help. The only thing the American farmer has got out of the tariff is high prices for everything he bought and low prices for everything he sold. The law of supply and demand, not the tariff, came to the American farmer's rescue.

Those are the facts, and facts, as is frequently the case, jeer unfeelingly at theories. Facts are no respecters of theories. They are no respecters of persons—not even presidential commissioners.

STONE AND WHEELER.

Appearing before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, Attorney-General Stone asserts that there is evidence in the possession of the Department of Justice to prove a widespread conspiracy to defraud the Government of valuable oil lands and that this conspiracy involves Senator Wheeler of Montana. It was for this reason, says Mr. Stone, that prosecution of the case against Mr. Wheeler was resumed and the scene of the trial transferred to Washington. "The principal acts were performed at the capital."

Now, this is a serious and sensational business. It finds two honest and capable public servants, Mr. Stone and Senator Thomas J. Walsh, in both of whom the public has confidence, disagreeing sharply about a point of fact. Mr. Stone says that this is "a new case and entirely different from the offense charged in Montana." Senator Walsh, as counsel for Senator Wheeler, says there is "no room for doubt that the cases are identical." No outsider can attempt to weigh these contradictory opinions. For Mr. Stone declines even to hint what sort of new evidence he has discovered; he cannot do that, he says, because he intends "to reserve full liberty of action and keep the Government's hands free."

We shall have the facts when the case is brought to trial. But one thing is clear; seeing those facts as he saw them, Mr. Stone had no course save to resume prosecution in the case and shift the trial to Washington. It is in Washington, too—in view of Mr. Stone's statement—that Senator Wheeler should choose to go to trial and have these charges tested.

MORE SACRIFICES TO POLITICS?

In a speech in St. Louis a few days ago Gov. Baker is reported as having deprecated spoils politics by proclaiming as his standard the "politics of service" and by declaring: "He profits most who serves best." This confession of faith led the public to high hopes that a step forward in State politics was in prospect.

Those hopes as yet have not been dashed, but information from varying quarters is now agreed that the Baker code of politics is not taken from copybook maxims. Instead of a step forward a backward step is threatened. In fact, it is stated in substance that the 7000 eleemosynary wards of the State are to be sacrificed to the Governor's personal politics and that the bipartisan or nonpartisan administration of these institutions is to be shoved back into the trough of spoils.

The specific report is that Gov. Baker has made the demand that stewardships of two State hospitals for the insane be provided for the husband of his wife's sister and for a politician who actively supported the Governor in his campaign for election. To accomplish his purpose the Governor is understood to have threatened the displacement of any one of four unconfirmed members of the State Eleemosynary Board who may oppose his wishes.

Four years ago the Legislature decided to put a stop to the practice of victimizing the helpless inmates of State institutions by placing these institutions under a bi-partisan State board. The result has been a decent protection of competent appointive officials who happened to be of the wrong political party from the administration standpoint.

There is still time for Gov. Baker not to disappoint the State by any such atrocity of spoilsmanship as is reported to be his intention. If he does not change his believed intention he will be overthrowing one

What a gratifying surprise to learn that almost all the people benefited by the rise in St. Joe lead stock were poor people not usually enjoying a windfall of this sort! As one's eye ran through the list of those holding this stock, one's amazement increased. Instead of the usual old seven and six, or what used to be called hereabouts the Big Cinch, here were the poor thronging gladly forward into the warmth and glory of better fortune. It was enough to revive one's drooping faith in the United States as a place of equal opportunity. Pericles said: "Poverty is not with us a disgrace; rather the disgrace lies in doing nothing to prevent it." In this case the poor have done something to prevent it. We congratulate them.

MISMANAGEMENT OF FARMS.

DR. FRANK ROHN, in the Forum for February:

FROM the economic point of view, one of the most pitiful sights in the world today is a row of gang-plows, harrows, binders, and a threshing machine or two standing out in the rain and snow on a farm in our Northwest. A professor in one of our Northwestern State agricultural colleges said to the writer: "The annual rainfall in this State is only 20 inches. That much can't do a great deal of harm to machinery." Imagine the owner of a great manufacturing concern building a new plant and omitting to put on a roof, on the plea that the annual rainfall, being less than in the Tropics, would not injure his machines! The farmer of North Dakota who keeps all his machines indoors during the winter is the exception, not the rule. A barn with two floors (the upper floor being finished off as bedrooms for summer help) costs in that province 60 cents per square foot. Not counting the upper floor, an area fully ample to house a reaper thus costs $60. To save that sum the farmer leaves this delicate piece of machinery which costs him $400 or $500 out in the rain and snow for 12 months. The machinery cost to the average wheat farmer of the Northwest is at least three times as much as it should be. This alone is enough to keep him in debt. Ignorance and carelessness in the use of farm machinery is one of the weakest links in our entire American economic system. If our railways were mismanaged as our farms are mismanaged, not one locomotive in 10 would run safely on the track.

SMOKING AT VASSAR.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

ALMOST half of the Vassar girls voting on the cigarette question admit that they like to smoke, in violation of the rules of the student government. This does not prove that the government is a failure. It means that it has tried to extend its influence too far. The students, by their own rules, could not blackball Lady Nicotine. At New Haven the honor system in examinations, supported by a council of Yale boys, practically eradicated cribbing. The authorities then tried to broaden the honor principle. They got the freshmen to sign pledges not to start campus disturbances or riots when the food in commons fell short of perfection. This did not work as well. It is difficult to impose a law on a large minority. Vassar now favors more lenient smoking laws. Only 47 voted against smoking, while 183 believe that the college should set aside a sort of stationary smoking car. Another suggestion is to prohibit smoking in certain dormitories. Despite the violation of the student laws the questionnaire proved that the girls are honest. Only 21 out of 433 who smoke do so without the knowledge of their parents. One might try to guess how many thousands of dollars have been offered by fa-

SARCOPHAGUS OF WILSON IN PLACE

It Is in Wall of Cathedral Chapel and Is Surmounted by Flags.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The work of setting in place the sarcophagus erected for Woodrow Wilson in Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington Cathedral was brought to completion today.

In the south wall of the chapel in a space eight feet wide and 13 feet high, the sarcophagus reposes under massive arches. A leaded glass interior window forms the background. A grill, canopy and flags complete the arrangement.

The sarcophagus, of cream color limestone with almost a golden gleam, bears a single decoration—the crusader's cross. In front of the cross is inscribed "Woodrow Wilson," and the date of his birth and death—1854 and 1924.

The grill, immediately in front of the sarcophagus and covering the recess to a height of seven feet seven inches above the floor, is wrought in iron after the manner of the ancient craftsmen, the upright bars ending in crosses.

Just below the cresting of the carved oak canopy over the sarcophagus are the words: "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord."

The three flags surmounting the canopy and lending color to the whole effect are all historic, two of them being the "President's flag," presented by the Government to each President, and representing Mr. Wilson's two inaugurations. The third is the flag which was carried by the American troops when they marched through London—the first American flag ever saluted by an English King on English soil.

Mueller lived alone and was last seen by neighbors Friday night. His body was discovered on Thursday when a son called at his home. Copies of the Post-Dispatch accumulated on the doorstep indicated that he had died Saturday.

For 50 years Mueller had been connected with the saddlery business in St. Louis, and he was owner of a shop at 304 South Fourth street. He was a noted marksman, and a member of the Pelican Revolver Club, the East St. Louis Revolver Club and the Central Sharpshooters' Association. GOLD MEDAL FOR LINEMAN

Telephone Company Employe Also Given $500 Check.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29.—Charles E. Rider of Guthrie, a telephone lineman, received the Theodore N. Vail gold medal, the highest award for heroic public service that can be given any of the 340,000 employes of the Bell Telephone System in America, at a dinner here last night. The medal was presented by E. D. Nims, president of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Accompanying the decoration was a check for $500.

Rider received the medal for restoring service across the flood-swollen Cimarron River in June, 1923, after a wreck and fire had destroyed two bridges. Under a doctor's care, Rider drove seven miles for a boat and put out on a racing stream, covered with floating patches of burning oil, carrying wires and cables to restore service.

Industry of the Foreign-Born.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

THIS is written in praise of Albert Mueller. I read of his success, due to his attention to his studies. This is to rave for him, and to rave against the American boys and girls. I am an American—and proud of it in some things. But not so much that I am blind to the languid manner of the majority of them.

Why is it that foreigners always do what should have been done by us? We seldom hear of the wonderful things done by Mr. or Mrs. So-and-so of the United States. Foreigners are anxious to do anything and everything. They are not afraid to step in and confine themselves to several years of drudgery, for they know they will be rewarded. Then when they do succeed, someone whispers, "Yes, another one of those darn foreigners." They don't stop to think that his success is due to hard work, study, thrift. No, while Mr. American was so very busy dancing, motoring, golfing and leaving his business to someone else, it was gradually slipping from his grasp, into the hands of one who deserved it.

Not only does this happen in schooling and business, but religion. Missionaries have told how after their first talk of God, the poor, ignorant people walk bare-footed for miles, arriving foot-sore, but face lit up with the knowledge that they were to hear more of the white man's God—while we're in America; our church is in the next block—but the little old flivver bumps out of the garage and spins merrily away in the opposite direction.

Helgho! such is America and its people.

"Fair Words Butter No Parsnips."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

AT the recent "Gateway Dinner" here, several railroad executives spoke complacently and patronizingly of our city and magnanimously offered to act as "wet nurse" for our Free Bridge. This is in character with their generation-long fight and insidious effort to keep this city out of its rightful place. Their protestations of friendship sound with the old insincerity when one considers their acts. For instance, from nearby coal mines in Illinois, the rate to East St. Louis factories is 70c per ton while to St. Louis factories it is $1.16 per ton or 65 per cent more. How can a factory on this side of the river compete? Why does not some railroad use our Free Bridge and give us a fair deal instead of favoring us with these fine words?

Poverty As Crime Incentive.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT is so seldom you hear of one in a position like Miss Emma C. Puschner tell you the real cause of the increase of crime. But she sure did hit the nail on the head. Ninety per cent of our crime is caused by the economic condition of the workers. About six weeks ago, two suspicious young men came into the establishment where I worked. It was the day before pay day. The next day my boss was prepared for anything that might turn up. While putting up the pay roll, he locked the door and had an automatic gun on the desk. A Catholic priest came to the door and found it locked. After being admitted, he asked the reason for the locked door and the automatic gun. After being informed, he said, "To tell the truth, you can't blame most of these young fellows who become criminals. They receive a good education, many of them high school graduates. They start out in life at the age of 18 or 19 and perhaps they have a sweetheart they would like to marry. And they are offered very nice positions in our large commercial houses at $50 or $60 a month to start. And during busy seasons they work overtime for about three hours and only get supper money." This comment, from a real follower of the lowly Nazarine, and he wound up by saying: "I believe hereafter I'll be a socialist myself."

No More "Blighted" Districts.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE Illinois Traction System (McKinley System) will again seek permission to haul carload freight—coal and livestock—over its tracks on North Twelfth and Forty-ninth streets, at a meeting of the Board of Public Service to be held Thursday, Jan. 29, at 3 p. m., in the Board of Aldermen's chambers at the City Hall.

There is no need for granting this additional privilege. Property along the right of way is almost entirely residential. Granting this permission will depreciate property values not only along the right of way but for blocks on either side. There are acres of manufacturing sites east of Broadway; put these to use rather than add another blighted district to our city—a district that will stretch nearly two miles long and one-half mile wide.

PAINTER'S PRIMARY PLAN.

Senator Painter's bill providing for the nomination of candidates for leading State offices by convention instead of State-wide primaries is a step in the right direction.

The provisions of the bill include the candidates for United States Senator, Governor, Attorney-General, Secretary of State, State Auditor, State Treasurer, Judges of the Supreme Court and Superintendent of Schools. These shall be nominated by convention composed of delegates elected at the regular August primaries for the nomination of local officers.

The bill does not abolish the primary system, but modifies it, retaining the primary method of nominating local county and city officers, Congressmen and State legislators, but substituting the delegate convention for important State offices. The method of choosing delegates, however, is a complete change from the old system when the committees controlled the primaries or local conventions which chose the delegates to the State convention. Under the Painter bill the election of delegates will be held at the regular primaries and will be safeguarded by State laws. The people can choose what delegates they wish. If the people do not choose to vote they must suffer the consequences. The bill restores the representative system.

We believe it would be wise to eliminate the clause giving the party committees power to decide whether the delegates shall be chosen by conventions or primaries. We do not think that decision should rest with party committees on account of possible abuses, but that delegates should be chosen only at the regular primary elections.

The State-wide primary has developed notable defects and weaknesses. Senator Painter calls attention to one, namely, the tremendous cost of the campaigns, which debars men who are not wealthy from running for office or puts them under obligations to men or interests which may seriously hamper their usefulness in office.

Another weakness is the difficulty voters have in determining the character and fitness of candidates. In the horde of candidates running for nominations the voters of the State find it impossible to learn who are the best. The press can do no more, unless the candidates have previous records in public office or criminal records, than tell the name, age, residence and occupation of the candidates. The result is that the way is opened for demagogues, corrupt or incompetent candidates to win nominations. On the other hand, voters either know or can learn the character and capacity of candidates for local offices or of delegates running for State conventions. They can exercise their discretion and judgment. If the voters refuse to do this, nothing can save the government from incompetence or corruption.

The fact is the State-wide primary is a practical failure. Its results have not been good. We believe the combination of the primary convention to choose local candidates and the State conventions, with primary-elected delegates, to choose candidates for State offices and the United States Senate, is worth trying. The representative system, properly safeguarded, is the best for wide areas.

THE DEFEAT OF THE CHILD LABOR AMENDMENT.

Apparently, the proposed Federal child labor amendment has been given short shrift. Of 16 states which have acted upon it, 13 have refused to ratify. Since the ratification of 36 states is required to embody this proposal in the Constitution, only a political miracle could save it now. Such a miracle would require favorable action by every legislature which has not yet given it consideration, plus the reversal of one state which has already turned it down.

Thus a great governmental principle has been safeguarded, namely that the Federal Government shall not usurp powers expressly reserved for the states. The fight for the child labor amendment was a well-intentioned one. In the main, it was sponsored for humanitarian reasons, but at the expense of corroding the structure upon which this country was founded. Victory for the child labor amendment would have meant another Federal bureau, another set of bureaucrats, another difficult and expensive campaign of enforcement, another wave of resentment against the intrusion of Federal agents into state affairs.

The Post-Dispatch's opposition to the child labor amendment was based entirely on the violation of principle involved. It knows that many states, including Missouri, already have good child labor laws. It knows that others have been negligent in the regulation of child labor, probably because of the threat and possibility of Federal interference. Now that this possibility has been removed, these states may well take steps to protect their children from industrial evils. The principle of state authority over its own business has been defended. Now it should be vindicated.

A DANGEROUS WOMAN RETURNS.

After two years the great and puissant Government of the United States has taken a sporting chance and readmitted Anna Lerner. During this period she has been barred as a person of "dangerous opinions." When this judgment was gravely rendered by the Department of State, Anna Lerner was a wisp of a girl, 19 years old. Now she is 21 and still more of a wisp because in the interim she has lived the slavish life of a soviet worker.

In 1922 Anna, Russian born, left Philadelphia to join an American colony at Kuzbas, in her native land. There she met and married Noah Lerner, an American World War veteran. Noah returned to this country, with the understanding that his wife was to follow shortly. Anna tried to do so, but was turned back by our vigilant statesmen.

It was not without a struggle that the United States consented to expose itself to the danger of Anna Lerner's presence. For many months the State Department adhered to the belief that this 95-pound person would be a menace to our institutions of liberty and freedom. It stuck to its guns against the pleas of Anna Lerner's husband, two United States Senators, the Society of Friends and the Civil Liberties Union.

Finally, Anna Lerner was allowed to return, no doubt with grave misgivings on the part of the solemn gentleman of the Department of State. As yet, though, of course, she has been here but a short time, Mrs. Lerner has not incited Baltimore, where she lives, to insurrection. Nor has she blown up the White House.

WHEAT FACTS AND TARIFF THEORIES

President Coolidge has sent a message to Congress urging prompt action on the measures recommended by the Agricultural Commission.

The commission's report makes a number of recommendations about which there is practically no division of opinion. Better credit arrangements for the farmer, readjustment of freight rates and the promotion of co-operative marketing, with such approval and substantial assistance as the Government may properly extend—all these are accepted as theoretically good by the public.

But the public will be surprised and somewhat disappointed, we imagine, at the emphasis placed on protection for the farmer by means of the tariff. That is the commission's outstanding proposal. As it happens, it is submitted inopportunely.

Simultaneously with the publication of the commission's report the news columns record the fact that wheat for May delivery sold for more than $2 a bushel yesterday. The top figure at Chicago was $2.05 7/8—the highest price in 57 years, with the exception of the abnormal war period. This price is accounted for by natural, though extraordinary, conditions, namely, a shortage in European countries that are now buying the grain of which they usually have a surplus for sale.

There are limits to the capacity of protection. No protectionist, we assume, will seriously contend that, through the agency of the tariff, we can maintain a scale of wheat prices in the American market wholly independent of wheat prices in the world market. Fiat wheat is as visionary as fiat money. Once upon a time Mr. Bryan insisted we could do that very thing with silver. The people, after a rhetorical debauch, concluded the 16-to-1 ratio was a vagary. Unhappy experience will bring us to the same conclusion if we ever undertake this experiment with wheat.

As a matter of fact we have experimented with protection for wheat. The farmer knows how protection failed utterly to protect. The emergency tariff on wheat yielded the American farmer nothing. Made permanent in the Fordney-McCumber law the result was the same. Protection has not helped the farmer when he needed help. The only thing the American farmer has got out of the tariff is high prices for everything he bought and low prices for everything he sold. The law of supply and demand, not the tariff, came to the American farmer's rescue.

Those are the facts, and facts, as is frequently the case, jeer unfeelingly at theories. Facts are no respecters of theories. They are no respecters of persons—not even presidential commissioners.

STONE AND WHEELER.

Appearing before the Judiciary Committee of the Senate, Attorney-General Stone asserts that there is evidence in the possession of the Department of Justice to prove a widespread conspiracy to defraud the Government of valuable oil lands and that this conspiracy involves Senator Wheeler of Montana. It was for this reason, says Mr. Stone, that prosecution of the case against Mr. Wheeler was resumed and the scene of the trial transferred to Washington. "The principal acts were performed at the capital."

Now, this is a serious and sensational business. It finds two honest and capable public servants, Mr. Stone and Senator Thomas J. Walsh, in both of whom the public has confidence, disagreeing sharply about a point of fact. Mr. Stone says that this is "a new case and entirely different from the offense charged in Montana." Senator Walsh, as counsel for Senator Wheeler, says there is "no room for doubt that the cases are identical." No outsider can attempt to weigh these contradictory opinions. For Mr. Stone declines even to hint what sort of new evidence he has discovered; he cannot do that, he says, because he intends "to reserve full liberty of action and keep the Government's hands free."

We shall have the facts when the case is brought to trial. But one thing is clear: seeing those facts as he saw them, Mr. Stone had no course save to resume prosecution in the case and shift the trial to Washington. It is in Washington, too—in view of Mr. Stone's statement—that Senator Wheeler should choose to go to trial and have these charges tested.

After the manner in which Herrin celebrated Law and Order Sunday, we dread to think what it will do during Peace Week.

MORE SACRIFICES TO POLITICS?

In a speech in St. Louis a few days ago Gov. Baker is reported as having deprecated spoils politics by proclaiming as his standard the "politics of service" and by declaring: "He profits most who serves best." This confession of faith led the public to high hopes that a step forward in State politics was in prospect.

Those hopes as yet have not been dashed, but information from varying quarters is now agreed that the Baker code of politics is not taken from copybook maxims. Instead of a step forward a backward step is threatened. In fact, it is stated in substance that the 7000 eleemosynary wards of the State are to be sacrificed to the Governor's personal politics and that the bipartisan or nonpartisan administration of these institutions is to be shoved back into the trough of spoils.

The specific report is that Gov. Baker has made the demand that stewardships of two State hospitals for the insane be provided for the husband of his wife's sister and for a politician who actively supported the Governor in his campaign for election. To accomplish his purpose the Governor is understood to have threatened the displacement of any one of four unconfirmed members of the State Eleemosynary Board who may oppose his wishes.

Four years ago the Legislature decided to put a stop to the practice of victimizing the helpless inmates of State institutions by placing these institutions under a bi-partisan State board. The result has been a decent protection of competent appointive officials who happened to be of the wrong political party from the administration standpoint.

There is still time for Gov. Baker not to disappoint the State by any such atrocity of spoilsmanship as is reported to be his intention. If he does not change his believed intention he will be overthrowing one of the few slow and painful advances made by Missouri in its civil service. After preaching "he profits most who serves best" he will be practicing "he profits nothing who serves best."

PANETELA.

Yes, Luella,
Life at Herrin
Keeps a body
On the jump;
There at least
They have abandoned
Loafing
At the village pump.
There,
At any rate,
Ambition,
Counting quietude
A bore,
Aims at something
Like the movies
And the good
Old days of yore.

Is there order.
For a little?
Bingo!
Someone fires a shot.
Whereat half
The population
Arms and hurries
To the spot.
Whereupon,
Since reason scarcely
Serves the purposes
Of heat,
There ensues
A sort of battle
Raging up
And down the street.

What the trouble is,
My dearie,
May be very Briefly said:
Herrin is One town of many
Where the law
As such is dead.
Thus it is
The vigilante,
Quite as lawless
As the foe,
Undertakes
To do what others
By neglect
Are letting go.

Long ago,
My little girlie,
Someone thinking
In the night
Postulated the objection
As to two wrongs
And a right.
Wherefore,
Quite despite Objectives
Herrin may be Driving at,
All she has Accomplished truly
Was to make us
Sure of that.

So we have it,
Sweet Luella:
Be the times
However raw,
Nothing can
Avail to make them
Any less so
But the law.
Sending outlaws
After outlaws,
What though either
Side's renown,
Only can result
In both sides
Lastly shooting
Up the town.

What a gratifying surprise to learn that almost all the people benefited by the rise in St. Joe lead stock were poor people not usually enjoying a windfall of this sort! As one's eye ran through the list of those holding this stock, one's amazement increased. Instead of the usual old seven and six, or what used to be called hereabouts the Big Cinch, here were the poor thronging gladly forward into the warmth and glory of better fortune. It was enough to revive one's drooping faith in the United States as a place of equal opportunity. Pericles said: "Poverty is not with us a disgrace; rather the disgrace lies in doing nothing to prevent it." In this case the poor have done something to prevent it. We congratulate them.

MISMANAGEMENT OF FARMS.

DR. FRANK BOHN in the Forum for February.

FROM the economic point of view, one of the most pitiful sights in the world today is a row of gang-plows, harrows, binders, and a threshing machine or two standing out in the rain and snow on a farm in our Northwest. A professor in one of our Northwestern State agricultural colleges said to the writer: "The annual rainfall in this State is only 20 inches. That much can't do a great deal of harm to machinery." Imagine the owner of a great manufacturing concern building a new plant and omitting to put on a roof, on the plea that the annual rainfall, being less than in the Tropics, would not injure his machines! The farmer of North Dakota who keeps all his machines indoors during the winter is the exception, not the rule. A barn with two floors (the upper floor being finished off as bedrooms for summer help) costs in that province 60 cents per square foot. Not counting the upper floor, an area fully ample to house a reaper thus costs $60. To save that sum the farmer leaves this delicate piece of machinery, which costs him $400 or $500, out in the rain and snow for 12 months. The machinery cost to the average wheat farmer of the Northwest is at least three times as much as it should be. This alone is enough to keep him in debt. Ignorance and carelessness in the use of farm machinery is one of the weakest links in our entire American economic system. If our railways were mismanaged as our farms are mismanaged, not one locomotive in 10 would run safely on the track.

SMOKING AT VASSAR.

From the Brooklyn Eagle.

ALMOST half of the Vassar girls voting on the cigarette question admit that they like to smoke, in violation of the rules of the student government. This does not prove that the government is a failure. It means that it has tried to extend its influence too far. The students, by their own rules, could not blackball Lady Nicotine. At New Haven the honor system in examinations, supported by a council of Yale boys, practically eradicated cribbing. The authorities then tried to broaden the honor principle. They got the freshmen to sign pledges not to start campus disturbances or riots when the food in commons fell short of perfection. This did not work as well. It is difficult to impose a law on a large minority. Vassar now favors more lenient smoking laws. Only 87 voted against smoking, while 183 believe that the college should set aside a sort of stationary smoking car. Another suggestion is to prohibit smoking in certain dormitories. Despite the violation of the student laws the questionnaire proved that the girls are honest. Only 21 out of 433 who smoke do so without the knowledge of their parents. One might try to guess how many thousands of dollars have been offered by fathers and mothers to Vassar daughters for not indulging until they are 21.

SARCOPHAGUS OF WILSON IN PLACE

It Is in Wall of Cathedral Chapel and Is Surmounted by Flags.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The work of setting in place the sarcophagus erected for Woodrow Wilson in Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington Cathedral was brought to completion today.

In the south wall of the chapel in a space eight feet wide and 18 feet high, the sarcophagus reposes under massive arches. A leaded glass interior window forms the backeround. A grill, canopy and flags complete the arrangement.

The sarcophagus, of cream color limestone with almost a golden gleam, bears a single decoration—the crusader's cross. In front of the cross is inscribed "Woodrow Wilson," and the date of his birth and death—1856 and 1924.

The grill, immediately in front of the sarcophagus and covering the recess to a height of seven feet, seven inches above the floor, is wrought in iron after the manner of the ancient craftsmen, the upright bars ending in crosses.

Just below the cresting of the carved oak canopy over the sarcophagus are the words: "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord."

The three flags surmounting the canopy and lending color to the whole effect are all historic, two of them being the "President's flag," presented by the Government to each President, and representing Mr. Wilson's two inaugurations. The third is the flag which was carried by the American troops when they marched through London—the first American flag ever saluted by an English King on English soil.

SERVICES ARE HELD FOR CHARLES MUELLER TODAY

Funeral of Pioneer Citizen and Noted Marksman Takes Place From Undertaking Chapel.

Funeral services for Charles Mueller, 64, who died of acute bronchial pneumonia at his home, 1010 Morrison avenue sometime Saturday, were held at 3 p. m. today from an undertaking chapel at 3732 South Grand boulevard, with interment in the new St. Marcus Cemetery.

Mueller lived alone and was last seen by neighbors Friday night. His body was discovered on Tuesday when a son called at his home. Copies of the Post-Dispatch accumulated on the doorstep indicated that he had died Saturday.

For 50 years Mueller had been connected with the saddlery business in St. Louis, and he was owner of a shop at 904 South Fourth street. He was a noted marksman, and a member of the Police Revolver Club, the East St. Louis Revolver Club and the Central Sharpshooters' Association. Three sons, Charles P., Phillip J., and Fred F., and a daughter, Mrs. Clara Steatter, all of St. Louis, survive him.

Telephone Company Employe Also Given $500 Check.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 29.—Charles E. Rider of Guthrie, a telephone lineman, received the Theodore N. Vail gold medal, the highest award for heroic public service that can be given any of the 340,000 employes of the Bell Telephone System in America, at a dinner here last night. The medal was presented by E. D. Nims, president of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Accompanying the decoration was a check for $500.

Rider received the medal for restoring service across the flood-swollen Cimarron River in June, 1923, after a wreck and fire had destroyed two bridges. Under a doctor's care, Rider drove seven miles for a boat and put out on a racing stream, covered with floating patches of burning oil, carrying wires and cables to restore service.

MME. GANNA WALSKA SINGS IN 'BUTTERFLY' AT NICE

Audience Is Cold at First to Wife of H. J. McCormick, But Later Applauds Generously.

By the Associated Press.

NICE, France, Jan. 29.—Mme. Ganna Walska, the wife of Harold F. McCormick of Chicago, though nervous in the first act of "Madame Butterfly" at the Nice Opera last night, finally won the appreciation of her audience and at the end of the second act, received generous applause when she came forward to take the customary curtain call.

The audience, which was cold at the end of the first act because of the singer's nervousness, seemed surprised at the manner in which she presented Puccini's famous role in the later acts. At the conclusion, Mme. Ganna Walska said she intended to continue her career, appearing in France and other countries in Europe in the spring and summer. Her appearance followed upon three years of hard study to perfect her voice.

Dr. and Mrs. James Stewart Honored.

Dr. James Stewart, who is retiring as director of hygiene of the St. Louis public schools to become Secretary of the State Board of Health, under appointment of Gov. Baker, and Mrs. Stewart were guests of honor at a dinner at Hotel Statler last night, given by the physician's associates in the school work. During the evening these associates presented him with a gold watch and gave Mrs. Stewart a large bouquet of flowers.

The Missouri is a Famous Players theatre, which means that it has ideals and is founded on the solid rock of Intelligence. It is more than a building; it is an institution. It won and enjoys the confidence of all the people.

The ideals that dominate the operation of The Missouri are the ideals that create the Famous Players-Lasky Pictures. Each year for twelve years these productions have enlisted the best brains and the biggest national and international reputations. They have maintained standards unapproached by others.

This year Cecil B. DeMille's mighty picture "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS" and James Cruze's "THE COVERED WAGON" are thrilling evidences of the Paramount Picture standards. One is a tremendous contribution to the moral advancement of the nation, the other a great contribution to the national spirit.

HENRY STUDNICZKA, FORMER ST. LOUISAN, DIES IN WEST

He Was Member of School Board Here in 1897 and Prominent in Politics for Many Years.

Henry Studniczka, a former St. Louis sugar refinery owner and a member of the Board of Education in 1897, died at his home in Los Angeles Tuesday afternoon, according to a report received here by Dr. Frank L. Magoon, a friend. Death was caused by a malignant liver trouble. He was 74 years old.

Studniczka was prominent in St. Louis politics and during Taft's administration was sent to Europe by Secretary of Commerce Charles Nagel to study labor conditions. He was a native of Austria and when he returned as an agent of the United States he was decorated for exceptional valor on the battlefield displayed when he fought for Austria in the war with Prussia in 1866.

Following the death of his wife in 1913, Studniczka moved to Redlands, Calif., where three years later he married Mrs. Eva Kerr, a sister of Henry T. Hafner, 24 Windermere place, and Joseph A. Hafner, 4534 McPherson avenue. Mrs. Studniczka survives him.

Sherwood Forest Signals Protest Against Entry of Railroad.

By the Associated Press.

NOTTINGHAM, England, Jan. 29.—On the ground that a proposed railway line through Sherwood Forest would destroy the beauty of the legendary home of Robin Hood, a strong local protest has been started, headed by Earl Manvers.

The railway company wants to put in a line to serve a new colliery, but, as this would touch Beech avenue, one of the most beautiful spots in the country, the local population is up in arms.

Miss Veronica Strakosch, 22 years old, of 4163A Laclede avenue, was knocked down by an automobile driven by Elmer A. Bach of 3802 Westminster place, at 7 p. m. yesterday. She was taken to St. John's Hospital suffering from a fractured skull, fractured right hip, and internal injuries. The accident occurred on Lindell boulevard at the intersection of Boyle avenue. Bach told the police that Miss Strakosch had stepped into the path of his automobile in attempting to avoid being struck by another. He was charged with careless driving.

Edwards Woods, 26 years old, a plasterer, of 7146 Tremont avenue, suffered a lacerated scalp and possible concussion of the brain at 5 p. m. yesterday when his automobile collided with that of Dr. Willard Hans of 700 Kingshighway Park, at Shaw and Spring avenues. Woods was taken to the Missouri Pacific Hospital.

Adam Federspiel, 17 years old, a laborer of 1865 Menard street, suffered a fractured left leg at 7:30 o'clock this morning, when he was struck by an automobile driven by Arthur T. Howard, 3229A Ohio avenue, at Ninth street and Geyer avenue.

ECLIPSE PROVED SUN'S RAYS AFFECT RADIO TRANSMISSION

Waves With Night Time Range of 800 Miles Increased to 1800 During Phenomenon.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—The theory that the sun's rays have a marked effect on radio transmission has been "proved absolutely" by tests made at Escanaba, Mich., in the path of last Saturday's eclipse, according to a report issued by R. H. G. Matthews, chief engineer of the Zenith Radio Corporation, which took its broadcasting station, WJAZ, to Escanaba for the tests.

In a radius from eight to 25 miles from the station, and therefore, in the area of totality during the eclipse, strong night-time signals were received with no apparent decrease in daylight but a slight decrease during totality. In a radius of from 25 to 80 miles listeners reported strong daylight signals with a marked decrease during totality and restoration immediately thereafter. In the long distance band of more than 100 miles, there was an average range of 800 miles at night with nothing in the day time, with a marked increase in range and volume during the daylight period preceding and following the eclipse, the range during the eclipse being increased to about 1800 miles. No change in volume was noted during the progress of the eclipse in this area.

"It is evident," the report says, "that the mere presence of the moon's shadow neutralizes interference of the sun's rays to a sufficient extent to equal or even exceed night time conditions." The eclipse for long range points increased volume much in the manner of the increase in volume for a few seconds just as dawn is breaking, the report said.

'GREAT WHITE WAY' FOR PARIS

Boulevard Haussman to Rival Broadway by Night.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Broadway must look to its laurels as "The Great White Way." It is planned that the newly extended Boulevard Haussman shall become at night such a streak of light as will rival New York's main street, and the thoroughfare has already been dubbed in anticipation "the midnight boulevard."

The new section will be a center for amusement and entertainment, with a motion picture palace seating 3000, a grand restaurant, a cafe and two hotels. The proprietors of all the stores, cafes, restaurants and shops along the boulevard have promised to keep their windows and store fronts lighted until after midnight each night.

Fort Adams, R. I., Private Killed Girl Engaged to a Comrade.

By the Associated Press.

LAWYER REPLIES TO CHARGES AGAINST NIEDRINGHAUS FIRM

Says National Enameling and Stamping Co. Was Attacked for Not Giving Funds to St. Louis Coke Co.

Refusal by the National Enameling and Stamping Co., to "pull any chestnuts out of the fire" for certain parties interested in the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., now in receivership, is the reason why the management of the former company is being attacked.

This is the statement of S. T. G. Smith, attorney for the National Co., made to the Post-Dispatch today, in reply to a Chicago dispatch published yesterday in the Globe-Democrat. Smith spoke for the company and its president, George W. Niedringhaus, who is in New York.

The dispatch to which Smith referred quoted a letter containing charges that members of the Niedringhaus family and other "insiders" among the majority stockholders are drawing excessive salaries; that preferred dividends are being paid out of surplus, and not out of earnings; that $16,000,000 was paid for a steel plant, which could be operated at an annual profit of about $2,500,000, but is being operated at a loss.

The letter asked that the alleged "incompetency and waste" be eliminated and the management be changed. It was signed by Edwards Whitaker, president of the Boatmen's Bank of St. Louis; James Brown and J. D. Hayden of Brown Bros., New York; Leonard Busby of Chicago and C. D. Marshall of Pittsburg, as a committee representing minority stockholders.

Statement for Company.

Attorney Smith said:

"The fact is that the interests represented by the committee wrote us a letter stating that unless the present management turned over to them seven directorships on the national board, they would send out a circular to all stockholders.

"The object which these people have in view is to place control of the National Enameling and Stamping Co. in the hands of those owning a majority interest in the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., which has lost a lot of money and is now in the hands of a receiver.

"The statement that members of the Niedringhaus family are paying themselves $160,000 to $170,000 a year in salaries is untrue. There are at present only five persons, connected directly or indirectly with the Niedringhaus family, who have anything to do with the management of the National company, and the combined salaries of these five is less than $85,000 per year.

About the Steel Plant.

"The statement that the National company has paid $16,000,000 for its steel plant is also untrue. At the time the company was organized, in 1899, the steel plant was worth $475,000. Under the management of the present officers, and wholly out of the profits made by this management, this plant has been increased until its present value is in the neighborhood of $14,000,000. During all of this time this steel plant has been under the personal direction of Mr. George W. Niedringhaus, whose management is now being attacked.

"The statement that the steel works is being operated at a loss is untrue. While the past year in the steel business has been one of depression, the steel works has had a very profitable year and is at present operating on a very profitable basis.

Preferred Stock Dividends.

"The company has paid dividends on its preferred stock continuously since the date of its organization—for 26 years, and has just declared the full dividend on its preferred stock for the year 1925, and these dividends were declared out of past earnings, and not out of surplus.

"The present fight on the present officers of the National Co. is being made by persons interested in the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., in which company the National Co. has a large minority interest. Prior to March, 1924, the National Co. officials objected strenuously to the management of the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., pointing out that the then policy of the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co. management was wrong and would result in bankruptcy; and they insisted on radical changes in the management of the coke company.

"The majority interests, represented by Brown Bros., refused to make these changes, and in March, 1924, all of the directors of the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., representing on its board the National Co., resigned from the board, since which time, under the management complained of, the St. Louis Coke

(Full size Vanity, Large Dresser, Full size Bed and Chifforobe)

HERE is a superb four-piece Louis XVI walnut Suite that under ordinary conditions would sell for great deal more.

Only because we took over a quantity of these for cash, could we obtain a price concession of a substantial nature. This concession enables us to price it to you at $375.00.

Do not under any circumstances confuse this Suite with those usually offered at this price. To do so is to greatly underestimate its value. If you had contemplated spending around $600 for a Bedroom Suite, be sure to see this one before you decide. We know you will agree that it fully answers all the requirements in quality of construction and richness of finish.

The Design

The style of this beautiful Suite is inspired by the artists of the Louis XVI era in France. During the latter part of the 18th Century, French furniture reached its highest artistic attainment, both in purity of design and refinement of execution. The serene austerity of classic art was expressed in the Patrician beauty of structural line and the simple dignity of the refined decorations.

The Woods and Finish

Developed in highly figured and richly-hued walnut and gumwood, this Suite presents an impressive appearance of sumptuous luxury. The careful hand processed rubbing has brought out the luminous beauties of the walnut and emphasizes the exquisite grain and texture of the burl fronts. Flawless perfection might well describe this elegant finish.

Construction and Details

The details of construction bespeak highest quality and the outward appearance is but visible evidence of the quality within. Dustproof interiors with solid mahogany drawer sides and veneered mahogany drawer bottoms are but some features that establish this Suite as unusual. The backs of the pieces are finished in perfect harmony with the fronts. The dresser and vanity are tastefully ornamented with imported French chased drawer-pulls. Refined and delicate traceries add their exquisite charm to the decorations.

The Dimensions

The large dresser has a slightly rounded front and measures 50 inches wide. We call your particular attention to the ample size of the mirror which is 33x40 inches.

The extra large full vanity has a full-length mirror and two adjustable side mirrors. Vanity measures 69 inches in height and is 52 inches wide.

The full-size bed is fashioned with a bow-foot and conforms in detail and finish to the character of the other pieces.

The chifforobe has hanging space for clothes and is fitted with five large drawers. Chifforobe is 40 inches wide and stands 55 inches high.

Chair, Rocker, Bench and Night Stand extra if desired

The same Suite of five pieces with twin beds is specially reduced to $435.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

'KANSAS WHEAT GIRL' HOLDS WASHINGTON STAGE FOR DAY

President Is Presented With Bag of Wheat and Message From "Sunflower State."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—A blue eyed Miss from Kansas who raises chickens and cooks for harvest hands, claimed a part of the Washington stage for herself today. She is Vida Watson, daughter of a farmer living near Turon and only 19. As the "Kansas wheat girl," she carried to President Coolidge a bag of wheat and the message that "Kansas grows the best wheat in the world." The President in accepting the wheat observed that "Kansas not only grows the best wheat in the world, but apparently the best looking girls."

Miss Watson, selected as the most representative girl in Kansas at the inaugural two weeks ago of Gov. Ben S. Paulen, had her visit to Washington timed to coincide with celebration by Kansans, not only in their native state, but the world over, of "Kansas Day," the anniversary of the admission of Kansas to the union. The wheat included some of that harvested by the late President Harding near Hutchinson, Kan., on his final Western trip.

DEBUTANTE IS CARRIED FROM HER HOME BY TWO BURGLARS

Watchman Finds Kidnaped Girl Unharmed at Roadside Near Hospital.

By the Associated Press.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Jan. 29.—Mary Ellen Mellon, 19 years old, debutante, today is recovering in a local hospital from the shock of being kidnaped, gagged, bound and then deserted by two burglars who entered the home of her stepfather, R. D. Halliburton, head of a large department store here, shortly after midnight.

Miss Mellon, who was hysterical when she was found by a watchman for a hospital, soon recovered sufficiently to relate her experience. She said the men had entered the house soon after the rest of the family had retired, leaving her downstairs alone. They dragged her to their car, she said, after taking her several blocks, left her unharmed at the roadside near a hospital. She said the men made no attempt to rob or otherwise harm her.

CHARGES AGAINST NIEDRINGHAUS FIRM DENIED

and Iron Co. has been placed in the hands of receivers.

"Since then persons connected with the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co. have made many threats as to what they proposed to do to the National Co., and they have tried to force the National Co. to put more money into the St. Louis Co. and have insisted that the National Co. surrender the $2,700,000 first mortgage bonds, secured by the plant of the St. Louis Co., and take in exchange therefor second mortgage notes.

"Mr. George W. Niedringhaus, president of the National Co., and all of its officials and directors have been and are now united in the opinion that it would be a bad business policy to surrender first mortgage bonds on a concern which is in the hands of a receiver and to accept, in lieu of these bonds, second mortgage bonds.

Capital Stock $25,500,000.

"The present board of directors are personal owners of many thousands of shares of preferred and common stock in the National Co., and are personally interested in the success of the company, the Niedringhaus family being the largest individual stockholders in the company.

"The cash position of the National Co. is excellent. The company is making money, and business is better than it has been for many years.

"I do not know whether the persons mentioned in the newspapers represent 30,000 shares of stock of the National Co., as claimed, but if they do, it is less than one-eighth of the capital stock. Up to five days ago the combined holdings in the National Co. standing on the books of that company in the names of the alleged committee was less than 500 shares. The total capital stock of the company is $25,500,000."

In conclusion, Smith said: "The whole trouble with the persons responsible for the letter is that they are sore because they cannot use the present management of the National Co. to pull the St. Louis Coke and Iron Co.'s chestnut out of the fire."

Officers and Directors.

Officers of the National Enameling and Stamping Co. are: George W. Niedringhaus, president; Joseph F. Moran and William H. Mathal, vice presidents; George B. Hagerty, treasurer; Hayward Neidringhaus, secretary, and Alfred J. Kieckhefer, managing director of factories.

Directors, in addition to the officers mentioned, are: George W. Knapp, Albert Niedringhaus, Lee Niedringhaus, Frederick C. Orthwein, Harry M. Pflager, Charles S. Turner, S. Richmond, Edward H. Schwartzburg and Ferdinand Kieckhefer.

The St. Louis Coke and Iron Co., an $11,700,000 corporation, was formed in March, 1923, taking over the holdings of the St. Louis Coke & Chemical Co., which undertook, in 1919, the construction of a coke and steel plant, covering 300 acres, at Granite City, where are, also, the main properties of the National Enameling and Stamping Co. On Sept. 8, last, the St. Louis Co. was placed in a receivership, which W. G. McGuire, its president, described as "friendly." James Duncan of Alton is receiver.

OVERPAYMENT ON MANCHESTER ROAD JOB NOT RETURNED

Chief Engineer of Highway Commission Makes Statement After Disclosure in Inquiry.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—An official statement today by B. H. Piepmeier, chief engineer of the State Highway Commission, admitted that an overpayment of $6800 to a contractor for road construction which was brought out from witnesses by the Senate investigating committee Tuesday, has not been recovered by the commission. Assistant Chief Engineer Brown stated unofficially after the testimony was given that the excess payment had been repaid.

In Piepmeier's statement it was disclosed that the commission has written repeatedly to the contractor, Ernest Berns & Co. of Indianapolis, but that there had been no refund. The commission's attorney a month ago began negotiations with the Southern Surety Co., which bonded the construction company, in an effort to obtain the money from that source. The overpayment was on a part of the Manchester road concrete construction in St. Louis County.

Peipmeier explained that a clerk in the Highway Department had miscalculated the amount due the contractor. He said the clerk had been dismissed. Piepmeier expressed the opinion that the contracting firm had a high standing and said he was confident it would return the excess payment.

Brown's statement was that the contractor had other work in Missouri and that the amount of the excess had been deducted from an amount due it on another job.

DR. SUN NOT IN PAIN

Chinese Leader, Reported Dead Tuesday, Resting Comfortably.

By the Associated Press.

PEKIN, Jan. 29.—Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, leader of the Government of Southern China, who underwent an operation for cancer recently, spent a comfortable night and was not in pain this morning. His temperature was normal, his pulse registered 103 and physicians pronounced his condition satisfactory.

Dr. Sun Yat-Sen was reported dead Tuesday in dispatches received at Tokio by a Japanese news agency. The foregoing dispatch from Pekin tends to indicate that surgeons attending Dr. Sun are more hopeful about his condition. After Dr. Sun was operated on it was expected that his illness would prove fatal within 10 days.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

DUBLIN, Jan. 29.—Recall of Michael Smiddy as Irish representative in Washington is under consideration as a result of his refusal to attend the Sulgrave Institute dinner. It is represented here that he came under control of Irish extremists in the United States. His action was not suggested from Dublin and accounts of resentment aroused have worried official circles. If Smiddy is recalled no successor will be appointed for the present.

Cold Ruins Champagne Vineyards.

BATUM, Georgia, Jan. 29.—Vineyards and orchards have been destroyed by the unexampled cold which prevails throughout the Caucasus. The famous Abravdurso vineyards in the Northern Caucasus, which have supplied Russia with its finest champagne, are completely ruined, and many vineyards noted for white and red wines have suffered a similar fate. Great areas of lemon and tangerine trees in the Batum district have been killed. There are three feet of snow in the Tiflis and Baku districts and all the oil wells are idle.

BUCHAREST, Jan. 29.—The Rumanian Senate yesterday ratified the extraditional convention arranged last summer with the United States. The adverse vote of the Legislatures is not final, according to the statement, and the amendment "has not been defeated or shelved." 1,900% Increase in Lead in Real Estate Advertising

In 1923 the Post-Dispatch led the second newspaper by 7,080 lines of Real Estate Advertising, wresting from that newspaper a leadership in Real Estate Advertising it had enjoyed for a quarter of a century.

In 1924 the Post-Dispatch led the second newspaper by 142,020 lines of Real Estate Advertising—increasing the lead by more than 1900 per cent over the year before.

This increase in the use of the Post-Dispatch by Real Estate Advertisers, both large and small, even more firmly establishes the reputation of the Post-Dispatch as St. Louis' most powerful influence for selling real estate.

Post-Dispatch Exceeds Three Others Combined

Regularly, week after week, the Post-Dispatch carries far more Real Estate Advertisements, by actual count, than the Globe-Democrat, The Star and The Times combined.

THE REASON:

The St. Louis circulation of the Daily Post-Dispatch is more than that of the morning and one of the other evening newspapers combined—more than both other evening newspapers added together.

The St. Louis circulation of the Sunday Post-Dispatch exceeds that of the other St. Louis Sunday newspaper by more than 80,000.

Man Hurt Going Through Plate Glass to Recover Money.

A man who gave his name as Carmelia Siess, 27, and said he was a visitor to St. Louis, was found on the sidewalk, in front of a hotel at Nineteenth and Market streets, last evening, bleeding from cuts about the face, chest, arms and hands.

When questioned at the City Hospital as to his suspected adversary, he referred police to a broken plate glass partition in the hotel—a situation subsequently confirmed. He related he was entertaining two young women in his room and chanced to show his purse, containing $110, to one of them. After they left, he looked inside and found $40. In his haste to pursue his callers, he mistook the plate glass partition as an orifice, and crashed into it.

BAKER NEAR DECISION ON POLICE AND ELECTION BOARDS

Names of Men for the St. Louis Jobs to Be Sent to the Senate in a Few Days.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—The checkerboard game which Gov. Baker has been playing on the appointment of the St. Louis Election and Police boards, apparently with the object of wearing out St. Louis organization politicians who have been unable to get their slates approved, is nearing the end.

The Governor today admitted he "had four men on the king row" for the Election Board, and was about "to get the fourth man to the king row of the Police Board." He said the names would be sent to the Senate in a few days.

He declined to name his selections, explaining he "might change his mind." Organization Republicans have been coming here regularly to try to change the Governor's mind, but appear to have weakened under the strain and the visits are becoming more intermittent.

NOME FIGHTS DIPHTHERIA WITH ANTI-TOXIN FIVE YEARS OLD

Good Results Reported in Checking Spread of Epidemic With Aged Units.

By the Associated Press.

NOME, Alaska, Jan. 29.—Nome is fighting against the spread of hundreds of cases of diphtheria today with anti-toxin units five years old, and good results have been reported.

Dog teams are racing over 800 miles of snowbound trails, hastening to this town from Anchorage and Nenana with 300,000 fresh units.

Most of the deaths have been among the Eskimos.

Leonard Zeppalla, dog sweepstakes winner, left yesterday with a fast Siberian team of 20 dogs to meet relay teams from Nenana.

By the Associated Press.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Jan. 29.—Although an aviator here was available to fly 400 miles to Nome, arrangements were made today to rush by fast dog teams, running in relays, a supply of 1,000,000 units of diphtheria anti-toxin on receipt from Seattle via Seward, Alaska, to the quarantined town of Nome. Roy S. Darling, special investigator for the Department of Justice and a former navy flyer, volunteered his services. Delegate Dan Sutherland, however, sent word from Washington that the dangerous trip must be made by dog teams.

FINAL FORBES TRIAL ARGUMENT

Assistant Attorney-General Attacks Defense Theory.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Assistant Attorney-General John W. H. Crim began the final argument for the prosecution in the Veterans' Bureau conspiracy trial today, vigorously attacking the defense argument that Elias H. Mortimer, the chief prosecution witness, had been accepted as a man of high social standing in Washington because of his professed friendship with President Harding.

"Oh! The sins that the friends of Warren Harding visited upon him," he exclaimed. "Oh! That they had stayed away from Washington. Oh! Untimely death; that he might be alive today to tell how he was duped by his friends."

WOULD FIX COURT PROCEDURE

Bill Required Supreme Court to Make Forms for Criminal Cases.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 29.—A measure seeking to require the Supreme Court to prepare forms of indictments and informations in criminal cases and to prepare rules of practice, pleading and procedure for all courts of the State was introduced today by Senator Wammack of Bloomfield.

If the bill becomes a law it is the expectation that the many reversals in criminal cases will be obviated, as the form of indictments and informations will have been passed upon by the Court in advance. Senator Wammack, explaining the bill, said it was intended to simplify court procedure in the interest of more speedy administration of justice.

PAAVO NURMI ADDS TWO MORE WORLD'S RECORDS TO HIS LIST

Finn Beats Ray's Marks For the Mile and a Half And Mile and a Quarter

American Long Distance Running Star, Unable to Keep Fast Pace Set by Invading Track Marvel, Drops Out After Three Laps—Plant Defeats Frigerio.

By Charles E. Parker.
Of the New York World Sport Staff.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Paavo Nurmi added two more world's marks to his constantly growing total last night when, without exertion, he raced to triumph in the Rodman Wanamaker one-and-one-half mile special—the feature event on the thrilling program of the Millrose A. A games at Madison Square Garden. The Finn completed the full distance in 6 minutes 39 2-5 seconds, or 2 2-5th seconds under the indoor record made by Joie Ray two years ago, and the great Paavo was caught at the mile and one-quarter post in 5 minutes 30 1-5 seconds, or 3 1-5 seconds under Joie Ray's mark for that distance.

Joie, who was a starter in the race, dropped out at the end of the third lap with his hand clasping his side as if he were suffering a cramp. Some of the gallery evidently believe Joie was acting, for there was a sound of booing as he pulled up and moved toward the locker rooms.

But Paavo, despite his remarkable achievement, was not the only hero of a meet, which for the second successive night packed Madison Square Garden to its utmost capacity, nor was he the single record performer.

Frigerio Beaten by Plant.

If the volume of applause was taken as the guide, the big favorite of the evening was Willie Plant, who, to the surprise of every person present, walked proverbial rings around Ugo Frigerio, Italy's Olympic champion, to win the special 5000-meter international walk, with a margin of three-quarters of a lap to spare, and creating a world's indoor record of 22 minutes 6 3-5 seconds as he did so.

Plant's mark and Nurmi's time were three of four world's records established during the evening. The fourth mark was a new indoor world's record for the two-mile relay, set by the Georgetown University quartet of Eddie Brooks, Bill Sullivan, John Holden and George Marsters. Only last Saturday this same combination set the mark at 7 minutes 47 1-5 seconds, and last night, in defeating Boston College at the distance, Georgetown was clocked in 7 minutes 44 seconds. One other world's record was twice equaled when Charley Moore of Penn State negotiated the 50-yard hurdles in record-equaling time of 6 1-5 seconds, while winning his trial heat, and Herb Meyer of the Newark A. C. scored the same figures in winning the final.

Plant's Victory a Surprise.

Plant's crushing defeat of Frigerio easily was the big surprise of the games. Many believed the American could win, but none expected to see quarters of a lap separating the pair when the finish line was reached.

That Willie was out to win was apparent from the very outset, for he grabbed the lead in the first three strides and for the first half of the distance fought off challenge after challenge, never once allowing the Italian to come abreast of him. From that point Plant simply walked away from Frigerio, adding five or 10 yards to his lead at each circling of the track.

The Italian had little opportunity or inclination to engage in his usual hand-waving and head-shaking to the crowd. He was very seriously engaged in walking.

His work against Plant should not be too harshly judged, however, for it must be remembered that he arrived in this country only a few days ago after an exhausting trip overseas; also that he engaged in an exhausting race Thursday, while Plant was saving up for last night's trip.

Frigerio a Good Loser.

Frigerio proved a good loser. He came up to the finish smiling and, after completing the course, trotted over to where Plant stood, grasped his hand and before Willie knew what was taking place Frigerio had planted a kiss on each of the Plant cheeks.

The Nurmi special quickly lost any competitive qualities. Paavo, contrary to his usual custom, beat the field off the mark and carried his rivals at such a fast clip during the first and second laps that he piled up an eight-yard lead. Willie Goodwin of the N. Y. A. C. attempted to run with him for a time, but found the pace much too hot. Joie Ray, trailing far in the rear, soon quit the event, and George Lermond and Bill Cox were clearly out of it. All but Goodwin were lapped before the easy striding Finn broke the tape at the finish.

Dispersal Sale Of Belmont Stars Nets $1,000,000

Widener Acquires Last of Nursery Stud Stock, 68 in All, for $500,000.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Joseph E. Widener, chairman of the standing committee of the Jockey Club and president of the Westchester Racing Association, purchased the thoroughbred breeding stock made up of the stallion Fair Play, Hourless and Messenger and 65 brood mares from the estate of the late August Belmont yesterday. The sale was at "private terms," but a conservative estimate puts the value at not less than $500,000.

This is the biggest individual transaction in thoroughbred blood stock in the history of the turf in this country. It completes the dispersal of all the horses of the late chairman of the Jockey Club for a price approximating $1,000,000.

Widener to Hold Sale May 15.

Mr. Widener did not make the purchase with intention of adding all the horses to his already extensive breeding establishment. A few hours after the transfer was made he gave instructions to sell without reserve the brood mares, which are considered the finest collection in this country, and the stallions at public auction at Nursery Stud, which is near Lexington, Ky., on May 15, the day before the running of the Kentucky Derby.

Two or three weeks ago W. Averell Harriman of the Log Cabin Farm purchased Ladkin and Blind Play and seven 2-year-olds, the horses in training, which are wintering at Belmont Park, for a price said to be in excess of $250,000.

Coincident with this sale, Mrs. Payne Whitney, owner of the Green Tree stable, bought Ordinance, which was rated almost as highly as Ladkin, last season, for something like $100,000.

A day or two later Mr. Widener bought all the yearlings, 25 of them, at Nursery Stud, for $100,000. Now he is the owner of the remainder of the blood stock.

Hillyards Meet Leacocks Tonight

St. Joseph Team Is One of Strongest Independent Basketball Clubs in Country.

One of the greatest amateur basketball teams in the country will appear here this evening when the Hillyards of St. Joseph, Mo., oppose the Leacocks of St. Louis at the St. Louis University High School gymnasium.

In the past three seasons the Hillyards have lost only four games and one of them was a national A. A. U. final last spring when the Butler University five defeated the St. Joe team for the amateur title.

Former College Stars.

Four of the regular players are former stars of the Kansas University team and one is a graduate of Indianapolis independent teams. Mosby, Rody, Wulf and De Bernardi are the ex-Kansas U. men and Starbuck is the Indianapolis star. Pete Rief is another former college player.

The Leacocks are Municipal champions. The team has been organized and a contender for Municipal League honors for six seasons.

Tonight's game will start at 8:30 o'clock with Carl Kamp as referee.

The St. Louis U. High School building is at Kingshighway and Oakland avenue.

CONNIE MACK NAMES SON CAPTAIN OF TEAM

By the Associated Press.

Jimmy O'Connell Denied Immunity

Outfielder's Lawyer Announces Player Will Not Go East to Testify.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell, banished outfielder of the New York Giants, will not be granted immunity if he appears here in connection with the investigation into the Dolan-O'Connell bribery scandal. This decision was wired today by District Attorney Banton in reply to a message received from Joseph McInerney, O'Connell's San Francisco lawyer, saying that the latter would refuse to come here unless he were promised immunity.

Albert "Cozy" Dolan, debarred coach of the New York Giants, appeared today and went before Assistant District Attorney George Brothers for questioning.

Dolan's conviction followed when he gave expression to a series of "I don't remember" replies to Landis' questions.

Dolan's appearance here without being granted immunity from prosecution was a distinct step toward solving the riddle, according to Brothers.

Dolan was accompanied into Mr. Brothers' office by Leslie M. O'Connor, secretary to Baseball Commissioner Landis. O'Connor arrived here yesterday as the personal representative of Landis at the investigation.

Reiteration of their denials of the statements attributed to them in connection with the bribery scandal were contained in messages sent to Mr. Brothers by Emil Yde, Pittsburg pitcher, and Bill Cunningham, Boston outfielder. Yde denied he had said there was talk among baseball players that the "higher ups" had been "fixed" while Cunningham characterized as "a mass of lies" newspaper stories quoting him as saying that Ross Young had described the whole bribery deal as a case of "kidding."

Manager Arthur Fletcher and John Couch of the Philadelphia team and George Kelly of the Giants are scheduled to appear at the district attorney's office tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell will not go to New York to testify in the bribery investigation against him unless he is granted full immunity, "and that's all there is to it," Joseph McInerny, his attorney, said here today. McInerny said he had received the telegram of District Attorney Banton of New York denying immunity.

Mr. Banton's telegram added that "O'Connell's legitimate expense coming to New York will be paid" if the former player alters his decision about giving further testimony.

NEW COLUMBIA COACH STARTED CAREER AT DALLAS HIGH SCHOOL

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 29.—Charles (Chuck) Crowley, whose engagement as football coach at Columbia University was announced yesterday, received his first coaching experience at the University of Dallas, a local Catholic school.

Crowley came here in 1913, shortly after his graduation from Notre Dame, and was director of all branches of athletics until 1917, when he resigned to enter army service. During his regime the University of Dallas was a bigger factor in Texas athletic competition than it had ever been before or has been since. The football team lost but five games in the four years Crowley was its coach. He developed such stars as Cecil Griggs, Pete Layden and Dick Sowell. Griggs was one of the greatest broken field runners in the Southwest.

After his discharge from the army, in which he rose to the rank of major of infantry, Crowley did not immediately resume coaching. He got back into football in 1921 as line coach at Harvard. He went with Percy Haughton to Columbia as assistant coach and returned to Harvard last year as freshman coach.

In the Southwest, Crowley is a well-known official as well as coach.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TENPIN TOURNAMENT OPENING TONIGHT

The third annual tenpin tournament of the Knights of Columbus begins tonight at Rogers Recreation Parlors, 1000 Washington avenue. Twenty teams of five men each representing local councils of the Knights of Columbus will roll tonight. "Muddy" Ruel, catcher of the Washington Senators will bowl with Team No. 7 of the Pauline Council.

More than 300 five-man teams will bowl in the tournament before it is completed on March 1.

While it is not expected that the tournament will set many records for scores, the purpose of the event is to bring together members of Knights of Columbus from all over the country in a spirit of friendly rivalry. However, some very good bowlers will participate, among them Jimmy Blouin of Chicago, who is generally recognized as the world's champion bowler. Blouin has just completed half of an 80-game match with Joe Scribner of Detroit in defense of the title and holds what appears to be an insurmountable lead of more than 400 pins.

GIBBONS WANTS $30,000 FOR BOUT WITH FUENTE

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 29.—Thirty thousand dollars or a privilege of 40 per cent of the gate receipts is what Tommy Gibbons, runner-up for the heavyweight crown of Jack Dempsey, is reported to want for a match here on Feb. 21 with Tony Fuente. This figure, it was said today, was quoted by Eddie Kane, Gibbons' manager, to Dick Donald, who replied he would guarantee $20,000 with an afterfate privilege of 35 per cent of the gate receipts.

Donald plans to hold the bout in Washington Park here on the evening before Washington's birthday. On the same card it is planned to have Sammy Mandell meet Phil Salvadore and Kane is said to want a $7500 guarantee for Mandel's appearance.

Martin Accepts $30,000 Offer to Defend His Title

Bantam Champion Will Oppose Frankie Genarro; Leonard to Box for Charity.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—"Cannonball Eddie" Martin last night accepted an offer of $30,000 to defend his bantamweight title in a fight with Frankie Genaro, American flyweight title holder.

The fight will probably be held in Madison Square Garden, either March 20 or May 5. At least half of the profits of the show will go to the People's Hospital.

Benny Leonard, who recently vacated the lightweight title, has consented to meet any worthy opponent in a six-round bout. He will fight without remuneration.

WELKER COCHRAN IN EXHIBITION MATCHES IN ST. LOUIS TOMORROW

Welker Cochran, who will be a contestant for Willie Hoppe's world's balkline billiard championship next month, will appear in exhibition matches at Peterson's theater tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Cochran will play both balkline and three-cushion billiards while here. He is said to be playing as well as ever before in his career. He ran 318 points in a recent exhibition at Graney's parlors in San Francisco and averaged 70 in a match there. In Minneapolis a few days ago he ran 280.

Fred Fulton and his manager, are scheduled to go on trial here today for conspiracy to violate the California boxing law, as the result of a fight held here some time ago, in which Fuente disposed of Fulton via the K. O. route in unusually short order.

Referee—Harry S. Sharpe.

A team of four boxers from Little Rock, Ark., will oppose four selected St. Louis scrappers in the feature events of an amateur boxing program to be held at the Coliseum this evening. The Business Men's A. C., which has put on two similar shows in the last two months, is promoting tonight's venture under the sanction of the Western A. A. U.

Among the four visitors is a district champion. He is George Sanders, a featherweight. After winning the Western A. A. U. championship at Omaha last spring, Sanders went to Boston for the finals and was defeated in the final bout of the class.

Tonight, Sanders will meet Ray Alfano who has also reached the national finals.

Heavyweights on Card.

Something unique in local amateur boxing circles will be offered in the appearance of Joe Baker, a local light heavyweight, against Joe Harrison of Little Rock. No heavyweights have appeared in feature events of amateur programs here in many months. Baker is a protege of Fireman Dan O'Keefe, discover of Harry Kabakoff, and Babe Asher.

Bobby Hill of Sherman Park Community Center will meet Little Rock's lightweight star, Walter Ringo, in the third special bout. The fourth affair has not been definitely completed. Either Mike Sansone or Nick Charwick will oppose Bruce Sutton of the visiting team. Sutton is booked as a bantamweight but Sansone has agreed to meet him if he weighs 116 pounds or under. If Sutton scales 118 pounds he will be sent against Charwick. Gus Pirrone would have been selected for this bout but he received a cut over his left eye in training and was forced to remain off the program. Eddie Kaiser, originally booked for Sutton, injured his right hand in training.

Freckles Barry to Appear.

There will be eight or ten preliminary bouts with local boxers of class A rating furnishing the competition.

Wesley "Freckles" Barry, juvenile moving picture star, and Charles "Kid" Regan, will put on an exhibition bout as an added attraction, according to the promoters.

The program will start at 8:30 o'clock.

Harry Sharpe will referee.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Made to Order Fighters.

ONE of the most interesting pugilistic experiments on record is ready for the unveiling. That is the attempt of Tex O'Rourke to build up a champion from the raw material.

All of the fighters we have known—those that amounted to anything—came up through the school of hard knocks and plenty of them. Tex is trying to short-cut his proteges, who were hand-picked from among 162 specimens, by imparting in the gym and in private trials the fighting stuff usually picked up in many battles.

O'Rourke has two men, Price and Prestage, whom he imported from England. After many months he has brought them round to the point where he is willing to risk their appearance in public. Such veteran managers as Joe Woodman and other critics of quality, who have seen the men in gym work, merely smile indulgently when O'Rourke's enterprise is spoken of.

"You can't make a fighter to order in the gym," is their view, "any more than you can build muscle on predigested food pills."

Tex himself has few illusions about the matter, for he brought his Britons to this country to give them six months actual fighting experience with American methods.

If he succeeds he will open a new vista for sports promoters of all sorts. But there are few experienced handlers of athletes who believe that a great ball-player, runner, fighter or football star can be turned out at will.

The Case of Jim Thorpe.

JIM THORPE was one of the finest physical beings in the United States. He was fast, powerful, quick-thinking and game. He proved it on many a football field and cinder path.

But when they came to remake him over into a great baseball star, he wasn't there, Lafayette. He was just a second rater.

Why? Who can guess? The same equipment for greatness was available on the diamond as on the football field.

No Can Do.

IF dispatches from New York are credible, Willie Hoppe has cast caution to the wind and has gone into the business of taking chances.

One week before the international balkline championship tournament is scheduled, Hoppe will take on Bob Cannefax in a three-cushion series.

Time was when Willie would have looked with horror on such a suggestion.

"The three-cushion stroke is fatal to balkline," he once said, when asked why he did not go after the three-cushion title.

Perhaps Willie may have found out, through his recent experience at the angle game, that his first impression was not correct and that three-cushion stroke is no detriment to a balkline player.

But a week of training at three-cushions surely seems risky preparation for a balkline championship.

Does Racing Horses Pay?

THE Belmont Breeding Farm's racing assets have just been finally disposed of for upwards of $1,000,000. A reasonable net return on the investment would be $60,000—which in this day of $50,000 purses and fabulous prices for yearlings would make the business appear a lucrative one.

The expenses are enormous, however; and it is doubtful if Maj. Belmont's expensive hobby was often out of the red ink.

With racing coming strong, with new tracks being completed almost monthly and with the demand for horses growing, the breeding business may soon be back where it was in the days when Barney Schreiber's Woodlands Farm, in St. Louis County, made the State famous.

Not All Prosperous.

AT Tia Juana they have introduced a queer wrinkle. It is a race in which a $200 prize is offered to the horse that runs LAST!

Also he is forever barred from racing at the track.

There's tragedy behind that, for the owner. The reason for the queer race is that the horse that can do no better than last in such a field is so bad as to be undesirable to the track management.

But in order to recompense the owner for the high cost of removing him to other fields the prize for finishing last is given. The winner and place horse also, however, are rewarded.

The $200 is probably a lifesaver to some of the "gypsies" who, unable to win with the horse and having no other breadwinner, find themselves up to the eyes in debt for feed bills.

Sooners, Despite Injuries Expect To Defeat Pikers

Improved Defense and Long-Distance Shooting Encourage Oklahomans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NORMAN, Ok., Jan. 29.—Despite examinations which have kept the Oklahoma Sooners busy this week, Coach Hugh V. McDermott has been sending his basket squad through long and strenuous workout in preparation for the conference game with the Washington University Pikers here Saturday afternoon.

Gloom hangs over the campus, as the game approaches, for the Sooners will go into the contest minus the services of two star forwards, Ruppert and McBride.

Ruppert has spent most of the week in the infirmary as the result of bruises suffered in the Ames game when he was thrown to the floor after a short shot at the basket. McBride has not been on the court since he was injured in the Piker game at St. Louis.

Both were in uniform yesterday, and Sooner followers had hoped to see them in the lineup for at least a part of the game, but McDermott announced today that he will rely on two new men, Honeal and Moore, to fill the forward positions.

Veteran at Center and Guard.

Wheeler, center and Dunlap, guard, members of the combination which carried Oklahoma to second place in the conference race last season, are scheduled to start; and Goodwin, letter guard, will also probably draw an assignment for the opening.

The long shots of Wheeler and Dunlap have kept the Sooners in the running, and they have spent extra periods on practice shots from mid-court, this week. While Goodwin is exceptionally fast, he is handicapped in size, and has been at a disadvantage against rangy invaders this season.

Haller, first year guard, will probably be called on for relief duty in the Piker tilt.

After losing the first two conference games to Nebraska and Washington, the Sooners managed to break even by defeating Missouri and Ames.

The comeback was due to improved floor work and defense; and the Pikers will meet an entirely different team from that over which they nosed out a 32 to 30 victory in their conference opener.

It is this defense and the long distance shooting of Dunlap and Wheeler that the Sooners are counting on for victory Saturday, despite the rearranged lineup.

The Washington game will inaugurate the hardest week of the year on the Oklahoma schedule, since the Sooners will take the road again to meet Kansas the Kansas Aggies and Nebraska in succession.

O'Rourke's British "Hopes," Pick Of 162 Heavies, Get Test Tonight

Result of European Quest for English Fighter of Quality Will Be Revealed in New York Bouts—Both Britons Oppose Negroes.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Tex O'Rourke, he that went to Europe on a special assignment a year ago to smoke out a real heavyweight, tried out 162 different possibilities and boiled them down to 10. Wealthy sportsmen backed the project and gave Tex three years in which to dig up a Jem Mace, a Charley Mitchell, or maybe a real British heavyweight "hope."

They've never had a real one over there and these sportsmen couldn't understand it any more than the rest of the world.

They sent Tex on a man hunt into the British Isles and possessions and the would-be champions were installed in a training camp established in the Worcestershire hills. Those who appeared to be worth while were turned over to various managers. Tex brought two of the best with him to this country and he is sending them to glory—or the shambles—at the New Manhattan Club in the Old Manhattan Casino, 155th street and Eighth avenue, tonight.

Tex calls them his "English Crusaders." They are Les Price and Billy Prestage. Prestage is 20 years old and stands 6 feet 2 inches and weighs 192. He is a foundry man from Rugby.

Leslie Price is from Bristol and is 6 feet 1 inch tall. His folks are well-to-do hotel people and Price has taking up boxing as a hobby. It is O'Rourke's idea to keep them in this country for six months to gain experience against our heavyweights. Tonight Prestage meets Arthur Smith and Price faces Smiling Bill Nolan, both being negroes.

Those who have seen them work say both have a lot to learn.

There is considerable interest among fans in the feature bout between Chief Halbran, the Iroquois Indian, and Lou Bogash, the Bridgeport mauler. The Indian is a newcomer in the light-heavyweight division and already has stamped himself as a menace in that class.

ALLEN HALL LOSES TWO LEAGUE MATCHES TO ROBERT CANNEFAX

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Allen Hall, former St. Louis amateur three-cushion champion, now representing Chicago in the National League, was defeated in two games here yesterday by Robert Cannefax, world's champion.

The scores were 50 to 33 in 48 innings and 50 to 25 in 46 innings. Cannefax had a high run of 6 and Hall ran 5.

DETROIT, Mich., Jan. 29. — Gus Copulos of this city defeated Arthur Thurnblad of Milwaukee in two Three-Cushion League matches here yesterday. Copulos ran out in 20 innings in the afternoon games, 50 to 22. He had a high run of 9. In the evening game Copulos ran his 50 points in 50 innings while Thurnblad reached 25.

Waco to Return to League

By the Associated Press.

DALLAS, Tex., Jan. 29.—Re-entry of the Waco club into the Texas League after an absence of five years was virtually assured through an agreement perfected by a league committee here yesterday. Action of the committee is expected to be ratified at a meeting of the league at Shreveport Feb. 7. Waco will supplant Galveston, which withdrew from the league last year.

SOCCER PLAYERS MEET TONIGHT FOR PURPOSE OF ELECTING OFFICERS

Players of the St. Louis Soccer League will meet tonight at the Sacred Heart School Hall, St. Louis avenue at Twenty-third street. The purpose of the gathering is to elect officers and to hear the report of the committee on the players' benefit fund.

Members of the Vesper team yesterday denied that their club had gone on record as opposed to the players' insurance plan based upon an annual benefit game. No definite arrangement has been urged by the committee, the matter being open to discussion.

DOGS WORK WELL IN TRIALS DESPITE SNOW

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn., Jan. 29.—With 12 of the 32 dogs that are competing in the derby of the Central States Trials still to run no forecast can be made at this time as to the probable winner. Some of the dogs yesterday set high marks for those which are to follow. The day was cold and ground frozen and covered with snow but birds were found quite plentiful and several of the competitors did nice work on game. Among the dogs standing out were the setter, Big Hatchie May, the setter, Sandy McPherson, Speed's Boaz Lady and Brew's Sister May, a pointer.

UGO FRIGERIO.

Frigerio was beaten last night by an American, Willie Plant, in the 5000-meter walk. Frigerio limped painfully through the event, because of a foot injury suffered in a race the previous night, due to a faulty shoe.

Wells Defeats Latzo.

OAKLAND, Cal., Jan. 29. — Billy Wells, English welterweight champion, won a decision over Pete Latzo of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., in a fast 10-round bout here last night. There were no knockdowns.

Hoppe-Cannefax Billiard Match Set for Feb. 15

Balk-Line King to Meet Angle Champion in 3-Cushion Event at Friars Club.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The long delayed three-cushion match between Willie Hoppe, the balk-line champion and Bob Cannefax, the king of the carom players, will be held at the Friar's Club beginning on Sunday, Feb. 15.

Hoppe and Cannefax were scheduled to meet in an 11-block match at the Strand Billiard Academy starting Jan. 15, but because the players had also arranged to play a second match in Boston, their meeting at the local academy was called off.

Now it is said there will be only one match played to decide the superiority of the two players at three cushions.

CAPT. FORNER TO DIRECT ATHLETICS AT KEMPER

BOONVILLE, Mo., Jan. 29.—Capt. C. W. Forner, head track coach and assistant football mentor at Kemper Military Academy here, will succeed Capt. C. A. Clingenpeel as director of athletics of the academy, it was learned here last night.

Clingenpeel resigned recently to accept a position as athletic director at Central College, Fayette, Mo.

Capt. Forner will continue as track coach, it was said, and another man will be obtained next year as coach of basketball and baseball. He is a graduate of William and Vashti College, Aledo, Ill.

COUNTRY DAY DEFEATS McBRIDE HIGH, 25—24

Country Day broke the tie for first place in the St. Louis Prep League yesterday by defeating McBride, 25-24, in the basketball game played on the Codasco court. McBride was tied with St. Louis University High for the leadership, while Country Day was second.

The game was close throughout, the score being tied, 13-13, at the half mark. With the score 21-22 in favor of McBride, Moore, center, sank one for Codasco as the whistle blew, giving the Red and White the game. Coach Free protested that Wessling, a guard, had not been credited with a basket, but it was found that Wessling's points had been given to Anderson.

Capt. Morris and Frank played well for the city lads, while Disbrow and Short shone for Codasco.

Martin Accepts $30,000 Offer to Defend His Title

Bantam Champion Will Oppose Frankie Genarro; Leonard to Box for Charity.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—"Cannonball Eddie" Martin last night accepted an offer of $30,000 to defend his bantamweight title in a fight with Frankie Genaro, American flyweight title holder.

The fight will probably be held in Madison Square Garden, either March 20 or May 5. At least half of the profits of the show will go to the People's Hospital.

Benny Leonard, who recently vacated the lightweight title, has consented to meet any worthy opponent in a six-round bout. He will fight without remuneration.

WELKER COCHRAN IN EXHIBITION MATCHES IN ST. LOUIS TOMORROW

Welker Cochran, who will be a contestant for Willie Hoppe's world's balkline billiard championship next month, will appear in exhibition matches at Peterson's theater tomorrow afternoon and evening.

Cochran will play both balkline and three-cushion billiards while here. He is said to be playing as well as ever before in his career. He ran 318 points in a recent exhibition at Craney's parlors in San Francisco and averaged 70 in a match there. In Minneapolis a few days ago he ran 290.

Fred Fulton and his manager, are scheduled to go on trial here today for conspiracy to violate the California boxing law, as the result of a fight held here some time ago, in which Fuente disposed of Fulton via the K. O. route in unusually short order.

Paavo Nurmi's Story—

as told by him to Chas. E. Parker

DAILY in the POST-DISPATCH

Commencing Sunday, February 1

What's his secret? Pendulum stride? Diet? Training? They have to run in Finland because there is so much distance between houses, but that doesn't show why Nurmi, the Northlander, could finish the 10,000-meter run as fresh as a plate of ice cream while a temperature of 102 bowled over competitors right and left.

Nurmi's story is crammed with tips for athletes and it's an absorbing human story besides. It tells how a poor lad with nothing but legs made the whole world sit up and take notice. If you want to understand what Nurmi is doing in America you've just got to read it!

ST. LOUIS COUNTY BOY SCOUT PUTS OUT FIRE ON ROAD

Home Heights Looks on Eddie Feldman as a Hero and His Ruined Sweater Will Be Replaced.

Eddie Feldman is the hero of Home Heights. The unanimous verdict of this St. Louis County community has almost caused Eddie to decide, too, that he is a hero, but then there is this question of a Boy Scout's duty. When a Boy Scout sees a burning building, what is there for him to do but put out the fire?

Eddie is only a second class scout in the Home Heights Troop, and Tuesday afternoon, walking home from school, he had pinned to his new red sweater the second class badge with a wire string to remind him that he must do a good deed each day.

"I was trying to think of a good deed to do when I saw the roof of Mr. Johnson's house on fire," Eddie related today. "It was my chance, so I climbed up the porch and beat out the flames."

As they tell it in Home Heights, Eddie was beating at the flames when neighbors ran out to bring a ladder and buckets of water to finish the job. Eddie's sweater was ruined, and W. A. Johnson, who owns the house he saved, has promised to buy him a new one. If they are going to give him a medal, Eddie wants one engraved with the words, "Home Heights, Troop No. 1."

SISTER SELICIANA DEAD

Member of Order of St. Mary Expires at St. Charles.

Sister Seliciana, 48 years old, of the Order of St. Mary, who has been identified with St. Joseph's Hospital at St. Charles, died there Tuesday night of pneumonia.

Sister Feliciana was born in Germany and came to St. Charles from St. Louis in 1910 and served here at the St. Joseph's Hospital. She was a member of the Order of St. Mary for 27 years.

The funeral will be held at 9 a. m. tomorrow from St. Mary's Infirmary, St. Louis. Interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

124 TORNADOES IN U. S. IN 1924

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—A total of 124 tornadoes in the United States during 1924 caused approximate property loss of $29,875,000, Col. John P. Finley, U. S. A., retired, says in a 12 months' study just made public by the Insurance Press. The heaviest single loss was $13,000,000, suffered at Lorain, O., in the disaster there last June. Kansas led among the states visited by the "twisters," showing 17 such storms, Col. Finley found. Georgia was second with 12.

The most frequent "tornado hour" proved to be from 3 to 4 in the afternoon, tornadoes rarely beginning after 6 p. m., though sometimes lapping over that hour if starting earlier.

REICH MAY ESCAPE DEFICIT

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Finance Minister Otto von Schleiben, in a statement before the Budget Committee of the Reichstag yesterday, said that at last the Government had restored order in the country's finances. The revenue for the last nine months, he said, exceeded the estimates for the whole financial year which probably would be concluded without a deficit.

The country's expenditures, nevertheless, still were very heavy, Von Schleiben explained, and talk about the Reich's "rolling in money" was unjustified.

Mail Flyers to Avoid Fogs.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29.—The Air Mail Service will open a new landing field today at Concord, Contra Costa County, across the bay from here, from which east-bound planes will be dispatched for 30 days, it was announced. The new service will be an experiment in efforts to avoid bay fogs, it was said.

RECLUSE WHO LIVED ON ALMS FOUND TO POSSESS $1747

Discovery Made When He Is Removed From Hovel to City Hospital.

Policemen walking the beat in which Charles Cotton's shack was located, at 7820 Water street, were frequently moved to pity for the aged recluse to the point of making him presents of food and fuel. When one of Cotton's benefactors called an ambulance yesterday and had him removed to city hospital, three cans the recluse zealously guarded during the trip to the institution were found to contain $1747.91 in bills and silver.

Cotton, a former railroad laborer, has occupied the hovel on Water street for a number of years, preying on the neighborhood for sustenance. At first housewives in the section are said to have answered Cotton's pleas for food with offerings of "left-overs." But Cotton's visits became too frequent. The "handouts" became less frequent and were given grudgingly. Then Cotton appealed to the policemen, and is said to have augmented their offerings with gleanings from the neighborhood garbage cans.

Yesterday one of Cotton's policeman friends decided the recluse would die of exposure if left in his unheated shack, and had him removed to city hospital. The $1747.91, chiefly in denominations of $10 and $20 bills, was found in three cans in Cotton's pockets when his clothing was searched. Cotton said he had no relatives, and would make no statement concerning the money.

24 CASES OF SHOES STOLEN

Man Who Was About to Open New Store Finds Stock Gone.

Walter Kampe of 2029 Prairie avenue, was about to become a retail shoe merchant. He leased a store building at 2002 Cherokee street and ordered his fixtures and stock of goods. Yesterday the stock arrived—36 cases of shoes, in all.

Today when Kampe arrived at the new store, to begin unpacking the goods he discovered that a rear window had been forced by burglars and 24 cases, valued at $1200, removed. Twelve cases, which the burglars apparently were forced to leave behind when their conveyance was loaded, remained. The owner carried only fire insurance on the stock.

OIL SHARES LEADERS IN STOCK LIST

But for This Group Market Would Have Been Dull Affair — Market Closes Irregular — Exchange Quiet.

By Leased Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—The Evening Post in its daily copyrighted financial review says:

"Less strength was shown in the principal financial markets. Profit-taking in wheat and a diminution of short covering in stocks took some of the snap out of those markets before the close. Stocks started off well with the execution of overnight buying orders, representing short covering in many of the industrials and fresh buying in the oils. In the afternoon, however, the recovery received a check and at the close the general list was irregular. A few industrial specialties made spectacular gains, and low-priced rails were firm, but there was distinct shifting of market sentiment in favor of the oil shares, and but for this department the market would have been a dull affair. There is no question but that the oil situation has greatly improved, although much of the change in sentiment is nothing more than relief over the removal of the menace of the Wortham pool. Whether a movement in oil shares will develop sufficiently to stimulate the whole market remains to be seen, but it is quite possible that this group of stocks will enjoy an independent movement, if any. The turnover in stocks increased approximating 1,800,000 shares. Bonds were moderately active, with oil company obligations in demand.

Foreign Exchanges Quiet.

"Foreign exchanges were quieter but the tone remained firm. European currencies generally have followed the lead of sterling, and it is but natural that with sterling within a few cents of dollar parity speculative buying should decrease, since the possible profits are less. That apparently is what is happening now. Sterling at $4.79⅛ was ¼ of a cent lower. French francs were steady and ¼ of a cent higher at 5.41 cents, but profit-taking in Belgian francs brought a setback of 1½ points. Other Europeans were quoted at prices close to the previous closing levels.

Improvement Abroad.

"The weekly statement of the Bank of France shows improvement. Circulation decreased 86,000,000 francs and the State was able to repay 200,000,000 francs to the bank. French finances face a much improved outlook from that of a year ago, and incidentally improvement in the Belgian situation is attributed by London observers as the basis for the recently announced rise in Belgian francs. The statement of the Bank of England also reveals further contraction in circulation and a gain in the reserve, with the result that the reserve ratio advanced in the week from 18.07 per cent to 18.38 per cent.

Profit-Taking in Wheat.

"Trading in wheat continued to absorb the bulk of speculative attention. Following yesterday's sharp advance of over 5 cents a bushel it was generally expected that profit-taking would be heavy enough today to bring at least a temporary setback. That is just what happened, but the manner in which the market absorbed realizations testified to the stubbornness of the speculative long position. If it is true, as many experienced Chicago observers allege, that with the exception of a handful of professional traders, the buying has been chiefly for the account of the public, some sharp movements in the market are in store. The so-called public has its speculative peculiarities. It is slow to sell so long as the market is rising and having held on too long is prone to let go all of a sudden after a decline sets in. World conditions may warrant a further rise in wheat, but the market obviously is fast becoming a dangerous one. May wheat touched $2.04⅝ and closed with a net loss on the day of 1¼ cents at $2.03⅝. Corn, on the other hand, was quite strong. Cotton recovered an early loss and finished with a good rally. At a late price of 24.13 cents May futures were 18 points higher.

MANAGUA, Jan. 29.—A loan of $300,000 to Nicaragua by a syndicate of New York bankers has been concluded. Both institutions will remain under American management.

HYDRAULIC-PRESS BRICK CO. MADE $829,465 IN 1924

Net Profit Shows Decrease of $118,659 Due to Lower Prices for Material.

The Hydraulic-Press Brick Co. of St. Louis, in its preliminary report for 1924, shows a net profit of $829,465.07. This compares with $948,124.99 in the previous year and is a decrease of $118,659.94. Officials of the company account for the decline in net profits by the lower prices prevailing for brick in the earlier part of the year.

Nevertheless, the profits were equal to nearly $15 on its preferred shares.

The company reduced its former $1,500,000 bonded debt to $387,000 by the purchase and retirement of $276,000 of the bonds, anticipating its future maturities and paving the way, it is believed, for consideration of payment of a portion, at least, of past due $51 accumulated dividends on the outstanding 54,645 shares of cumulative 6 per cent preferred stock.

As of Dec. 31, 1924, the company showed total current assets of $3,448,264.39, against current liabilities of $537,516.81.

Hydraulic-Press Brick Co. is one of the largest producers in the United States and has a capital stock of $9,752,600, divided into $5,464,500 preferred and $4,288,100 common stock. Its total resources at the date mentioned were $12,558,078.71, represented in large part by real estate, of which it has valuable holdings in St. Louis and St. Louis County. St. Louis investors and capitalists control the ownership of the corporation.

After selling below $2 the market met buying and both May and July reacted, the former ranging above $2. Corn showed firmness and gains were recorded by both May and July.

The wheat market met further profit-taking at the opening today and prices were off 2c before reacting. The $2 mark having been met and passed, some looked for reaction. Liverpool wheat in the afterno cable was unchanged to ¼d higher. Corn here showed fractional decline.

May wehat opened at $2.02 to $2.02¼, July wheat $1.66¾, May corn $1.32¼, and July corn $1.34¼.

BREAK AT WINNIPEG LOWERS CHICAGO WHEAT

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—Wheat had a setback today but the decline was not as drastic as one would expect in view of the recent big advance and the bearish news in circulation. Coarse grains had a rally after an early decline. Provisions had difficulty in maintaining an early advance.

The bulls in wheat received a hard jolt. Wheat rallied to $2.04⅞ for May on buying by leading long houses. A reaction followed in the last five minutes and last prices were ¼c to 1½c lower; May, $2.03¾ to $2.03½; July, $1.71¾ to $1.71½; September, $1.56¼. Heavy short covering caused a sharp bulge in corn and last prices were 1⅞c to 2⅞c higher: May, $1.35⅝ to $1.35⅞; July, $1.36⅜ to $1.36½; September, $1.36⅜ to $1.36½. Reports of 60,000 bushels Canadian oats worked for export caused a buying flurry in oats and prices closed 1c to 2¾c higher: May, 63¼c to 63⅜c; July, 63¾c to 63½c; September, 60c. Lard closed 10c to 17½c higher; ribs, 10c lower and bellies 5c lower. Local cash sales were 10,000 bushels wheat, 33,000 bushels corn, 65,00 bushels oats and 15,000 bushels barley. The seaboard reported 300,000 bushels wheat, 60,000 bushels oats, 700,000 bushels rye and 500,000 bushels barley taken for export.

This morning from the foreign markets, Liverpool ignored our big advance as well as the bulges in Buenos Aires and Winnipeg and closed 1¼d to 1⅝d lower. This led to much selling of long wheat by timid holders and a sharp opening break in prices was recorded. Despite the heavy pressure the market seemed to absorb the offerings well and the buying of May around $2.02 was impressive. Many of the locals took advantage of the setback to accumulate a little long wheat and this aided in maintaining values. About mid-day another sinking spell was registered when some of the buyers tried to profit by their early purchases. Foreign demand for cash wheat was slow because buyers did not take kindly to yesterday's advance and foreign exchange was lower which placed a further handicap on exporters. Winnipeg furnished the sensation of the day by declining 10c within a limited period. There was some gossip from Winnipeg of the Government commandeering wheat in that country. Domestic millers also were reluctant to follow yesterday's advance in prices. The country sold wheat a little more freely and Toledo reported purchases of 100,000 bu to arrive on overnight bids.

Corn was irregular. Trading was largely local in character. The opening break in wheat caused some short selling but the sellers were compelled to bid up prices later when they attempted to cover. The later break in wheat caused another setback in prices. Country offerings to arrive were nil and many of the receivers reported a letup in consignment notices. Shipping demand was quiet.

Oats followed the trend of corn. An early break was followed by a rally as a result of commission house support. The late months seemed to retain the ground gained better than the May. Little inquiry for cash oats for shipment was noticed.

Provisions rallied at the start on buying prompted by the bullish Government report on the number of hogs on farms on Jan. 1. Later the break in grain caused some pressure and a reaction.

JIM.—The Scotland Yard is a building at the southeastern corner of Charing Cross, London, England, long famous as the headquarters of the Metropolitan Police Force. It derives its name from a palace assigned from the time of Edgar to Henry II as the residence of the Scottish kings whenever they should desire to visit London. New Scotland Yard, the police headquarters since 1890, is on the Thames embankment.

GEO. McC.—The Ashland School is one of the modern school buildings erected in the year 1919 at 3921 North Newstead avenue. It has 24 large recitation rooms, which are all well ventilated and lighted. This beautiful and imposing structure, provided with every sanitary improvement and possessing conveniences altogether unknown to the older school buildings. Inquire of the Board of Education for further information regarding the school.

J. H. T.—Snakes have a well developed nervous system, and are intelligent. Many may be tamed and show docility and regard for their friends. Most of them are very timid and harmless, endeavoring to frighten their enemies by menacing attitudes or otherwise. All have good eyes, and some of the many nocturnal forms very large ones: but the eyes have no lids and are not movable. No external ear is present, but a complicated internal apparatus exists, so that snakes hear very well and are affected by musical sounds. The sense of taste is probably deficient, but that of smell is acute, and many serpents, as the American blacksnake, hunt largely by scent. Many serpents lay eggs, but most venomous ones, and many of our commonest species, are viviparous. The young are ready to take care of themselves as soon as they escape from the egg, but are usually guarded for a time by the mother.

LEGAL INFORMATION.

(By a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

STUNG.—You can sue the dealer and the manufacturer also, if the guaranty was made by the manufacturer. Consult a lawyer.

CASTLE.—In the case of men marrying sisters, most people consider the men brothers-in-law, though strictly speaking they are not. There is no legal definition of brothers-in-law.

VIOLA.—The tenant should give the landlord one month's written notice, served not later than the day before the rent day, before vacating, unless the landlord agrees to accept shorter notice.

MRS. P. E. Z.—You do not have to show the flat in which you are living to anyone unless you made an agreement with the persons from whom you rent to do this. You may refuse to let people in.

ANXIOUS READER. — Report the facts connected with giving your pawn ticket in payment for debt to the Legal Aid Bureau in the Municipal Courts Building, Fourteenth and Market streets, and see if they cannot get your pawn ticket back for you.

INQUIRER.—Any child born in the United States is an American citizen, even though its parents are never naturalized. The child may also possess the nationality of its parents under the laws of their country.

W. O. M.—If you get behind in your payments on the deed of trust or mortgage the holder can foreclose on the property. In that case it would be sold at a foreclosure sale and you would be entitled only to whatever it brought at the sale in excess of the amount you owe and the cost of sale.

THE PARTNER.—In the case of three persons engaged in a partnership without a written agreement, one may sell his partnership, although the others object. The one leaving the partnership may not take any salary desired but the salary must be fixed by agreement of all partners. Two could not compel a third to sign a partnership agreement if he refused to do so. They could dissolve the partnership. It is always desirable to have a written partnership agreement.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses or treatment of individual cases will not be given.

YOURS IN GREAT TROUBLE.—We suggest a 5-grain capsule of salol every 4 hours. Avoid constipation.

T. K. S.—Write to the Superintendent of the State Sanitarium, Mount Vernon, Mo. Children are admitted but neither children nor adults in advanced stages of tuberculosis are taken.

A READER.—The will must be exercised. Wear rubber finger stalls or soak the finger tips in a quinine solution. We know of nothing which will harden the nails excepting keeping them free from moisture.

W. J. M.—You can hardly hope to increase your height but you can develop your body. Join one of the Y. M. C. A. classes and attend regularly. Keep regular hours, eat plain, wholesome food, get plenty of sleep and live as much as possible in the outer air. Do not smoke or drink.

BURJE.—The following may be of service for the rheumatism: Kalii iodide, 2 drams; kalii acetat., 2 drams; tinct. colchici, 3 drams; Syr. sarsaparil., enough added to make 4 ounces. Desertspoonful one-half hour before meals. The nose, throat and teeth should be examined.

VERY ANXIOUS.—If you know that a certain food causes or aggravates deranged digestion, why not avoid it? We suggest teaspoonful doses of Bi So Dol in water three times a day. For the forearms we suggest regular and persistent massage. Cocoa butter may help.

MARGE.—(1) The condition is curable if it has not progressed too far. (2) It takes from two to three years to effect a cure. (3) Not more than three or four treatments of the medicine is required, generally speaking, but dependence must not be placed on Salversan alone. (4) If there is a doubt take the safe side.

PLEASE.—(1) We suggest a 5-grain capsule or tablet of salol three or four times a day. (2) Gas might give a person attacks of asthma. (3) Iron does not enrich the blood. Its tonic effect does, by the assimilation of nutritious food. The tincture of the chloride of iron, in 10-drop doses, is as efficient as any. Taken in a little water through a glass tube, to protect the teeth. A peptone is any of the soluble proteid compounds that albumenous substances in food are converted into, as indigestion.

BROKEN GAS MAIN CAUSES SIX DEATHS

Victims Are Found in House at Scranton, Pa., by Passer-by Who Forced Door.

By the Associated Press.

SCRANTON, Pa., Jan. 29.—Illuminating gas from a main, thought to have been broken by a surface accident this morning, took a toll of six lives from the family of Louis Horosini, in West Scranton.

The dead are: Mr. and Mrs. Horosini, Stanley, 5; Upola, 8; Margaret, 3, and another daughter, 1 year old. Many other families in the neighborhood were affected by the gas but escaped to the open air.

A passerby smelled escaping gas, and, unable to arouse those within the Horosini residence; called help, forced the door and found the members of the family dead.

IS KILLED IN FIGHT IN HEART OF SHANGHAI

Victorious Troops Attempt to Disarm Forces of Deposed Leader —Noncombatants Shot.

By the Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 29.—Twenty persons were killed and 20 injured here today in a thickly settled section of the Chinese district when a small contingent of victorious troops, representing Gen. Lu Yung-Hsiang and the Central Chinese Government, were resisted when they attempted to disarm about 1000 defeated Kiangsu troops of Chi Hsieh-Yuan, deposed leader.

The exchange of shots was ended by the appearance of reinforcements, which compelled the Kiangsu troops to submit to disarmament. The panic that resulted when the shooting started resulted in the death or injury of a number of noncombatants.

WEDDING BELLS DID NOT RING

Europe's "Best Dressed" Woman Was to Wed at Cairo.

Copyright, 1924, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

CAIRO, Jan. 29.—Mrs. Jean Nash, "the best dressed woman in Europe," planned to be married yesterday afternoon to Mohammed Bri Sabet. But Mrs. Nash spent the afternoon and evening with her lawyer instead of with her bridegroom, and stated that she would proceed to Europe today unwed.

MILLER SPEAKS ON LAW ENFORCEMENT

Mayoralty Candidate Blames Public for Laxity in Not Demanding Speedier Justice.

Victor J. Miller, former president of the Police Board and a candidate for the Republican nomination for Mayor, spoke last night on "Law Enforcement" before a meeting of the League to Curb the Crime Wave, at Knights of Columbus Hall.

For the existing crime waves he divided the blame, 99 per cent to the citizens who are lax in demanding law enforcement, and 1 per cent to the Judges, courts, prosecuting officers and police.

"The theory of justice is punishment of the law violators as a lesson to others," he said. "The only way to curb crime is by the rigid enforcement of the criminal statutes. We hear the Judges and the prosecutors complaining that they cannot get good juries, that delays interfere with their work, that the bondsmen are rotten.

"I am not criticising the Judges; I sympathize with them. They give the people what they want. It is possible to arrest a man one week, convict him the next, and have him in the penitentiary the next, but it is not done. The public officials are guided by public sentiment; if the public demanded speedy justice they would get it."

Miller divided crime in two classes; first, that affecting life and property; the second, public morals. The first class can be regulated by criminal law; the second is for the home, the churches and the schools to regulate, he said. To show the magnitude of the first class he asserted that one-seventh of the nation's annual earnings was lost in crime and lawlessness.

At the conclusion of his address Miller reiterated a denial that he had or ever had had any affiliations with the Ku Klux Klan and challenged detractors to prove any such charges.

STRIKE PICKETS PATROL BUCKINGHAM PALACE GATES

Clerks Keep Up Fires in Government Buildings in London District Deserted by Engineers' Walkout.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

LONDON, Jan. 29.—For the first time in history strike pickets patroled the entrance gates of Buckingham Palace as well as most other Government buildings in connection with the strike of more than 1000 men of the Engineering Department of the Office of Works yesterday.

These men make up the furnace room and elevator staffs and take care of electrical equipment in Government buildings.

Clerks and messengers volunteered for emergency work and somewhat decreased the chilly atmosphere of the buildings; but few elevators were running and high Government officials had unaccustomed exercise walking up and down marble staircases. The strike was made 100 per cent when the electricians of the British Museum walked out, leaving the building almost in darkness.

George Robert Rew, electricians' mate at the mint, who is the involuntary cause of the strike due to the Government's refusal to discharge him after his expulsion from the union for non-payment of dues, was at his job as usual. Rew got behind in his dues while out of work and says he is anxious to pay on the installment plan.

In some departments, owing to the absence of boiler men, coal grate fires had to be substituted for central heating.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store, and it never fails to do the work.

TEAR GAS SHOOTING PISTOLS ARE BEING 'TOTED' IN GERMANY

Half of Population Is Said to Carry the Scheintod, Which Hurls a Pasteboard Shell.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Pulitzer Publishing Cos., the New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

BERLIN, Jan. 29.—Half the population of Germany is armed with Scheintod pistols, such as the one carried by a man arrested in New York, and thus far neither the police nor the interallied military control commission has raised any objection to this weapon. The Scheintod was invented years ago and is on sale everywhere. It resembles a small automatic, but is loaded with a single cartridge having a metal base and a pasteboard cylinder containing, instead of bullets, a shell filled with liquid. The action of the regulation cap and powder in the cartridge causes this liquid to diffuse a kind of ammonia gas, bringing tears to the eyes of the person at whom it is aimed. The victim is usually temporarily stunned. No license to carry the pistol is required.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Elmer Lowes pleaded guilty yesterday of possessing without a permit the gas pistol and extension blackjack police found on him Monday night. He was remanded to the Tombs.

15 Hurt in Communist Fight.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 29.—Fifteen persons were injured last night at a meeting of Gen. De Castelnau's "Patriots' League" when Communists endeavored to break up the gathering. Members of the league welcomed the General to the strains of the "Marseillaise," which the Communists tried to drown out with the "Internationale." Three Communist deputies were severely handled and canes and umbrellas were freely used. One of the Communists finally was granted the rostrum in order to ask his supporters to leave.

CHLORINE

Now at Drug Stores

Leading medical authorities the world over recognize chlorine as the most effective agent ever known for the treatment of colds and other surface respiratory diseases. Its discovery is, in fact, one of the greatest triumphs of science.

Until recently, however, this wonderful treatment was beyond the reach of any but a few, because it was given principally in hospitals and with special equipment. It was not accessible to the general public and was very costly.

Now Science has scored another achievement in making chlorine treatment available to all. It has done this by creating a chlorine ointment, known as Respirine. This ointment, chlorine, when applied to the nostrils, liberates pure chlorine gas, which the act of breathing carries to every part of the nose, throat and lungs. The gas thus acts directly upon the inflamed, diseased membranes. No more efficient method could possibly be invented.

This is the same chlorine gas which is obtained by the expensive hospital treatment, but you can take it in your own home or anywhere else at any time. All you need do now to obtain a complete and effective chlorine treatment whenever you need it, and at a cost of only a few cents, is to have handy a tube of Respirine, which you can get at any drug store.

50 Treatments for 50c

Knocks a COLD in 3 Hours

The beneficial effect of Chlorine Respirine on a cold is felt immediately. It knocks a cold in 3 hours.

There are no after effects with Chlorine Respirine as with many medicines, no soreness as with injections. You cannot take too much—there is nothing in Respirine to harm you. It is for children as well as for adults.

Chlorine Respirine is a remarkable curative agent not only for colds, but for bronchitis, laryngitis, pharyngitis, influenza, and whooping cough. It is also a most effective preventative of these diseases. Use it after being in a crowded place or in contact anywhere with infected people. Use it also whenever you begin to sneeze or snuffle or when any other symptom of "taking cold" appears, and you may forestall an attack of serious illness.

Chlorine Respirine comes in collapsible tubes convenient for pocket or hand bag and always ready for instant use. The price is 50 cents per tube, which contains enough for 40 to 50 applications.

This outstanding medical discovery has brought a new era in the treatment of these common and dangerous diseases. Every careful person should make the test of the chlorine treatment, which is so enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities.

The same Chlorine recommended so highly by Health Departments and U. S. Authorities.

Ask your druggist for it today. If results are not satisfactory, your money will be refunded.

FIFTIETH INSTALLMENT.

THEN his eyes rested on the coverlid which she had brought from France; old Linda had spread it neatly over the mattress. At each corner, a dog, a pheasant and a swan were silkenly presented in an arabesque of foliage. In the center shone the crusader's crest, a device in gentle blue and pallid red beneath which three lines of medieval French pricked a scroll that once was gold, perhaps, or silver.

"I reckon I'd better save that, too." He bit his lip.

Margaret would have cried out against this, but she restrained herself in time and he went on: "Somehow I never liked it as much as the other things. Maybe it was that French motto on it. I don't know any French." And because she remained silent he wheeled upon her and asked, "What does it mean, Margaret?"

He might have been asking what life meant and the game which he had played thus far so poorly.

"It's old French," she temporized; he seemed to share her uneasiness.

"But you know French," he insisted.

Then she gave way to her temptation, and pointing the script out, line by line, translated:

"The dog for faithfulness, the pheasant for luxury, the swan for lust."

"I see," he mumbled, and stood looking at it for an instant. Then, "What's all that fancy work—the crown and shield and bird in the middle? What's that for?"

"That's the arms of the family for whom the spread was made," she explained.

"What family?" He was like a chief inquisitor.

"Savarac's," she half whispered, as if his question had drawn to her lips what her mind had long suspected.

Admah had his lightning flashes when two and two came thunderously together. Yet there was no haste in his movements as he reached down and plucked the coverlid from Flora Lee's bed. He made no attempt to fold it, but dragged it after him, holding it far away from his body as though it might carry the germs of a disease.

CHAPTER 88.

He had built a fire in the imitation Italian fireplace downstairs; a basket of torn papers started it, but swallows' nests in the chimney spoiled the draft. At last, however, the flames began to leap; and although smoke poured out into the room, he set himself methodically to destroy the French coverlid. It was a work of piety, almost, like purging the sin from little Flora Lee's soul; like driving a stake through the heart of the sleeping vampire that she may be saved from the demon that obsesses her.

Strip after strip, he tore the fragile, lovely thing apart and watched the fragments burn. The soft material yielded gently to his fingers as Flora Lee sometimes yielded. As the shimmering texture burst into flames that were brighter than itself he had a feeling that his love was burning on this pyre, a cleansing, sacrificial flame.

Against the world's scourging he had held to his belief in Flora Lee, through ruin, betrayal and degradation he had clutched at the wreckage of his faith. But this ornate bed-cover which she had cherished and failed to explain; that had held a key to his enigma. It had come to her cynically, dishonestly, embroidered with wicked words. . . .

Those very words on their scroll of metal thread, glowed infernally as he crouched and watched them burn. A mysterious ooze of smoke, clouding the twilit room, added to the unreality in which he sat, gloating upon the charred symbols. But, Flora Lee wasn't to blame. Suddenly that conviction came to him in a rush of pity for the little thing who had begged jewels of him as she had once begged peppermints. Just the way she'd been raised, thought he. Just the way she'd never been taught to look out for anything or anybody—not even for herself whom she loved so devouringly. Maternity and work and self-denial . . . dolls don't have to consider such things . . . neither do angels. She'd been born to give pleasure, and how had she used her gift? To enslave and torment. . . . Yet, if she had returned to Admah Holtz at that moment. . . .

A shadow moved across the room, and in the foggy atmosphere and low glamour of flame he saw a face that chilled his heart at first, then stirred him to an irresistible desire. He beheld her in a suffused radiance. . . . Flora Lee, her bright hair agleam, her eyes pitiful . . . death had given her a look of understanding for Admah Holtz. Beautiful and compassionate in the faint ghostlight, she floated toward him. He wanted to call her name, to reach out to her, but his body was motionless, his lips stiff. . . .

It was not until she had come to the hearth beside him that he looked again and saw that it was Margaret.

"Don't," she begged softly, for she must have known by his face what torrents were breaking in his breast.

He struggled again for words, but none came. Instead he groped for her hand and laid it against his poor wounded heart.

"Don't you ever go away, Margaret," he began to plead like a lost child.

"Is it true, dear, that you want me?" she asked, and settled on the hearth beside him.

"Do you think you could"—— he began, but his speech failed again.

"Could what, Admah?" she asked, studying him thoughtfully.

"——could ever love me?"

"Oh, Admah, my dear, my dear!" She paused an instant, then kissed him gently. "Don't you know how long I have?"

For an indefinite time these two beings, so different in origin yet so akin in the things of which life had cheated them, clung together beside a dying fire. Was it love that Admah felt? Certainly it was a depth of comfort that had never before come to him; comfort in the richness of her voice and the touch of her delicate, capable hands as she held him to her and whispered promises that he knew she would fulfill. How they weren't afraid of anything any more, or ashamed of anything. How they'd stand together, or fall together, if necessary. But they wouldn't fall. They'd be too strong, the two of them, to let any fate topple them over.

And he promised to be brave again for her, to give the world the best there was in him. To be a man. . . . Then he remembered how he had given that same promise into the ear of a dying old woman, his mother. . . . How long ago had that been? Half a lifetime, at least. He had worked powerfully, according to his poor lights, to keep that promise, but the world, the flesh and the devil had conspired to make a sorry job of it. . . .

And with Margaret in his arms and his heart comforted by her warmth, he remembered how he had sat in the same room with Flora Lee; they would kiss and caress, and his pulses would be beating like a drum. And all that time his heart would be crying out, My darling, don't you know me? Won't you ever know me? Why, in that year of misery and struggle and occasional ecstasy had he never felt the presence of a guardian spirit, vainly watching over him, offering her life and asking no reward? Truly there is no justice in love, for love is Nature.

So at last Margaret and Admah came together, embracing very sweetly in the flicker of a cooling fire. Symbols of many things, once significant in his life, lay charring in the hearth and curling to shapeless cinders. She loved to see them go; had she been given her way she might have put torch to every gilded ornament.

"It's sort o' queer," she heard him mutter when the fire had died and they sat in darkness.

"What's queer, my dearest?" she asked.

"It ought to have been you and me——"

"How many thousands of thousands of times I've said that?" she mused. "But how could I have told you? Yes, it should have been from the first. But when was the first—the first time you were ever real to me?" She paused and considered. "Was it the time you came down Inness street in your bright new clothes? I was an awful little snob in those days. But just the same I must have loved you because I wanted to save you——"

"From what, Margaret?"

"From something . . . something that seemed to be following you. . . . Maybe it was just your awful innocence. We were both starting on the wrong track, Admah. And how we needed one another!"

"I reckon so," he agreed, and they were silent again for a long time.

Yes, he thought, had she saved him that day he would never have known his years of hell. No, nor his hour of heaven. He would never have known Flora Lee.

CHAPTER 89.

As they drove home under the stars, past skeleton trees and ghostly plots of snow she was thinking. What can I do to help him most? Busy with the wheel, her eyes on the road, she felt the presence of her beloved man and wondered if she had made him any happier. He reached out once, timidly, and touched her glove.

"You don't mind that, do you, Margaret?" he asked.

"Mind what, Admah?"

"Oo, nothing." But he rested his hand on hers again, and she knew by the pressure that his fears had vanished. On the smooth surface of the boulevard her car gained impetus; there were lights in the Sycamore clubhouse and the sounds of jazz music. She put on more speed and shot by.

When the rows of electric lamps on the edge of town had brought the dreamers back to practical thoughts it was Margaret who spoke first.

"Admah, people will talk. But that's all right. We ought to be married soon. We mustn't be wasters, and we shouldn't squander any time."

"When shall it be?" he asked.

"Tomorrow," she decided. "We can take over my apartment for a while until we look around and see where we want to live. Let's begin our new program right away. We've got a lot of things to show the world about ourselves."

"I was thinking about a business——"

"Oh, I've found the business," she told him with a little happy laugh.

"Where?"

"Just where you were."

"But the T. & P. don't"——

"Who cares a red cent about the T. & P.?" asked she. "We're going to be self-made men, Admah. We're going to start at the beginning and work up."

And because he was unresponsive she turned and said, "Old foolish!" in a voice that reminded him again of Flora Lee.

"What sort of beginning?" he asked.

"The candy business. We'll go round to your brother on Friday—that's my lucky day—and dicker for a share in his Red Front. I see 10,000 things that can be done to that place. And we'll start the Candy Holtz chain again"——

"But, Margaret, you wouldn't!"

"Wouldn't what?"

"Go into a business like that. A fine lady like you"——

"That's exactly what a fine lady like me would do, under the circumstances," she informed him, and there were both pride and tenderness in her tone.

So they drove on into Grand avenue where the glare and twinkle of electric signs, counterfeiting Broadway, took on a new meaning for Admah Holtz. Even the ear-hurting, sentimental broadcast howl from Goofer's Radio Palace came to him as music, for it suggested life and enterprise. At the corner by the Red Front Store Margaret slowed her car and both looked in with a renewed interest.

Dingy cut-out advertisements for patent thirst-quenchers stood hugger-mugger in the window. Myrtle was sopping the counter with a rag which Admah knew must be very dirty and very sour. Henry and a bob-haired girl with green earrings were seated on revolving stools, making love over chocolate sundaes. Somewhere in the background moved Jo, bald, stooped, shrunken, discouraged.

And the stronger, more intemperate brother, spying in from the street, felt a little sorry for Jo, whose voyage had been serene because his boat had never ventured beyond the muddy canal.

THE END.

LEFT—A COAT—PART OF AN ENSEMBLE COSTUME—THAT DOES FOR A TOPCOAT AS WELL.

By MARGERY WELLS.

THE American girl has struck her stride when it comes to the ensemble suit. It bids fair, indeed, to outstrip all previous enthusiasms of this connoisseur of fashion. For years she lived in the tailored suit, but she found that it had its disadvantages. The new idea gives her everything she needs, or it seems to for the time being, until some genius shall appear to design something of more practicability and more good looks.

The coat of the older and accepted tailor suit did outlast the skirt and then it was hopelessly useless, for it did not combine with anything else under the sun. With the ensemble suit it is different. One dress may go the way of all hard-worn garments, and another can bloom to take its place, or there may be more than one dress to begin with, thereby insuring a longer life for each of them.

Then it is a great treat to be able to go to a shop and buy all at one time, and with one effort, the collection of clothes that will be your best—need be your only suit—for the coming season. The coats are so soft in line, so graceful and interesting in design! And the frocks that go with them are really so simple and smart that the two things together are bound to charm any woman who is about to purchase for herself a new outfit.

Popularity to Continue.

All during the winter these suits have been the height, the last word, of fashion. Now that spring will soon be coming along, all indications point to the fact that the idea will be carried over into the new season.

It is a sensible idea—this of the ensemble suit. Every one needs a coat, and everyone, if she will conform in the least degree to the modern fashions, needs a dress. Put the two of them together and you have something which is entirely distinctive, which looks well throughout and is becoming, which is bound to mark you as one of those persons who understand style and use it for your glorification.

There is just that little element in style that many women overlook. Styles are created for them, to make them look their best. But sometimes a girl will secretly resent the fact that she must conform to fashion's ways and go down under the strain. She will end, in a mood of this sort, by buying something that is not at all right for her and which is never going to make her look right, let alone feel well dressed. This is the wrong angle for her approach. Her attitude should be something in this wise: "Fashions are made for me and my good appearance in society. I will therefore hunt out the thing among all the articles displayed which suits me best and makes me look my smartest."

Easy to Replace Dress.

"Ah," I hear you sighing, "this involves a lot of work." Well, it can mean work, but then there is plenty of material published to give you a good idea of the thing you want and your search need not be limitless before you find that thing all ready made and waiting for you.

The prettiest of the ready-made costume suits and those that are the easiest to find have linings for the coats which exactly repeat a part of the material of the dress. Now, if you happen to choose a printed silk in this particular, then you are rather hampered in the direction of supplying future dresses to go with the coat, but if you choose a plain toned silk of a color which suits your appearance and your individuality, then you can go on quite indefinitely supplying new frocks for wear with that same coat. Every one knows that the life of a coat can last over a number of dresses and, unless you are made of money, you don't want to let the opportunity slip of using that coat over and over again.

The coats this season and the advance ones for spring are all made of three-quarter length. They are straight in line and have rolling collars that are very becoming as they fold about the throat. Some of them are banded with fur, but there are many which are left quite plain and unadorned, supposedly so that scarfs and kerchiefs and all the pretty neckwear things can be worn with them, helping to show off their style and smartness. It is one custom to have a scarf which carries out the color, if not the actual material of the dress, thereby adding that swish of flying silk between the front edges of the coat which manages to add greatly to its charm.

In the pictures on this page are shown a coat and dress which were made to go together. They are French and they set a standard after which many of the spring costumes will be designed. The coat is double-breasted. Some of them are that way and some of them are made in single-breasted fashion, and others, again, are so without formality of design that they do not button at all, merely fold over the front and are held in that position by their wearers' or allowed to swing loose when the weather is warm. This fashion allows the dress to show its distinct part in the whole and makes the suit much more a thing of purpose than when the coat is tightly buttoned, hiding its partner, the dress, entirely from view.

Hint of What Is Coming.

For Palm Beach the clothes that are being shown carry just a hint of what the new costume suit will be like, and these things are all done in the finest of cashmere weaves with many flannel ones mixed in with the showings. Combined with these materials, then, we see linens, soft printed and sometimes washable silks, heavy piques and all of the summer materials. Then there is a great craze for cretonne and for the blocked linens which were popular several seasons ago. These are combined with cashmeres or flannels and when the coats are made of the printed stuffs the wooly materials are used to line them and allowed to lap over the edges so that they constitute borders to show in the way of trimming. A coat of this character is interesting when worn with a severely plain flannel dress in the color that goes to make up the lining for the coat.

Other coats in these very advance collections are made of the heavier ribbed silks and are lined with crepe de chine, so that the dresses are made of the lighter variety of silk.

Indeed, there are many and numerous combinations that can be effected and the possibilities are that each girl will be able to evolve for herself something that is quite distinctive and indicative of her own individual tastes applied to the prevailing styles. At any rate, this is her chance to have a longish coat as a part of her suit which will save her the necessity of buying a separate one if she manages her purchases wisely.

Children's Bedtime Story

By Thornton W. Burgess

The Unafraid

To me it always has been clear
'Tis silly to be ruled by fear.
—Shadow the Weasel.

SNOWY white save for the end of his tail, which was black, Shadow the Weasel went on his way through the Green Forest. His coat so exactly matched the snow on which he ran that it was almost impossible for even the sharpest eyes to follow his movements. Had it not been for the black tip of his tail he would seldom have been seen.

Now, Shadow the Weasel is a very little fellow, a very little fellow indeed. Yet by many of the little folk who live in the Green Forest and on the Green Meadows he is feared more than is any one else. But he himself is not afraid. Shadow doesn't know the meaning of the word fear. He is so sure of himself and his ability to take care of himself that even when he comes face to face with some one big enough to kill him he is not afraid.

"Being afraid is useless," declares Shadow. "It never wins the respect of any one. If people see you are not afraid they will hesitate to bother you. Yes, sir, they will hesitate. There is nothing like showing you are not afraid."

So Shadow goes on his way without worrying. But, just the same, he is always on the watch for possible danger. He intends never to be taken by surprise. And, while he is always watching for enemies, he sees every possible hiding place, so that if an enemy suddenly appears he doesn't have to look around for a place to hide. He knows just where the nearest and best place is.

When Shadow met his cousin, Billy Mink, on the bank of the Laughing Brook he was not afraid, although Billy was very, very much bigger. He promptly arched his back, and, na! Billy really attacked him, Shadow would have fought back. More than once he had met Yowler the Bob Cat, or Reddy Fox, or Old Man Coyote, and had done the same thing to them that he had done to his cousin, Billy Mink. He had arched his back and snarled at them to show them that he wasn't afraid. And then when they had jumped for him he had disappeared as if by magic. That was because he can move so quickly and because he always knows just where he can get out of sight.

So because he isn't afraid Shadow goes wherever he pleases.

So because he isn't afraid Shadow goes wherever he pleases. He is very bold about it. He doesn't hesitate to visit Farmer Brown's henhouse right in broad daylight. It is because he is so sure of himself. It is because he hasn't a doubt that he is too smart for any one who may seek to do him harm.

The very thought that he may be near brings terror to many of the little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows. But he himself never knows terror. He is always unafraid. And he hasn't a friend. No, sir, he hasn't a friend. It is a dreadful thing to have no friends, though Shadow doesn't seem to think so. He doesn't want friends. He lives just for himself alone.

Almond extract in the mockcherry pie? A teaspoonful will give almost the real cherry flavor.

Eggs baked in small tomatoes or poached in rice? Both are delicious.

4 out of 5 get Pyorrhea

The law of averages is inevitable. Dental statistics prove that four out of every five over 40—and thousands younger, too—are marred by Pyorrhea. Do you want to escape?

It takes healthy gums to keep healthy teeth

If you neglect your gums—let them get in a "run-down" condition—you may soon be numbered among Pyorrhea's countless victims.

Bleeding gums are Nature's first warning. Then the gums begin to recede, lose that rich, healthy-pink color. Poisons collect in pus pockets and often drain through the entire system, causing indigestion, anaemia, rheumatism and other serious diseases of mid-life. In the final stages the teeth loosen and fall out.

Take no chances—use Forhan's

If used in time and used consistently, Forhan's will prevent Pyorrhea, or check its progress—something ordinary tooth pastes are powerless to do. It contains just the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent (as used by the dental profession in the treatment of Pyorrhea). It is safe, efficient and pleasant tasting. Even if you don't care to discontinue your favorite dentifrice, at least start using Forhan's once a day.

Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. Thousands have found it beneficial for years. For your own sake ask for and get Forhan's For the Gums. At all druggists, 35c and 60c in tubes.

Just as a ship needs the closest attention under the water-line, so do your teeth under the gum-line

REAL FOLKS AT HOME—THE MILKMAN

The Man on the Sandbox

by L. C. Dams

THE ECLIPSE.

THE New York reporters who went to the Zoo
To see how the animals acted,
When the sun was eclipsed must have histed a few,
As judged by the way they re-
acted.
The monkeys turned green and the elephant pink,
The polar bears roared and turned blacker than ink,
While a blue hippopotamus
waltzed with a mink
And the birds of the air were distracted.

The yak and the camel were smoking cigars
And playing mah jongg with the llamas;
The lions and leopards were posing as stars
And putting on comedy-dramas.
The ant-eater turned up his nose
at the ants,
While a startled chimpanzee was looking askance
At a pink armadillo while doing a dance
With a walrus arrayed in pajamas.

QUITE SO.

The man on the sandbox says he took advantage of the total eclipse of the sun by sending a night letter to the Man-in-the-Moon, congratulating him on the way he put over the solar plexus punch on Old Sol.

While Old Sol went down for the count, he is feeling no ill effects from the encounter and will probably be demanding a return match 219 years from now.

However, total eclipses of the sun mean nothing in St. Louis. We have them every day.
